

BIG RECEPTION TO BLACK WATCH HIGHLANDERS

The Killies were in Lowell last night—and Lowell knew it.

When the 4 o'clock train pulled in from Boston at 4.41 yesterday afternoon, the crowd was estimated at 1,000. The British Royal Highlanders of Canada—The Black Watch—30 of them besides their band and officers—officers who have fought the Hun in France and Flanders, who have been wounded and are now on this side of the Atlantic recovering and who at the end of

BRITISH LOOKING FOR MEN IN LOWELL

The British recruiting mission has opened up headquarters at the war work room at 119 Merrimack street and is hard at work rounding up British and Canadian subjects for the British forces. Besides the office in Merrimack street a sub-station has been opened in the office of the Massachusetts mill, where applicants for admission are examined. The actual registration takes place in Merrimack street and then the men are escorted to the mill office, where Capt. A. T. MacWilliams, the examining doctor, is on hand to say whether the applicants come up to the physical requirements of the British forces.

The doctor is assisted in examining the men by Sgt. Nichols, a member of the second battalion of the Ontario regiment. Capt. MacWilliams is a Canadian officer attached to the Imperial forces.

In the Merrimack street station, Lieut. W. M. Linton, a member of Gen. White's staff. The lieutenant has been wounded in action, but he is unable to tell anything of himself because of many injuries.

Otto Heckmeyer and W. A. Mitchell are working as a local committee in co-operation with the officers. The latter arrived in this city early this morning and at 4 o'clock were ready for business. Several of the men who signed their willingness to join the forces last evening have given a hasty examination and sent away the first thing this morning. Of the others, about a dozen appeared at the headquarters this morning and were given a hasty examination and sent away the first thing this morning.

The age limit for men in the British service is between the ages of 18 and 45 inclusive. In the case of skilled workers, however, the ages will be extended to 60 years. When they pass the local exams they are sent to the British mission headquarters in Boston and are here given a final examination. All transportation charges are paid and the men are given plenty of opportunity to arrange matters at home. Information concerning provisions for dependents and other subjects which may puzzle prospective applicants will be given cheerfully by Lieut. Linton in Merrimack street. The quarters will be open from 7 to 8 o'clock evening and until 4 o'clock tomorrow afternoon. The recruiting officers will leave this city at 4.30 tomorrow afternoon.

Following is a list of names of the men who had registered for British service up to the time of going to press:

KORNILOFF REVOLT TO THWART GERMAN PLANS

PETROGRAD, Sept. 28.—The last army order issued by Gen. Korniloff as commander in chief, reprinted in the Novaya Zhizn from a Mikhley newspaper, tends to show that Korniloff was compelled to launch his revolt largely in an effort to thwart German plans. The order says it had been learned that German agents had brought about the great fire in Kazan, had expended millions of rubles in disorganizing the coal mines in the river Don region and that the German were proposing a general offensive along the whole front for the purpose of forcing a disorganized Russian retreat. The Germans also had planned to blow up the bridges across the river Nieper and Volga and were organizing a movement of Maxim guns in Petrograd.

Gen. Korniloff, the article adds, had reason to suspect treason among irresponsible Russian organizations in German pay. The general not doubting that irresponsible influences had the upper hand in Petrograd and that Russia was on the brink of an abyss, took an extreme decision for the purpose of saving the fatherland.

160 Indicted in I. W. W. Plots to Hamper Government in Its War Activities

Ton of Evidence Discloses Plans for Anti-draft Demonstrations, Crippling of War Industries, By Strikes, Burn- ing of Wheat Fields and Timber— Seditious Conspiracy Charged

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—More than 160 leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, engaged in the alleged nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government in carrying on the war, have been indicted by the federal grand jury.

Persons resident in almost every section of the country are named in the indictments.

Seditious Conspiracy—The crime nearest to treason within the definition of the criminal code is charged. This offense is punishable by six years imprisonment or $5000 fine or both.

N. C. Tchekidze, president of the council of soldiers and sailors' delegates, in opening the conference explained that the extremely grave situation of the country necessitated the constitution of a strong revolutionary power responsible to all elements. M. Avkentsienko, president of the council of peasants' delegates, said that the moment had arrived for democracy to gather all its political will to save the conquests of the revolution, which were threatened with irreparable catastrophe if not safeguarded now.

U. S. ARMY AND NAVY OFFICERS IN PLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Five members of the United States aviation corps, an army recruiting officer and two navy ensigns are said by federal officials to be involved in a plot against the government alleged to have been headed by Erwin Frederick Schneider of the German navy and Theodore Kasinger, department store employee, both of whom were taken into custody here recently.

This disclosure came last night as the result of an order from the department of justice providing for the immediate removal of Schneider and Kasinger from the country and to an internment camp on Angel island which contains Franz Bopp, former German consul general here, and his aide, Baron E. H. von Schack, former vice consul.

The authorities refused to divulge the nature of the alleged participation of the army and navy officers in the plot. The removal of the officers on the case had been sent to San Diego and Los Angeles, where it was understood the conspiracy centered.

At the time Schneider and Kasinger were taken into custody federal agents asserted that the two had associated with four Austrian army officers subsequently detained at Laredo, Texas, and who, it was believed were planning to embark from Mexico for Germany or Austria. It was said they were suspected of having obtained military information.

U. S. CASUALTY LIST IN FRANCE—TWO DEATHS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The slight wounding of First Lieut. Howard P. Keating of Philadelphia Medical corps during a raid on the night of Sept. 24, was reported to the war department today by Gen. Pershing.

The death of Private James Tracy, Company E, First Engineers, also of Philadelphia, as a result of "an accident in the line of duty," also was reported.

Another cablegram announced the death on Sept. 24 from natural causes of Sergt. P. C. Johnson, 25th Infantry, whose home was in St. Paul.

TO MAKE CAMP DEVENS, AYER, "BONE DRY"

AYER, Sept. 28.—Soldiers who bring liquor into Camp Devens for the purpose of selling it, will be turned over to their company or regimental commanders. It was decided today while the cases of civilians accused of violating the strict federal laws about giving liquor to soldiers will be tried before a special deputy United States commissioner. Several civilians have been arrested on this charge in the recent campaign to make the camp "bone dry" but so far only two soldiers have been included in the charges.

Reports about camp last night that a performance here by a musical comedy company now playing in Boston, which had been planned for Sunday, could not take place were denied today. It was said that all difficulties had been overcome and that the entire production would be given.

CONGRESSIONAL PROBE OF HEFLIN CHARGE REFUSED

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—After a heated session today the house rules committee refused to act on resolutions proposing congressional investigation of Representative Hefflin's charges, that a number of members of congress "had acted suspiciously" about the time Count von Bernstorff asked his government for authority to spend $50,000 to influence congress on the submarine warfare issue.

Hefflin Names Men
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Demanding that congress investigate the German influences on members of congress and that it refuse to be sidetracked into a narrow investigation of himself and his statements, Representative Thomas J. Hefflin of Alabama, yesterday named four members of congress whose activities he declared warranted investigation.

BRITISH HOLD GAINS RUSSIAN VICTORY

Efforts to break into the new ground won by the British in the renewal of the Flanders offensive on Wednesday are being continued by the Germans. Failure to shake the British lines elsewhere they tried it out last night at Zonnebeke, where the British have pushed far along the road to Roulers. The British artillery, machine gun and rifle fire was too much for them, however, and the attack was broken up.

Zonnebeke is an important point for the British and their previous efforts to reach and maintain a hold in it had been desperately resisted by the Germans. Their present position in the village places them within a half dozen miles of the important north-and-south railway lines connecting Lille with Ostend on the coast, the cutting of which or its domination at even medium range artillery fire would seriously handicap the Germans in their Flanders operations.

Germans Driven Out
In the Tower Hamlets and Polygon wood regions, towards the right flank, the clearing up process which followed Wednesday's battle was carried out further last night, and the Germans were driven from isolated positions to which strong parties of the British were clinging.

There has been little other military activity of a nature to call for mention in the official statements except in the Argonne region on the French front. The Germans on the crown prince's famous made an attempt last night to break into the French lines in this sector, attacking three times. These assaults all were repulsed, the Germans sustaining heavy losses, says today's Paris war office report.

On the Caucasus front the Russians are showing renewed aggressiveness. In engagements with the Kurds detachments of these hostile forces have been driven back in the Run region where the Russians today report the capture of the town of Oromari, 24 miles west of Meri.

Russian Destroyer Sunk
The Russian admiralty reports the loss in the Baltic of the Russian destroyer Ochochnik which struck a mine.

The Russian democratic congress has begun its sessions in Petrograd with 1200 delegates in attendance. Premier Kerensky met with a mixed reception when he addressed the body, the principal applause for him coming from the less radical elements among the delegates. The conservatives faulted the extremists who have great strength in the congress with friendliness to the Germans.

WOUNDED SOLDIER GETS GIFT FROM LOWELL

Miss Agnes W. Maher and Master Raymond Maher, children of Lieut. Martin J. Maher of the criminal bureau of the local police department, have received a letter from a French soldier confined to a hospital in France who received a kit of necessities sent to the Red Cross by Mrs. Maher. The letter, which is in French, is one which is full of appreciation and well wishes for the future of the children.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Maher made a bag and filled it with things which are necessary for the pleasure and comfort of a soldier and placing a card bearing the names of Agnes and Raymond, her children, turned it over to the Red Cross society. It was one of the many kits which were sent across the water and it now appears that the bag in question was received by Omer Pluquin, who is known as No. 33 and is confined in the 25th regiment infirmary hospital at Vanves, Morduan, France.

Upon receiving the kit Pluquin evidently found the names of the two children and addressed a letter to them which arrived yesterday. It was written in French, but the translation shows that the recipient is grateful for the gift, and after thanking the senders wishes them good luck, happiness and prosperity.

ARGENTINE PRESIDENT AGAINST BREAK

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28.—President Rigolavoy is preparing a message in reply to the request made by congress that the diplomatic relations between Argentina and Germany be broken. The president, it is understood, contends that it is impossible to break off relations with Germany because of the Argentine incident, the government considering this affair to have been adjusted by the German foreign office's explanation.

WALTER H. HICKEY

Walter H. Hickey, acting claim agent for the local division of the Bay State Street Railway Co., today received notification that he had been appointed acting superintendent of the Lowell division of the road to succeed Helenus E. Farrington. Mr. Farrington has been granted an extended leave of absence during which he will attempt to gain a well-earned rest.

Mr. Hickey will assume his new duties next Monday morning, October 1. The new official has been employed by the railway company for 20 years. He was born in Lowell and was graduated from the St. Patrick's Boys' school and the Lowell evening high school. In 1897 he started as a conductor on the Lowell & Suburban road which later developed into the Boston & Northern and still later the Bay State road. In 1905 he was appointed starter and kept this position until 1914 when he became operating foreman. Last July he received an appointment as acting claim agent to succeed George H. Drury, who joined the national service. Mr. Hickey is well known in Lowell as he has lived here all his life. He is familiar with the needs of the city so far as transportation is concerned and may be counted upon to give a conscientious administration in his new office.

Superintendent Farrington, whom Mr. Hickey succeeds, has been with the company for over 30 years and has been superintendent in Lowell since 1908. He has felt the need of an extended rest for some time but was unwilling to leave his duties. Eventually, however, he gave way and the result was Mr. Hickey's appointment.

Mr. Hickey's successor as acting claim agent has not yet been named.

TO DIRECT OPERATION OF MERCHANT FLEET

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Edward F. Carry, a car manufacturer of Chicago, was today made director of operations for the State board. He has been directly in charge of the operation of the government's merchant fleet. Mr. Carry now is a member of a shipbuilding wage adjustment board.

Housewives of this city now look forward to Hickey's first step in cooking and culinary art which appears each week in the Sunday supplement of The Sun, published each Saturday.

MICHAELIS ON POPE'S PEACE PROPOSALS

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 28.—Dr. Michaelis, the German imperial chancellor, in a speech to the main committee of the reichstag, said that Pope Benedict's peace proposals were inspired by moral seriousness, pure justice and neutrality, which things were lacking in the reply made by President Wilson to the pope.

MISS RUTH LAW BROKE WOMAN'S ATTITUDE RECORD AT PEORIA, ILL.

PEORIA, Ill., Sept. 28.—Miss Ruth Law broke the woman's attitude record at the Imperial show grounds yesterday when she went up in her airplane 14,700 feet. The previous record of 12,800 feet was held by Miss Law.

GERMAN COUNTER ATTACK

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Another German counter attack was made last night against the new British positions near Zonnebeke. An attack was broken up by the British, the war official announced.

The statement follows: Yesterday evening another counter attack by the Germans against our positions in Zonnebeke was broken up by our rifle and machine gun fire and artillery. South of Tower Hamlets and south of Polygon wood isolated strong positions in which parties of the enemy were holding out close to our new position have been cleared up.

"We killed or captured several Germans without loss to ourselves in carrying out a successful raid last night south-west of Zonnebeke. The enemy's artillery showed considerable activity during the night south of Lens. The artillery on both sides has been active on the battle front."

TERRIBLE SLAUGHTER OF GERMANS IN FLANDERS

LONDON, Sept. 28.—On his return from a visit to the Italian front, Maj. Gen. F. B. Maurice, chief director of military operations at the war office, yesterday discussed the situation in Flanders with the Associated Press:

"During the past month there has been a long pause, thanks to the rain and mud in Flanders," he said. "The pause made necessary more ample preparations than ordinarily after a first advance—preparations equivalent to launching an entirely new battle. But the result amply justified the preparations, and while on previous occasions we won our objectives only after protracted fighting, we Wednesday were in possession of the whole of the objectives before 5 a. m."

"The fighting Wednesday was in the most vital area, the nexus of the ridge system dominated the plain of Flanders and the key to the whole series of ridges. There is a good deal more to be said about this battle than what we gained."

"Officers who have been with the British army from the beginning all agree that since the first battle of Ypres there has never been a slaughter of the Germans comparable to that they suffered in the repulsed counter attacks of the past few days. The Germans counter attacked in masses and dozens of those counter attacks were swept away by our fire with terrible German losses."

"The most important aspect of the Flanders battle is summed up in the words 'wastage of reserves.' The Germans have done their best to keep us off the series of ridges. When we finish getting these ridges we shall claim a victory."

"The question then is whether we can exploit that victory, and exploiting it depends on whether we have got more reserves than the enemy. Thus far the German wastage has been much greater than ours, and they have used 75 per cent. more divisions than we since July 31."

"Regarding the east front situation, it is chiefly remarkable for the little advantage the Germans have taken of the notorious situation in Russia. The question is, have they done so little because they have been unable to do more or have they withheld their hand for political or other reasons?"

"It is too early to reach a decision on that question, but in my mind I have little doubt that the strain on the west front is the chief reason for the small German progress in the east."

AUSTRIA AND GERMANY AT ODDS OVER POLAND

LONDON, Sept. 28.—A Reuter dispatch from Zurich, Switzerland, says Count Adam Tarnowski von Tarnow, ex-Austro-Hungarian ambassador to the United States, has been refused membership in the Polish regency, owing to reported decided hostility to him in Germany, and that it has been proposed that Count Ostrowski replace him.

The dispatch says the indications are that there are serious differences between Austria and Germany with regard to the composition of the regency.

FRETFUL BABIES NEED A LAXATIVE

When your baby is cross and fretful the chances are it is constipated and that a mild laxative is all that is necessary to make it comfortable and happy. Inactive bowels are the cause of as much discomfort to children as to older people, and unless the condition is promptly relieved is very apt to develop serious illness.

For children there is nothing that will act more easily than the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not gripe and is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, is pleasant to the taste, and positively effective; children like it and take it readily.

If you have never tried this simple, inexpensive remedy, get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it in the house to use the next time any of the children seem out of sorts. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

DUTCH EXPLANATION IS ACCEPTED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The Netherlands minister, Chevalier van Hattard, yesterday presented an explanation, which the state department accepted as satisfactory, of the references in the recently disclosed van Igel papers to sales of ammunition to Germany to Holland.

The van Igel papers contained a dispatch signed by Prince Hatzfeldt, formerly counselor of the German embassy here, transmitting authorization of sale of cartridges and gunpowder.

The Netherlands minister's explanation, presented in the form of a statement, declared the ammunition was part of that bought up in the United States by Germany at the beginning of the war in order to keep it from the allies, but that the Netherlands government finally decided not to buy any of it. The munitions were later offered for sale, and some were sold to other governments.

DEMAND "REDEMPTION OF PHILADELPHIA"

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Resolutions calling upon all citizens to unite in the "redemption of the city" and demanding the impeachment or resignation of any public officials shown by the pending investigation of the political feud, which resulted in the killing of a policeman by alleged New York gunmen, to have been negligent of their duty, were adopted at a mass meeting here last night.

The meeting was called to protest against "the intolerable conditions in our political life as evidenced by the 5th Ward murder."

Ex-Mayor Rudolph Blankenburg was a speaker. Forty thousand tickets had been issued and so great was the attendance that overflow meetings were held. Dense crowds blocked the streets

WOMEN ARMY CLERKS DROP UNIFORM PLAN

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Indications last night were that Mrs. John A. Johnston, wife of the commander of the Northeastern department, will not have the opportunity of fulfilling her offer to furnish cloth for uniforms for women field clerks employed at department headquarters here.

The war department has declined to prescribe a uniform for the women field clerks.

Women field clerks at department headquarters were aroused when orders came recently prescribing khaki "coats and breeches" for all field clerks. A few days later official word came from the women field clerks to disregard the order.

Soon afterward some of them decided they would like uniforms anyway. They favored military skirts and V-neck blouses, and put the matter up to Gen. Johnston. They were told they were free to pick a uniform for themselves. Then came an offer from Mrs. Johnston to supply the cloth.

Now it appears not all the women field clerks agree on the color and pattern, and the question of donning a distinctive uniform, is well off.

Drig-Gen. E. Leroy Sweetser, commanding officer of the Depot Brigade of the 20th division, has taken quarters at Nottingham Chambers and has appointed as his aide Major Charles F. Cahill of the old 2nd regiment and Lieut. Malcolm J. Logan, brother of Col. Logan of the old 9th, now of the 101st regiment.

Adit-Gen. Fossion of Maine was in conference here with Gen. Johnston yesterday regarding the defenses of the Pine Tree state.

FAIRMOUNTS' DANCE AT ASSOCIATE TONIGHT

Tonight at Associate hall, the Fairmount campers, one of the most prominent organizations of campers at Willow Dale, will conduct their fifth annual dancing party, and the indications are that the affair will prove one of the most enjoyable on record.

The Fairmounts have an enviable reputation as entertainers, but they promise to provide the best party in their history tonight. Miner-Doyle's orchestra will furnish music, and this fact is bound to make a hit with all who attend. This well known organization of musicians has just completed a most successful season at the Lakeview dance hall, and many of the favorite pieces, which went so "big" at the Lake this summer, will be played for the dancers tonight.

A number of new selections, just out, will also be given. Cabaret features, by some of Lowell's leading entertainers, will also be introduced. In past years the Fairmounts' dances have been attended by large crowds, and hence the members have made arrangements to receive a large number tonight. Tickets 25 cents.

Interest begins Saturday, October 6th, at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

FIRST CANNED VEGETABLES PRIZE IN MASSACHUSETTS GOES TO ANNISQUAM

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—Mrs. William R. Ricker, of Leonard street, Annisquam, Mass., is the first woman in that state to share in the $5000 offered by the national emergency food garden commission, of Washington, for the finest exhibits of canned vegetables. The prize awarded to Mrs. Ricker consists of a check for $5 and a national certificate of merit.

Mrs. Ricker competed for the commission's prize at the Gloucester vegetable, fruit and flower show, which was one of the largest of its kind held in the state. The competition was keen, hundreds of other women trying to win the unusual distinction for their products.

At the request of Louise M. Hooper, librarian, the commission today rushed express a second consignment of its manuals on food conservation to the library at Brookline, Mass. Hundreds of the commission's pamphlets on home drying, canning and storing have been distributed by the Brookline library and the demand for them has been so great that Librarian Hooper requested another lot.

Two of the first ten prizes awarded by the commission went to two Indians, Alice Ladd Taloga, Dulce, N. M., and Mrs. Isabelle St. Germain, of Lac du Flambeau, Wis. Through the co-operation of Cato Fells, head of the federal bureau of Indian affairs, the commission created much interest in food conservation among the Indians, and as a result of this campaign exhibits are being held at all the Indian reservations in the United States. One of the commission's prizes will be awarded at each winning exhibit.

Today the commission received a letter from Mrs. W. E. Cody, of Cody, Wyo., widow of the famous Indian Scout, Buffalo Bill, requesting an allotment of the commission's manuals on food conservation. A consignment of home drying, canning and storing manuals were rushed to her by Chase Lathrop Pack, president of the commission.

WOULD MAKE BOSTON GREAT ARMY DEPOT

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—To make Boston one of the greatest military supply and storage depots in the world, from which equipment for the armies fighting abroad will flow in a steady stream, is a plan of the Massachusetts waterways committee, authorized by the storage committee of the council of national defense at Washington.

The plan involves building of great public works along both the East Boston and South Boston shores, requiring enormous financial outlay and labor of hundreds of men, also the taking by the government of 250,000 square feet of floor space on Commonwealth pier for storage and embarkation.

Storage buildings and a big shipping platform would be built near the foot of the channel and the South Boston shore, and the further dredging of the channel and an extension of wharves near the Metropolitan Coal company's and Boston Malasses company's plants, all the docks to be linked together by the existing system of storage tracks.

The project is largely that of William S. McNary, of the waterways commission and former member from this state on the storage committee. Learning that the national government contemplated building such a plant on Newark flats near New York, Commissioner McNary went to Washington and called the attention of various officials to the existing facilities in South Boston.

Stating that Halifax is largely used for all Canadian shipments to Europe, because of its comparative proximity to the other side, Mr. McNary asked why Boston's advantage in that respect should be ignored. He learned that in Washington the idea that Boston's terminal facilities are unequal to their present burden has been fostered and he combated it, besides showing that Halifax is connected with the rest of Canada practically only by a single track.

An expert sent here by the National council of defense has viewed the territory involved and has even indicated sites for various warehouses.

If the secretary of war approves the plan Mr. McNary intends to try to get the federal shipping board to utilize Boston's shipping facilities for the overflow shipping at New York instead of sending it to southern cities, much farther from Europe.

Mr. McNary yesterday stated that every effort must be made to have Boston's shipping and commercial interests recognized at this time, and that local business organizations should get behind the movement at once.

TO REVERSE REICHSTAG PEACE RESOLUTION

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 28.—Charges that certain government authorities are supporting the pan-German and conservative forces in the agitation to reverse the reichstag majority peace resolution and commit Germany to the so-called Hindenburg peace may be made the subject of an interpellation at the present session of the reichstag. Berlin newspapers which arrived tonight after a three-day interruption indicate that the interpellation was discussed at a meeting of the steering committee of the reichstag on Wednesday.

It was decided to postpone action in order to give Chancellor Michaelis and his aides an opportunity to make certain explanations. This, Philipp Scheidemann, the socialist leader explained, would allow the committee to determine the form which the interpellation should take, but it will not head off a big debate on the subject. Georg Ledebour, the radical socialist, made a vain attempt to set the debate for today.

Amend Imperial Constitution
AMSTERDAM, Sept. 28.—The constitutional committee of the reichstag, according to a despatch from Berlin, by a vote of 15 to 2, yesterday adopted a proposal to cancel the concluding sentence of article 9 of the imperial constitution which debars members of the federal council from simultaneous membership in the reichstag. The committee adjourned after passing an order of the day which declared: "The reichstag will co-operate in the event of the conclusion of a peace."

Refuse to Vote Increase
COPENHAGEN, Sept. 28.—The centrist and socialist representatives at the meeting Wednesday of the inter-parliamentary caucus of the centrist, national-liberal, radical and socialist parties, manifested a desire to refuse to vote favorably on the salary of Vice Chancellor Heiforich who is unpopular in reichstag circles. The establishment of the chancellorship as a separate ministry, including a vice chancellor necessitates a vote of credit. The radicals and national-liberals opposed a conditional amendment at the caucus and the question was sent to the main committee of the reichstag.

TURKISH GRAND VIZIER SAYS END COMING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Turkey's entry into the war was justified by Talat Bey, the grand vizier, in a long speech closing the congress of the party of union and progress, according to a despatch from Constantinople. He defended the Turkish treatment of the Armenians, but admitted that the deportation could not be carried out by regular forces because the gendarmes had been drafted into the army and order could not be maintained. Irregularities in connection with the deportations had been investigated, he said, and the guilty parties had been punished severely, some with death.

Referring to the pope's peace note Talat Bey declared that Turkey adhered to the principle of arbitration. Regarding disarmament he said: "We shall oppose no solution which is compatible with our vital interest."

He concluded by saying that no one could say when peace would come, but it was obvious that the end was approaching.

CALLS ON SENATE TO EXPULSION LA FOLLETTE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—Members of the American Bankers' association launched into vehement expressions of approval when Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, addressing them yesterday on "The Changing World," demanded that congress exercise its constitutional right to expel United

Nervous Wreck-- Now Live Wire

Makes Everybody Sit Up and Take Notice

One of our big league ball players had been going back for some time, no matter how hard he tried he could not get his old time pep and vigor into the game, it was up all week all the time. He was one of the hard working fellows and he finally got his "goat," his nerves went bad, he commenced to run down, could not eat or sleep and kept steadily slipping. Doctors and medicines were of no help.

One of his many admirers said to him, "Why not try Phosphated Iron, everybody is boosting it."

Grasping at the last straw, the poor fellow took a try at it. The way he came back was an "eye opener," he was there in every department of the game, his nerves were like iron, he could hit the ball and was no time getting back to the three hundred mark, while his base running and fielding were great.

Discussing the matter with our reporter, he said, "Would you believe it, I could feel the iron charging my blood with health and strength, while the way the Phosphated Iron steamed and his nerve force was doing was too good to believe. Phosphated Iron took hold of me right from the start and sure did make a new man of me, and you can bet I carry a good supply on all my trips."

Doctors will tell you that you must have plenty of iron and Phosphates in your system if you want pure red blood and steady nerves of iron. Every one who is run down, nervous tired and has that "all in" feeling should try Phosphated Iron and you will never be without it again.

Special Notice.—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put up in capsules only so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandorine at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

and They Get Well
Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait, give the little stomach, liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a tea-spoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs" to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

States Senator La Follette.
"We are fighting across the sea, and we are fighting evil-minded suspicion, cowardice and license which have cowed their heads at home," Dr. Butler said. "Our soldiers can fight the soldiers of the enemy; you and I have got to fight sedition and treason here."

"Have the American people lost their capacity for corporate indignation," he asked.

"There is a provision in the constitution providing that congress may expel a member by a two-thirds vote. What are they thinking of to sit there and permit themselves to be contaminated by Senator Robert M. La Follette?"

Bankers Cry Approval
Cries of approval came from every side as Dr. Butler proceeded:

"Gentlemen, you might just as well put poison in the food of every boy that goes to his transport as to permit this man to make war upon the nation in the halls of congress."

"I am a native son of New Jersey, which has two patriotic sons in the senate. I call upon them to take up the challenge. No single act would go so far to shorten the war."

Again the audience applauded.

"Hundreds of millions of dollars are being expended and thousands of lives are being lost because we sit by indignant and supine," Dr. Butler declared.

Speaking of peace, Dr. Butler said: "Any human being who asks for peace on any other terms than unconditional surrender is asking another and still greater war. Peace will come only when the supreme confidence the Germans have in their instrument of armor and their world-dominating aims are brought to defeat. That is the only road to peace."

Lord Northcliffe, head of the British war mission in America and the editor, "in the same boat," should pull together, he said, with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, "acting as stroke."

"I believe America will even surpass her own magnificent record," Lord Northcliffe declared. "It is not my business to criticize, or even to advise. I merely wish to indicate a point in our armor which an unscrupulous and unsleeping enemy is sure to attack, and I want you, the massed battalions of finance, to bring up your reserves and simply smother him with all arms, big guns and small, subscriptions of a million dollars and subscriptions of a hundred dollars."

The food situation in Germany and Austria is better than a year ago, Lord Northcliffe warned, and "financially, Germany lives in a circle and can go on for a long time spending her own money among her own people."

Advises General Thrift
American loans to Great Britain, the speaker asserted, do not cross the Atlantic, but "go to swell wages in Bridgeport, Bethlehem and a hundred other centers of industry where the wages are the highest on record," and will return to swell the country's finances in the form of workers' subscriptions to the Liberty loan.

The length of the war is associated intimately with the question of thrift, he said, and in this connection he predicted that while newspapers are essential to the conduct of the war, as the conflict progresses the publishers will find that material and power and labor diminishing and the size of American newspapers may be reduced.

Conservation of raw material, transport, power and labor as relating to newspapers may apply also to other industries, Lord Northcliffe said, and is "one way of shortening the war."

Other speakers were Benjamin R. Strong, Jr., governor of the New York Federal Reserve bank, who expressed his confidence in the country's ability to "pay all the taxes required to maintain its credit and support all the borrowings needed for the period of the war without crippling its vital industries," Fred M. Barnsworth, secretary of the association, who lamented the fact that the secretary of war had ruled against any banking facilities in the army camps, and George M. Reynolds of Chicago, who said he felt certain the bankers will meet every obligation and service put upon them by the government.

HIS CONDITION SERIOUS
Capt. Howard J. Dunn of Iowa Co. No. 3 of the 100th department, who fell from the roof of a building of the Northern Waste Co. Saturday night and suffered a concussion of the brain and internal injuries, is in a serious condition at St. John's hospital. He passed a very bad night and his condition today showed no signs of improvement.

TALBOT'S WONDERFUL STORE

The Reason It Became Necessary and Why We Have Made the Alterations

We hear nothing but complimentary remarks as our store nears its completion—One kind friend said "it was as if one was dropped by an airship into the centre of Broadway, New York." We felt we should tell you why we give the people of Lowell such a good store.

Way back in 1881, the writer opened a store in this location, about one-third the size of the present one—It was soon enlarged and kept enlarging until we took in the two other stores and the stable in the rear of the American House.

Fifteen years ago, how the time does skip, we took in the second story of the American House making our windows twenty-two feet high and built the entire rear part almost back to the firehouse and at that time we thought we had some store—It was too, but things keep moving and we feel the best none too good for Lowell—

Great success followed our efforts and today we stand at the head of the clothing trade of the city. Not only have we improved the store, but we added young blood and made this the store of progress, the store of new things, the store of better things—

We told you sometime ago how we went thro' the West in search of new ideas. How after looking through a great many propositions we got together with a couple of young store architects and made a set of plans of a better front than any we had seen. The reason this could be done was that with 84 feet frontage and the great height, (22 feet), the possibilities were better, and we feel we have taken every advantage of them—

In conclusion—we wish to thank you who have made our great advance possible and we promise to live up to all your expectations in the future—Come in and see us, we shall be delighted to show you our store.

AMERICAN HOUSE
WARREN STS.

Don't think we have done this entirely without hope of reward because we are frank to admit we expect to reap benefits. The last five years our business has increased very fast and 1916 was the largest we ever recorded.

We confidently expect and believe we can increase our business one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars or more this coming year and cannot see why we should not do this easily—we have given you the best store (not the most elegant and expensive) but the best for business that we know about, and we have seen most of them—We shall increase our stock liberally and sell higher grades than before, always keeping our prices the lowest in the city.

The next few years are years in which the public will be offered many substitutes. The large advance in costs makes the use of cotton an object of great moment. We shall adhere to the principles that have made this store such a success. If forced later on to use cotton fabrics we shall tell you so. Buy only of stores you can rely on.

That's another big reason our business grows each year—our salesmen are instructed to tell you just what you are buying. Then we go farther and guarantee satisfaction in service and wear—If anything goes wrong, we stand behind it and are ready to make good—There's no risk in trading here and that will mean a lot to you during the war times—We're fortunate too, in having Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes—they are acknowledged to be the best clothes made.

We hope soon to invite you to our Grand Opening—Today we ask you to drop in and see what we are doing—Also would say our Fall Stock is complete.

FREE TO ESCAPE HURRICANE

Tropical Hurricane Passing Inland Central 75 Miles South of City

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 28.—The tropical hurricane passing inland from the Gulf of Mexico was central early today about 75 miles south of New Orleans and moving in a northerly direction. Reports from Pilot Town, near the mouth of the Mississippi river, said the wind's velocity there was more than 75 miles an hour at 5.30 a. m. and the barometer had fallen to 29.18.

Weather bureau officials were inclined to the opinion that the full force probably would pass a little east or west of New Orleans.

The barometer in New Orleans at 7 a. m. registered 29.63 where it had been almost stationary for nearly four hours.

"New Orleans has not yet received the worst of the storm," weather bureau officials said. "It is intensifying rapidly and will increase here up to noon."

The center of the storm apparently passed inland from the Gulf near Pilot Town, the hurricane winds being accompanied by rain. Pilot Town is approximately 50 miles southeast of this city and had a population of about 100. It is the headquarters of the pilots who guide the vessels over the bar at the mouth of the river. Since 1.30 a. m. a gale of more than 75 miles an hour had been blowing there. No reports had been received here early today as to damage done by the storm or any casualties at Pilot Town and telephone communication was still intact.

Heading the weather bureau's warning of the probable approach of the storm, hundreds of New Orleans residents deserted their homes in the outskirts and spent last night in hotels, public and office buildings down town. More than 300 sought refuge in the postoffice building, the customs house and the new court house.

A dispatch from Gulfport, Miss., stated that the barometer there at 7 a. m. registered 29.65. An east wind was blowing about 40 miles an hour and there were squalls of rain. The tide there was reported two and a half feet above normal.

Telephone communication with Pilot Town became interrupted for several hours and reports from there were received by wireless.

As a precautionary measure, Dr. I. M. Clute, district forecaster here, advised the authorities at Thibodaux, Hammond and other small towns near here to keep their schools closed today. The New Orleans school board issued orders to the same effect.

Shower for Miss Pyne

Miss Mary Pyne, of Central street, who is soon to become the bride of Mr. William Finley of Andrews street, was given a shower recently by a number of her friends at the home of Mrs. C. Keefe in Bassett street. After the presentation of the various gifts by Miss Ella Roun, a musical program was put on and this included solos by Miss Welch, Miss Lucy Sharkey, Miss J. Riley, Mrs. Regan and Mrs. McGuire. There was also a piano solo by Miss Marion McDonald and a comic sketch by Miss Mary Smith. Miss Pyne was the accompanist of the evening. The party broke up at a seasonable hour and everybody wished the bride every happiness in her future life.

Big Reception

visitors who were escorted to the Richardson hotel by a local committee headed by W. A. Mitchell and Otto Hochmeyer.

The much admired Kitties favored with a little band concert before entering the hotel and the crowd that watched Middlesex street was so great that street cars were stalled for several minutes. It was a brass band and there was some disappointment because many were of the belief that the Kitties would bring along a piano band and that the accompanying band would play such rollicking pieces as "Cock of the North" and "March of the MacLeans," skirls and pibrochs, etc. but there was nothing of that kind on the bill of fare. It was a good band, however, and the concert was all too short for the many admirers of the Kitties. It was one of the bands that has taken the conservative old city of Boston by storm and has so marvelously stimulated recruiting there.

After the trench sash was more of them until 7 o'clock in the evening. Meanwhile, however, interesting things were going on within the Richardson. Mayor O'Donnell and the reception committee were seated at the supper and the visitors proved talkative. They told tales that intermittently caused laughter and regret. They told of the trenches, of wounds and of battles, of homes and of home. Then they told of the need and desires of the men "over there." There was hardly a man in the group who could not have told a tale of suffering and of heroism. They had been there. Veterans of the Somme, of Vimy Ridge, of "Wipers" and of other places which have been immortalized within the past three years. Some of them were veterans of the "Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry," some of the 14th Canadian battalion, and others.

Kitties in Parade

Shortly after 7 o'clock the Kitties, headed by their band drew up in Middlesex street in front of the Richardson hotel and were met by the three local companies of the Victoria Rifles of Canada, the 1st, 2nd and 3rd. The band started down Middlesex at 7.10 and followed by the local companies and the Kitties under the command of Capt. Sumner, marched through Central, Merrimack, Moody and Cabot streets and then back to the Westford street armory. The streets were crowded every inch of the way. A "trade" was held up in the square while the marchers passed. The stirring music of the band, the unexpected military bearing of the State Guard and finally the presence of a notable and not easily forgotten picture to Lowell people.

Riding behind the marchers were Mayor O'Donnell and members of the reception committee.

At 7.55 the band made its way into the Westford street armory, marched through the crowd which had already congregated there and down to the front of the platform for the speakers. Here they turned about and took their positions in the balcony of the building.

Members of the State Guard commanded by Maj. Hayes. They were preceded by the national colors and the flag came into the building with a flourish and a cheer went up. The men stood at attention until the Kitties and their officers came and were es-sorted to the front seats in the reserved section. Then the mayor, the reception committee and the speakers of the evening took their positions on the platform.

After the soldiers had taken their positions the crowd surged in from the street and packed the already well-filled building. One aisle of seats had been given to the early comers and the rest were reserved for the soldiers. The armory had been tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Along either wall of the sides of the building huge Old Glories and Massachusetts state seals were displayed. Forming a background for the speakers' platform were the flags of the three allies—France, England and the United States. Standing in the rear of the platform were a number of Boy Scouts carrying posters of the recruiting party.

Mayor O'Donnell opened activities shortly after 8.15. He spoke of the purpose of the meeting and said that he was sure that Lowell's reputation for hospitality would be upheld by the reception which the honored visitors were receiving. He said that the men who had come to Lowell had come with a mission and promised that the men themselves would be able to explain in full detail what that mission was. Col. George H. Williams of the headquarters staff at Toronto was the first speaker. He opened in a humorous mood by saying that he had been told that it had always been necessary for the United States to look up to Canada. At present Canada wants this country to look up to her in other ways. He said that 400 years ago Cabot discovered Canada and thought that he had also discovered a northwest passage. Less than four years ago Kaiser Wilhelm discovered Canada, but no passage. Instead he found an insurmountable barrier.

The speaker then got down to actual figures. He said that to date there had been 400,000 Canadian casualties and that if these losses cannot be made good the previous gains will in turn become losses. In conclusion he said that no British or Canadian subject in this country who had any red blood could sit idly while American young men were being drafted to fight what is part of their fight. In conclusion he asked the audience to stand and sing "The God Save the King" and nine men came forward. They were loudly cheered.

Then the band played hymns of the different allies and as each was played the soldiers sang at attention. It was a pretty sight.

Lieut. Chevalier was the next speaker. Slightly built but full of earnestness and appeal he also told of what he had seen in Canada. It was the desire of the recruiting force to get a platoon from Lowell. Two men answered his appeal.

He then introduced the real novelty of the evening.

"How many of you women out there in the audience," he asked, "would be willing to go to the front if we needed you?"

A half hundred hands went up.

"How many of you who have put your hands up will step forward and shake hands with me?"

Embryo Amazons Respond

In response, 15 young women came forward, shook his hand and mounted the platform. The cheering continued for fully five minutes.

Sergeant-Maj. McLeod was the next speaker. He came from the 14th Canadian Battalion. He said that he had two rights to address a Lowell audience. In the first place, when he was three years old his mother took him from Lowell to Canada. In the second place, he had five German bullet wounds and a bayonet wound on his body. For these two reasons he asked that Lowell men and women, in the course of his talk, be frequently carried the audience "over the top" by an exceedingly vivid description of the sensations which a soldier feels when he is about to make the dash "over the top."

Lieut. Paul Skidmore of the first overseas contingent attempted to address the audience but his voice, worn out after days of vigorous speaking, could not be heard beyond the front row. He succeeded in asking the men to come to the front.

Then the band, under the direction of Bandmaster C. C. Antony, himself a veteran of other wars, played "Tipperary" and other appropriate selections and the Kitties joined in.

Brig.-Gen. White, who had been in Lawrence in the early evening, came to the hall at this time and was immediately introduced by Mayor O'Donnell. He spoke much in the same line as the previous speakers and in the course of his talk gave a brief resume of the part which the Canadians have played in the war. He said that he wished to emphasize the fact that he was not calling upon men to fight England's battles but Canada's, nor that of the United States, but rather that of humanity.

Col. Williams spoke again and made another appeal for volunteers. "The more men come forward," he said, "the more secure in this way and at the same time the more the names were taken by the recruiting officer in charge and the more were brought to one of the company representatives of the army and full information was given them. It was announced that the first contingent of men would be sent up at the war work rooms, 119 Merrimack street and would be open today from 10 a. m. to 1 p. m., 2 p. m. to 4 p. m., and 7 p. m. to 9 p. m.

The meeting closed with a selection from the band and then the order came to attention was given. The Kitties, instantly they arose, went through preliminary movements and then marched out of the building to the Middlesex street station. They were headed by the band and at the rear of the train in a special train to Boston.

The band which was here last evening was not a complete organization. The players who were in the band had to go to Lawrence where they were to play a concert at the Lowell armory, synchronous to that of Lowell.

COL. F. B. M'COY DIED SUDDENLY

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Col. Frank Bourbon McCoy, chief of the army recruiting station at 3 Tremont row, died in the Haymarket square Relief station yesterday afternoon, after having collapsed unconscious in the Scollay-square station of the subway as he was returning to his desk from luncheon at his home, 7 Euston street, Brookline.

Death was due to a recurrence of heart trouble with which he was stricken in the lobby of the Hotel Conley-Plaza the night of the dinner to the Japanese mission, Sept. 19.

Dr. J. H. Stevens, the hotel physician who attended him then, had urged him to "go slow," but he was loath to follow the advice absolutely and returned to his desk on the following Tuesday, Sept. 25.

Thomas J. Purcell, the station master of the Relief station, saw Col. McCoy's trouble at 1:55 p. m. and helped him to a bench, where he immediately lost consciousness.

Patrolman Nickerson of the City Hall 3 avenue police station, who conveyed the colonel to the Relief station, said he did not regain consciousness till nearly there. He died at 2:35 p. m.

Col. McCoy literally "died in harness" after having achieved for Massachusetts, and particularly Boston, the proud record of rising after a poor start in army enlistments, when the war became a fact in April, until this commonwealth led every state in the Union in proportion to its size.

He was detailed to the army recruiting station at 3 Tremont row from the retirement of private life, succeeding Capt. Constant Cordier Sept. 13, 1914.

From often less than five acceptances for enlistment a day, through Col. McCoy's never-ceasing efforts the figures of the station gradually rose until in the month of June, in the excellent attendance on the registration for the selective draft, on one or two occasions they hovered in the vicinity of the 200 mark.

He was born in Augusta, Ga., Oct. 23, 1851, and was appointed to West Point from that state, becoming a second lieutenant in the 24th Infantry, Nov. 28, 1880.

Maternally he was descended from the Marlin family which gave so many soldiers to the patriot army in the days of Francis Marion. Hence Col. McCoy was eligible to membership with the Society of the Cincinnati, but the only hereditary society he joined was the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

He was transferred to the 3d Infantry Feb. 20, 1883, and assigned to Fort Shaw, Mont., under Lieut.-Col. John R. Brooke. He became a first lieutenant Feb. 1, 1887. He became a captain of the second Infantry April 26, 1898, and was transferred back to the 3d Infantry Nov. 15, 1899.

He received at time of the Spanish war an honorary appointment as lieutenant colonel of the 12th Minnesota Infantry (militia) until November, 1900, when he was transferred to the 3d Infantry.

After transfer to the 17th Infantry he was made a major Aug. 8, 1902, and a lieutenant colonel of the 24th Infantry March 3, 1911, rising to colonel April 25, 1915. He retired by operation of law on his 64th birthday, Oct. 23, 1915.

From 1904 to 1907 he was in command of the post at the Island of Jolo in the Philippines.

TERRIBLE PICTURE OF GERMAN ATROCITIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, in the pulpit of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, drew so terrible a picture of German "efficiency" in France and Belgium that the throng in the church was moved to gasps of horror.

"Why do the German people say they feel so terribly because the authors of the world call them Hun and barbarian?" he exclaimed. "Who named them Hun? Their kaiser! Who christened them barbarians? Their kaiser. Who likened the German soldiers to bloodhounds held upon the leash of the kaiser's thong, as they strided with bloody jaws to tear their French and Belgian prey? The kaiser, the ruler who left a diseased and withered arm, and with bloody fingers, says:

"I baptize thee Hun and barbarian. Let the kaiser's word be a curse to a thousand years no man shall speak the word 'Hun' without shuddering!" The pastor spent July and August on the German front, and he said he saw and heard and thought in the blood soaked fields. Its title was "The German Atrocities in Belgium, France and the Inevitable Result of the German Philosophy of Militarism." The text was "Babylon the Great is Fallen."

"The Good Old German God!" "Here upon the pulpit," began Dr. Hillis slowly, "rests a reproduction of an iron coin given as a token to each German soldier. At the top is a picture of the Kaiser. On the left and underneath are these words, 'The Good Old German God.' To encourage the German soldiers to cruelty and atrocity against Belgians and Frenchmen, he holds a weapon in his right hand and to dull his conscience and to steel his heart to murder, the token holds these words: 'Smite your enemy dead. That day of judgment will not ask you for your reasons.'"

"To this native characteristic Goethe was referring when he said, 'The Prussian is naturally cruel; civilization will intensify that cruelty and make him a savage.' For three years, German-Americans have protested that the stories of German atrocities were a Belgian lie and French hypocrisies. But that day is gone forever. When the representatives of the nations assembled for the final settlement, there will be laid before the Germans photographs with other legal proof that makes the German atrocities far better established than the scalping of the Sioux Indians on the western frontiers, the murders of the Black Hole of Calcutta and the crimes of the Spanish Inquisition.

"For the first time in history Germans have reduced savagery to a science; therefore, the great war for peace must go on until the German cancer is cut clean out of the body."

Atrocities Organized by "Efficiency" "The cold catalogue of German atrocities makes the most sickening pages in history. The atrocities were committed in a mood of drunkenness, not in an hour of anger, but were organized by a so-called German 'efficiency.' It is not simply that they

SPECIAL

Owing to the nation-wide demand for more recreation and shorter working hours for store clerks, I have decided to close every Thursday afternoon the balance of this year, 1917. My clerks have not demanded this—not even asked for it. I gave it to them voluntarily. (Signed) MITCHELL.

In a stupendous rush of old customers who know I always gave them the goods at low prices, at the same time I demonstrate to an unbelievable rush of new customers that I never carried better goods in the days when goods were known to be lower in price. That I am still standing pat on my old prices, when all around me boldly announce they are compelled to raise prices.

The most wonderful display of classic woollens in Lowell. Hundreds of bolts piled up to the store ceiling, of the most varied assortment of costly, exclusive styles.

The man who always pays $40.00 to $50.00 for his suitings or overcoatings will see in my store today, goods that he will admit his $40.00 tailor is short of today.

Doctors, lawyers, mill men and store men—all crowd elbows in my store these days, for styles they can't seem to get in old quarters during this woolen pinch, while prosperous merchants walk into my store and say to my boys: "Measure me for one of those 16 oz. heavy weight blue serge woisteds at the old price."

COME IN—GET ABOARD THIS MIGHTY RUSH. ENGLISH WEAVE OVERCOATINGS AND SUITINGS TOMORROW I'LL SHOW YOU GOODS THAT RIVAL FIFTH AVE. IN ITS PRIME. I'LL SHOW YOU PRICES THAT EQUAL MY BALMY BARGAIN DAYS. I'LL SHOW YOU BUSINESS THAT PROVES MITCHELL MUST BE THERE TO GET SUCH CROWDS.

RAILROADS' FALL AND WINTER SCHEDULES

The fall and winter schedules on the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroads go into effect Sunday, the public service commission having approved the schedules yesterday. The question of excursion trains and reduced rates to the National Army encampment at Ayer, however, was not taken up, owing to the fact that there was no petition from the railroads on that subject.

With 20,000 New England men in camp at Ayer thousands of relatives and friends would like to visit Camp Devens but in many cases the rates are so high that people cannot afford to make the trip. The commission will consider the questions of Sunday excursions and reduced rates to Ayer.

MISS CURTIN HONORED
Miss Margaret Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Curtin, of 51 Albion street, was agreeably surprised last evening on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. A reunion of friends and relatives took place at the home of the young woman, who was presented numerous valuable gifts. During the evening refreshments were served and a varied entertainment program was given, those taking part being Miss Anna Dorsey, Miss Etta Burke, Miss Blanche Crisler, Miss Alice Curtin, Miss Katherine L. Curtin and Mrs. Catherine Maynard.

Y.W.C.A. HOLDS RALLY
About 100 members of the Y.W.C.A. were in attendance at the fall rally which took place last evening. Sapper was served, the association songs were sung and an interesting address was delivered by Miss Frances E. McNair, general secretary. A membership campaign was organized and the group of workers was divided into two sections headed by Mrs. D. L. Page and Mrs. W. E. Hatch. The prizes offered the members for the recruiting work are as follows: One member, a place on the honor roll; five members, blue enamel Y.W.C.A. pin; ten members, a gold association pin, and 15 members, a week at the camp next summer.

The rally was brought to a close with a very clever pasquant under the direction of Miss Marion Sawyer, the new social and girls' work secretary, assisted by Miss Edith Erskine, Miss Ethel Everett and Miss Miriam Savage. About 50 girls took part in the pasquant, which was given in the gymnasium. In the course of the pasquant Miss Marion McKnight sang "Beautiful for Spacious Skies" and the affair closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. A. F. French, chairman of the membership committee, presided over the meeting.

NEW DRAFT RULING
BOSTON, Sept. 28.—A ruling that draft boards could not reopen a case until after the date set for the conscription to report for duty was received by Gov. McCall yesterday from Provost Marshall General Crowder. If the local and district boards have certified men through error, or if new evidence is found, the only way they can be relieved from service, the provost marshal held, is by being discharged from the army by military authorities. The ruling was sought after state authorities had discovered some cases of hardship where men sent to camp had failed to report that they had families dependent on them.

AGREE ON WAR TAX OF $2,700,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The war tax bill, increased to raise about $2,700,000,000 federal revenue in addition to $1,335,000,000 secured under existing law, was completed late yesterday by the senate and house conferees.

After two weeks' deliberation, the conferees reached agreement on the bill—the largest in American history—and sent the revised draft to the printer.

While the action was officially said to be tentative, virtually only formal approval of the new draft remains to be voted.

Presentation of the conference report to the house late tomorrow is planned.

It will be considered first by the house and the enactment of the bill into law next week is thought to be assured.

Walks Miles to Pick Berries--One Year Ago Helpless as an Infant

Miss A. M. Clish Tells How She Recovered From Rheumatism That Deformed Joints

"I have walked to and from the berry grounds several times this month," said Miss A. M. Clish of 507 Montello street, Brockton, Mass.

that I could use my crutches. I persisted in the treatment until I was able to bend my knees and go up and down stairs without any trouble.

MISS CLISH ON CRUTCHES

"A year ago I did not believe I would ever be able to walk again. I was crippled with rheumatism of the joints and had to be carried from room to room like an infant. My right knee was drawn up and I was unable to straighten it. My fingers and wrists were swollen and extremely painful.

"The pain was almost unbearable. I could not allow anyone near my bed. Physicians wanted to remove a bone from my knee and I was etherized twice to straighten the leg. They told me I would never be able to walk again.

"My strength was exhausted and my stomach in a very weakened condition. Friends insisted that I try Var-ne-sis as I seemed to be growing worse. After taking two bottles of Var-ne-sis my stomach improved wonderfully, my strength returned so

"I am glad to say I am now doing housework and able to go about as well as ever. I have given W. A. Varney my crutches to add to his collection in Boston. No matter how damp and stormy the weather happens to be I am entirely free from pain. I cannot say enough in praise of Var-ne-sis and trust my experience will be the means of others finding help in Var-ne-sis."

W. A. Varney said: "I wish I could convey to sufferers from rheumatism what Var-ne-sis is doing. I wish I could bring them face to face with those who have recovered through Var-ne-sis. I have had photographs of Miss Clish taken when she was using crutches and also when she was free from rheumatism and able to walk as well as ever.

"I am constantly producing evidence that Var-ne-sis conquers chronic rheumatism and I ask that sufferers from this disease investigate each case. I will pay the expense of three business men to investigate the evidence I produce, providing they will allow me to publish the results over their names. Can I do more? Var-ne-sis does not contain salicylates, opiates, soda, iodides, capicum-pepper, or any of the usual anti-rheumatic drugs."

$200,000,000 over the senate bill, which totalled $2,416,000,000 were added by the conferees. As passed by the house the total was $1,665,000,000.

Senate levies of $1,000,000,000 on war excess profits and $842,200,000 on incomes were substantially unchanged by the conference increases being divided among many items, with a few new taxes added, and many eliminated house provisions restored.

The system of levying war excess profit taxes, however, was virtually re-written in a compromise between the senate war profits and house excess war profits system. A minimum exemption of 7 per cent on invested corporate capital is said to be provided, with modified allowances for intangible assets.

The only change in the senate income tax section was to rearrange and harmonize a few graduated surtaxes on incomes over $50,000, without substantial change in revenue returns or individual taxation. Normal taxes on individuals and corporations and the lowered individual exemptions as revised in the senate were approved.

Three-Cent Postage Restored

Liquor and tobacco sections of the senate draft also were virtually unchanged, although a slight decrease in revenues from whiskey and manufactured tobacco probably will result.

Of the $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 additional agreed to by the conferees, about one-third was placed upon postage. The house one-cent letter tax, making the rate on first-class mail three cents instead of two, estimated to raise $70,000,000, which was stricken out by the senate, was restored by the conferees, and their agreement for a graduated rate increase on second-class mail rates is estimated to raise some millions more.

Another large increase ordered was in passenger transportation and sleeping and parlor car commutation taxes. Amusement admissions also bear a considerable increase, with senate exemptions of outdoor parks and their attractions rejected.

The senate provision exempting from taxation motion picture theatres charging 25 cents or less was changed and provision made for exempting only much cheaper theatres. The exact exemptions have not been disclosed.

Stamp Tax on Checks Retained

Revenues from automobiles, patent medicines, perfumes and cosmetics and other manufactures also would be increased by the conferees' agreement. The one-cent stamp tax on bank checks, eliminated in the senate and estimated to raise $10,000,000, is reported to have been restored to the bill.

Among important house provisions abandoned were the retroactive tax on 1916 incomes, estimated to raise $108,000,000; for a general 10 per cent tax in levy, estimated to raise $200,000,000 and consumption taxes on gas, electric and local telephone service, estimated to bring in $36,000,000.

Another important action understood to have been taken was restoration of the special tax of 16 per cent on munitions manufacturers, estimated to raise $29,000,000. The senate provision for its repeal was stricken out.

Official announcement of the principal features of the conferees' work probably will be made tomorrow by Senator Simmons and Representative Kitchin.

TO TAKE OVER ALL SHIPS OCT. 15

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Every American merchant vessel of more than 2500 tons deadweight capacity available for ocean service will be requisitioned by the government Oct. 15, the shipping board announced yesterday, in a statement giving the charter rates at which the vessels will be taken over.

American ships available for ocean traffic total slightly more than 2,000,000 tons, but some of them already have been taken over for the army and navy.

In most instances, except where required for actual government service, the ships, it was said, will be turned back to their owners for operation on government account, subject at all times to any disposition the shipping board may direct.

The rates announced will cut sharply the present charter and ocean freight rates charged by American vessels for carrying government supplies. It is the intention, it is understood, to apply them later to any foreign ships chartered in the United States.

The chartering will be in the hands of the shipping board's chartering commission, which William Ring of New York has just been named to head.

Charter Rates Announced

For freight vessels the rates a ton a month figured on time charter on a basis of deadweight tonnage are as follows:

More than 10,000 tons, $5.75; 5001 to 10,000 tons, $6; 2001 to 5000 tons, $6.25; 1001 to 2000 tons, $6.50; 501 to 1000 tons, $6.75; 250 to 500 tons, $7.

Vessels of a speed in excess of 11 knots will be allowed an extra ton additional for each knot or fraction more than 11.

For passenger vessels the board adopted a two-fold basis of classification—Class A, comprising steamers with a capacity more than 150 passengers, and Class B, with a capacity of from 75 to 150 passengers. Steamers in both ratings are further classified according to speed. Passenger steamer rates, based on time charter, and figured gross tonnage are as follows:

Class A—10 to 11 knots, $9 a ton; 12 knots, $9.50; 13 knots, $10; 14 knots, $10.50; 15 knots, $11; more than 15 knots, $11.50.

Class B—10 to 11 knots, $8 a ton; 12 knots, $8.50; 13 knots, $9; 14 knots, $9.50; 15 knots, $10; more than 15 knots, $10.50.

All Rates Tentative

Some of the vessels to be requisitioned, which will be used exclusively for army and navy service, will be taken over on a bare ship basis. These vessels will be manned and operated by the army and navy instead of by the owners and the rates fixed for their use are $4.15 for cargo boats and $6.75 a ton.

Government to Assume War Risk

The government will assume the war risk on the ships requisitioned, and in some instances the marine risk as well. Where the marine risk is assumed the government will insure the ships.

When the ships are virtually every one of the 4,500 American vessels now available for ocean service, including the service of supplying American troops and warships abroad or in trades considered vital to the conduct of the war.

The situation of the government, is to replace ships drawn from regular trade routes and from the coastwise service with neutral tonnage, for which negotiations now are pending with neutral governments.

Foreign ships will be admitted into the coastwise service by suspension of the complete shipping laws. A bill to make this suspension possible is before congress.

DO TREE PRUNING IN OCTOBER

ADVISES AMERICAN FORESTRY ASSOCIATION

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—October is the month to prune the trees advises the American Forestry association, 210 Maryland building, in a bulletin issued today. In this report, the association, which publishes the American Forestry Magazine, offers the following timely suggestions for the caring of trees next month:

"Prune all dead branches. The advantage of doing this work now before the leaves fall is because one can distinguish the dead from the live better at that time than in winter; because the sap is better now than in the winter when the trees are covered with ice and snow; because the branches are not so brittle and also because the trees will now suffer much less from bleeding, etc.

"Take care of all wounds. Use coal tar and creosote to cover all exposed wood, and be sure to remove all decayed and diseased wood in the treatment of the wounds. Be sure to destroy nests of the fall web-worm.

"Fertilize with well-rotted manure all weak trees and evergreens. Spray for scale insects, but before doing this determine the character of the insect and receive specific instructions as to the strength of the solution and what materials to use, as well as the best time for doing the work.

"Thin apple trees and other fruit trees if necessary. Pick off galls on small ornamental evergreens. Plant deciduous trees, and shrubs, Poplars, magnolia trees, willows and oaks had better be planted in early spring, but other trees, such as maples, lindens, etc., can be planted in October."

BATTALION PROBLEMS FOR U.S. FORCES

AMERICAN TRAINING CAMPS IN FRANCE, Sept. 28.—(By the Associated Press).—What are, technically known as battalion problems are just now engaging the attention of the more advanced units of American troops training here for work in the trenches. After the battalion problems will come regimental problems. For modern war the division is the largest fighting unit which remains intact within an army organization. The strength of the opposing forces is always gauged by the number of divisions employed.

Americans are working them out alone, but listening to criticism afterward from both British and French officers.

The proper carrying out of reliefs in trenches so that the enemy will not know when one unit has been replaced by another is one phase of the battalion problem which is being followed with fidelity to conditions actually found in the front line. Offensive and defensive problems also are being worked out. One important feature of the present training is the searching of men and the use of captured German weapons of various sorts and descriptions.

Particular attention is being paid to instructions in operating German machine guns and trench mortars, as well as several species of bombs and hand grenades.

Infantry regiments are now looking forward to the time when they will participate in maneuvers with their own artillery. The preliminary training of the artillery is now going on with excellent results, but much remains to be done. The artillerymen are anxious to begin shooting at enemy targets.

Meanwhile the plan of having a large percentage of the first contingent to arrive in France act as instructors to troops arriving later has been begun. Officers' schools are being organized in many localities and scores of officers are being taken from line regiments of the first contingent to conduct them. Later on the non-commissioned officers and men of those regiments will teach the newer contingents the various trench tactics that have been learned from the French and British.

The organization is under way of a corps school which will deal with wider problems and higher theories of war than the divisional schools. Plans also are being prepared for a big staff school, where the various general staff officers will attend lectures and conferences by French and British staff officers.

DESERTERS IS A BIG PROBLEM IN NAVY

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—A real problem that naval officials in this and other ports are facing is the proper way to deal with navy lads whose offenses under the law call for the most severe punishment.

The worst difficulty is with desertion. The penalty for desertion from the navy, even in time of peace, is a considerable term of imprisonment, and in war it is death. And this is war time.

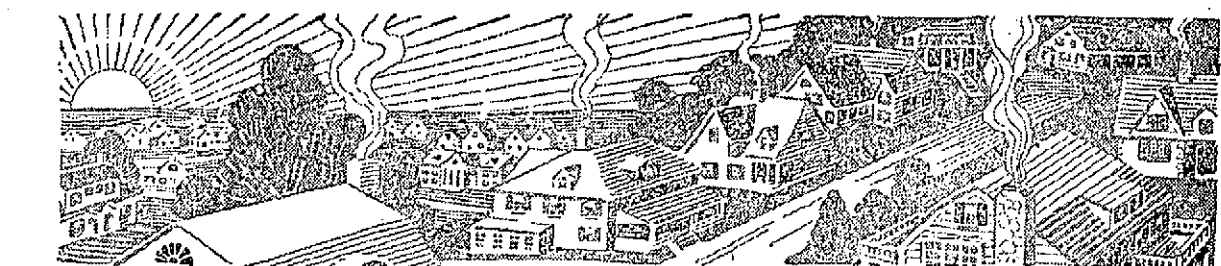

None the less, the navy authorities recognize the fact that the culprits for the most part are boys of from 17 to 21, enlisted in the navy or the naval reserve, who are the victims of acute homesickness and perhaps too much material solicitude.

Given a 24-hour leave, they have gone home, and there have felt that they didn't want to go away again. They have "cried baby," and, finding ready sympathy in their families, have been encouraged to stay for an indefinite term of soft beds and mother's cooking.

The result has been that they have overstayed their leave and that, after 49 days, they have automatically made themselves deserters. Then the navy authorities have sent men out, arrested the deserters and haled them back to navy yards and naval prisons.

The authorities don't want to shoot these boys, whatever navy law says. They don't even want to put them at hard labor in prison for a long term of years, during which time they will not be helping to fight Germany or doing much good of any sort.

At the same time, the navy must preserve its discipline, and its prisons now are everywhere full to capacity of these young deserters. Some days

Crawford Ranges

Was Yours One?

Among the exclusive Crawford features that have made this range preferred above all others are:—

A convenient gas end oven, equipped with new and improved gas broiler. This broiler is instantly adjustable to hold the food at any required distance from the flame without touching the pan, without bending over. It folds away when not in use.

Two separate ovens, both large and roomy—one for coal, the other for gas—both are perfect.

Five center heat gas burners of a new and efficient type bring the heat directly under the center of utensils without wasting gas.

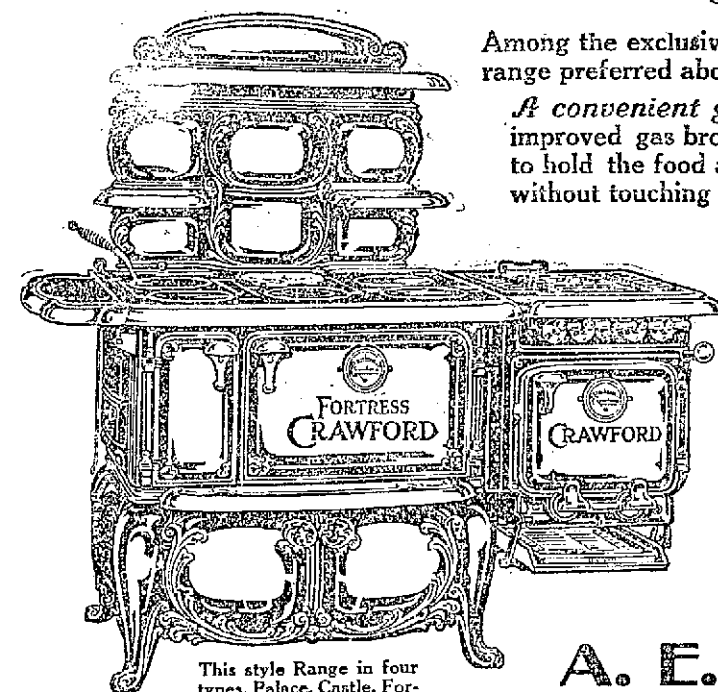

Guarded gas cocks which eliminate danger of accidental opening.

Perfection of design and finish, long service and utility, distinguish Crawford coal ranges—or gas combinations.

there are three or four of them arrested, and this condition has obtained for several months.

The penalty of death, too, is war's allotment in the case of several young chaps from the Naval Reserve who are guilty of having been asleep while on watch. Members of crews of submarine chasers or patrol boats, some of them in Boston harbor, were found asleep during their watch by a naval officer who made an unofficial and quite unexpected tour of inspection.

Punishment in peace time for this offense is one year of hard labor and dishonorable discharge. What in practice will be done with these offenders—whose fault was that they did not appreciate the necessity for the severe discipline that the navy imposes—is not certain, but some will have to be made examples of to warn all the rest.

As for deserters, it is believed that their number will be much fewer when mothers and jockies' families in general appreciate what a serious offense desertion in war becomes and what it may involve.

MUNICIPAL POTATO CROP AT MILFORD, N. H.

MILFORD, N. H., Sept. 28.—The municipal potato crop is being harvested and will be in excess of 2000 bushels of fine quality.

The vegetables are being dug by a machine drawn by four horses. School boys follow, picking up the potatoes.

The tract is 12 acres on land loaned to the board of trade by Col. E. C. Hutchinson. At a meeting of the board of trade last spring $250 was raised to finance a crop and the work was entrusted to the committee on agriculture, headed by C. E. Kendall and S. A. Lovejoy. This sum was in excess of the requirements and several hundred dollars were loaned to the high school boys, who planted four acres and last week harvested 1000 bushels of potatoes.

As soon as the crop is all dug the board of trade men will figure the expense and the potatoes will be sold to local grocers at the actual cost of raising. A fee allowance for storing and handling will be determined, which, added to the production cost, will be the market price of potatoes in Milford as long as the crop lasts. There has been no intent to cut prices, and the board of trade will take no profit on the enterprise, the sole object being to add to the country's food supply.

INDIAN WOMEN WIN PRIZES IN NATIONAL CONTEST FOR BEST CANNED VEGETABLES

WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—The two first prizes for canned vegetables from war gardens awarded to Indian girls by the National Emergency Food Garden Commission, of Washington were today given to Alice Ladd Tappan, Dulce, N. M., and Mrs. Isabelle St. Germain, Lac Du Flambeau, Wis.

A check for $5, and a national certificate of merit was forwarded to each of these ladies by Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the commission. Today the commission received a letter from Mrs. W. F. Coffey, of Cody, Wyo., widow of the famous Indian agency at Lake Bill, requesting an allotment of the commission's manuals on food conservation. A consignment of home drying, canning and storing manuals were rushed to her. At the Indian fair in both towns there were extensive exhibits of canned foodstuffs grown by the Indians in their war gardens. In the W. L. Palmer, superintendent of the Indian agency at Lac Du Flambeau, Wis., writes P. S. Nisbade, secretary of the commission that the "Indian" canned foodstuffs were the fact that they had increased their acreage and

WAR PROBLEM OF INSURANCE

Special to the Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 28.—In one of the most comprehensive reports which have been written by any state official so far this year, issued today by Frank H. Hardison, insurance commissioner, the interesting and complex question of the war problem of insurance is explained and suggestions to remedy it are made.

Just now life insurance companies, operating in Lowell are struggling with a problem akin to that which the companies transacting a working-men's compensation business have had in hand the past few years, and which every new form of insurance has to encounter, namely, what is the proper rate to charge for the insurance. But this problem is still more vital because it touches on the patriotic side. The risk taken by an insurance company is greater when a man goes to war, yet that man must be considered because he is doing a national service by going to fight to protect the country. The question is whether he should be charged additional insurance rates because he enlists to be a patriot, rather than a slacker.

For the life companies, the problem, of course, is the outgrowth of the war. Mr. Hardison points out, and specifically the problem is that additional charge should be made to the policy holder who enters the service either naval or military. The patriotic element of all the companies to make no extra charge if it can be done without endangering their safety and soundness and the interests of their policy holders. But the managers know, the commissioner states, that it would be very imprudent as a financial proposition to grant any such privilege.

"It has been the idea of some," the commissioner reports, "that the additional cost of insurance for those going into the army or navy not of their own volition—but by draft—should not be borne by those who enter the service, nor by the others not in the service who carry insurance in the companies which have insured policies to military men, as would be in the case if this extra cost were taken from surplus which otherwise would be available for dividends. On the contrary, they hold that it should be shared by the public as a part of the war burden. And this is right. The service is for all, not merely those carrying life insurance, nor for the soldiers' dependents. This would mean that the government, or some division thereof, should pay at least the extra cost for military insurance."

In Canada, the commissioner says, "this insurance burden has been assumed by some municipalities that have undertaken to pay the premiums on the policies of enlisted men who are resident therein at the time of entering the service. In Toronto some of this insurance is carried by the city itself and part by the insurance companies whose premiums are borne by the city."

Uniform action, to a great extent is being adopted by the companies throughout the United States, in dealing with this large problem of war insurance, the commissioner says. Ninety-three out of 255 companies in the country have agreed wholly or in part on a uniform plan. The others are undecided or opposed to it, or did not answer requests made of them on the proposal. Only 28 insurance companies are authorized in Massachusetts, scarcely one-tenth of the list. Mr. Hardison says, yet the bulk of the country's business is transacted by the companies authorized here.

For uniformity of action, it has been proposed that:—1. The military clause shall cover the entire period of military or naval service, in time of war, if commenced within five years of the register date.

2. The clause shall call for "such extra premiums as may be fixed by the company."

3. The extra premium charged for the present shall be at the rate of not less than $37.50 per annum per thousand of insurance.

4. In the event of death during service or within six months after termination thereof the liability of the company shall, unless all required extra premiums have been paid, be limited to an amount not exceeding the total premiums paid on the policy, exclusive of any extra premiums which may have been paid for military or naval service.

5. The clause shall require payment of the extra premium within 31 days after entering the service, or, if already in service, along with the first premium on the policy.

6. A refund will be made to any extra premium not required.

SOCIAL AND PATRIOTIC ENTERTAINMENT AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A social and patriotic entertainment was given at the First Baptist church last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent society. There was a large attendance of parishioners and friends and the affair proved to be a success in every particular. The program was arranged by Mrs. Gilman A. Alcott, president of the organization assisted by a competent committee.

The social in the evening was enjoyed between 8 and 9 o'clock where 200 people were present.

11. Taylor acted as master of ceremonies. The first number on the program was the singing of "To Thee, America," by the members of the choir.

Alonso G. Walsh, acting as spokesman for the society, presented a large American flag to the church, and P. J. Fleming accepted it on behalf of the church. This was followed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the entire assembly. There was an anthem by the choir and then came one of the most impressive features of the night when Mr. Walsh on behalf of the society presented a service flag to the church, which was accepted by the pastor, Rev. A. C. Appleby. The flag has 45 blue stars in a field of white, with an outer field of red. The number of stars represents the number of young men members who have entered the service for the army.

After the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldier," by the choir, came the selling of the individual stars of the service flag to the members present, the understanding being that the person buying a star should write a personal letter to that soldier and continue communicating with him during the war, as well as contributing to his personal welfare. The exercises came to a close with the singing of "America."

The 45 young men of the church represented in the service flag are: William Smith, Daniel Naylor, Serat Russell Stack, Sherman Blair, John Paul, Clarence Gilks, George Garner, Joseph Cadworth, John Taylor, Joseph McShane, Henry Sturges, Thomas Sturges, Robert Smart, William G. Alfred, Serat Joseph Amittage, Corp. John Gilks, Harry Foley, Eugene L. Albrecht, Corp. Herbert C. Webster, Albert Wallace, Percy Kinney, Frank Lennox, Fred B. Kelley, John Clegg, Charles E. Field, Walter Bruce, Corp. Sidney Crain, William Crain, Norman S. Smith, James E. Smith, Lieut. Paul K. Trevelyan, Corp. John Thayer, Frank S. Marner, A. Harold Benjamin, Ariston Barrows, E. A. Thompson, Francis Walsh, George Williams, A. L. Hart, Rosemont Haynes, Edward Blake, Herbert Baker, Robins Blackstock, William Galloway, the late Sigurd Severson and the late J. Gordon Pope.

Everybody who has read The Sun's Sunday Supplement, published on Saturday, has words of praise for it.

TEACHERS PROTEST NO HEAT IN SCHOOLS

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Boston teachers do not like the school board's method of economizing in the use of coal by refusing to have school buildings heated on cold days this fall. The Teachers' club, in a protest submitted to the board last night, asserted that the arrangement was "working great hardship to pupils and teachers, who were forced to work in a 'vault-like chill.' The board refused to rescind its order, asserting that there would be no suffering if pupils and teachers would come to school 'suitably clothed.'"

SINN FEIN PARTY EXTENDS ACTIVITIES

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—(By Mail)—The Sinn Fein party in Ireland is extending its activities and is forming local clubs everywhere throughout the country. It still remains, however, rather a pervasive sentiment than a definite organization. It is impossible to say which particular individuals are the authorized exponent of its purposes, and there is a good deal of divergence both of tone and substance between the various pronouncements made from its platforms. Some speakers continue to preach revolution by armed forces, while others appear to aim at a program much nearer the limits of practical politics.

The Associated Press correspondent

dent has talked with some who are very influential in the movement to whom a free Ireland under the crown is quite a welcome idea, provided that it does not mean subjection to a British cabinet. This is not so very far from the home rule that Canada enjoys. The great bulk of the support given at the elections to Sinn Fein candidates comes rather from men dissatisfied with the conduct of current politics and the necessary restrictions of the war than from those who adhere either in principle or practice to methods of violence.

There is a continuously hopeful feeling that the Irish convention may hammer out a good workable scheme of self-government and the conviction is growing that if it does produce any acceptable plan the irreconcilable will be left without followers.

Meanwhile the military authorities are treating the situation on the assumption that the extreme extremists mean what they say. They are, in fact, calling the bluff. So long as there is the threat of another rebellion they take the threat seriously and seem determined to make clear from the outset the hopelessness of repeating the wild experience of Easter week. Drilling is absolutely prohibited and those who engage in it are court-martialed and sent to jail. Arms have been seized everywhere and even the camans or Hurley sticks are not allowed to be carried, as was becoming frequent in processions.

Mahon. He is a man of popular sympathies and regarded as personally quite incapable of desiring to make trouble.

The convention is still busy with the discussion of colonial schemes of home rule, and there does not seem to be any prospect of an early decision. The delay is not caused by any friction between the parties. It is felt to be demanded by the necessity of the case. The motto in the mind of its conductors seems to be "slow but sure." The slowness is indeed regarded by wise judges inside and outside the convention as a rather hopeful sign. Everybody is anxious for a settlement that can be offered to the country with a reasonable hope that it will capture all sections of Irish feeling and provide a basis for a government of Ireland in which all can cordially join.

Donna, a horse raised and owned by P. Irving Carney, of Sheepscot, Me., is still alive and in fine condition despite the fact that she is 31 years old. After having done her share of the work on the farm since she was four years old, Donna was excused from her place in the mowing machine, the last two seasons, but she still does all the hauling of the hay into the barn and last summer hauled in 15 loads, each of which averaged 800 to 1000 pounds.

Leading Tailors in Boston

The public has always expected more—and rightly so—from this Live Store than from any other, especially as regards Quality and Service. And we are happy to say that we shall continue to meet, and in all probability exceed, those expectations during this Fall and Winter season just as we have at all times in the past.

These are indeed peculiar times, but if the public will continue to have confidence in us—in our methods, our merchandise and our ability to shape circumstances to our customer's advantage—we will surely justify that confidence to the fullest.

This is the price you should pay for your clothes, because it insures your getting a better, longer-wearing fabric; a touch of style that stands out from the crowd; tailoring that has taken a little more time to finish off the fine points, and furthermore, this price brings LYNCH & LOTTO clothes whose equals have yet to be produced at this moderate figure.

It is true that clothing costs more than it did, but not very much more the way we operate. We went into the market for a large part of our stock months ago—years ago, in fact, on staples—and we are going to give the public the benefit of our forehandedness. A large part of our stock is actually priced lower than it would cost us to replace it today.

You often hear people speak about the tremendous volume of business we do. But perhaps you never stopped to think very much about how we got it, or how we keep it, to say nothing of how we continue to increase our business; it is by offering such values at $15.00.

Lowell Lady Had Grown Very Weak

Relates in Signed Testimonial How Plant Juice Restored Her to Health

Many such statements as the following are being made daily by the best men and women of Lowell who have been benefited by the use of Plant Juice and voluntarily tell of their relief in the hope that others may be aided and helped back to health. Plant Juice is now being taken by hundreds of Lowell people, many of whom are testifying to the beneficial results they have derived from its use in the treatment of stomach, liver and kidney trouble.

Among one of many is the signed testimonial of Mrs. Elodie Charron, who resides at No. 632 Middlesex st., and is a popular Lowell lady having a host of friends. She said:

"I have been troubled with my stomach for the past six years, and could not retain the lightest kind of food, as it would ferment and form gas; I got so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet to do my housework, and would have to lie down every little while; I had headaches, dizzy spells, could not sleep at night and seemed to have no ambition or energy to do anything; I had terrible pains in the small of my back and seemed to get worse every day. I began to take your Plant Juice and now am better and stronger in every way. I have a good appetite for my meals, sleep well and my nervous system is strengthened. I am certainly glad to endorse Plant Juice."

Such words as these and those of many others which have been printed have wide influence for they come from people of standing and integrity who have given Plant Juice a fair trial and have been greatly benefited thereby.

The Plant Juice Man is at Downtown, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

on transshipping in this country. He congratulated the local association on the excellent showing which it made at the outing.

George H. Graham of Springfield, a member of the state association, told of highways which he had visited in other sections of the country and then told what might be done in this state.

He said that negotiations were under way with the California commission to ship to this state eggs of the shad which might be hatched in local waters. The shad originally came from Massachusetts and was sent to the Pacific coast. He saw no reason why it could not be returned.

Judge Samuel P. Hadley, a veteran of the association, was the next speaker and he was received with great applause. He paid a tribute to President Harris and expressed his sympathy with the Merrimack river restocking movement. He asked that those present give a vote of appreciation to the outing committee and it was given with a will.

A number of other prominent speakers had been invited to address the gathering, but were unable to attend. Letters of regret were read from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Congressman Robert Rogers, John L. Burroughs, president of the American Game Protective and Propagation Society; E. A. Quarles, vice president of the same organization; Dr. John H. Gleason of the New Hampshire Fish and Game commission; T. E. Doremus and John S. Fanning of Delaware.

Good List of Sports

After the speechmaking a program of sports was carried out and provided several hours of enjoyment for both the participants and observers. The trip-shooting contest was perhaps the most popular of the afternoon, one hundred competitors were enrolled for the four prizes offered and when the last "bird" had been shot at, the judges announced the findings as follows: Lieut. James E. Burns and Luther W. Paulkner tied for first with 19 apiece; Lieut. Burns ceded the nineteenth silver offer by Register of Deeds William Purcell to Mr. Paulkner; Capt. Henry Boynton captured second place only after a hard fight with J. Felling, who was eventually given the third prize for fourth place; there were three competitors tied, C. W. Southern, Rowland Darby and Thos. Williamson. The winner will be decided at a shoot to be held at Chelmsford later.

The baseball game on the diamond created a lot of interest and drew seven innings of struggle between Pitts and Evans' teams. It was found that the latter aggregation had won, 7 to 2. The lineups were as follows:

Pitts' team: Pitts c. Pinner p. Perham 1b. Sherman 2b. Doolley 3b. Kelly

Evans' team: Evans c. Dyer p. Hennessey 1b. Cox 2b. Wilson 3b. Callahan 4b. O'Malley 5b. Doyle 6b. Mahoney 7th. The contest lasted out five innings and was umpired by John Redmond. The other sporting events were won as follows:

GERMANY'S FREEDOM OF SEAS

Ever since the war started, the Germans, parroted by the Austrians, have been prating over that totally bogus issue, freedom of the seas.

In their replies to the pope's last peace note they dwell upon it with the usual crafty insistence.

Sober-thinking people have been puzzled. So far as they could figure, there had been nothing but freedom of the seas before this gigantic war.

Nobody ever heard the seas were anything else than free—very much freer than life in Germany and Austria. No one even attempted to deprive the Teuton empires of the freedom of the seas.

German ships piled in every ocean, competing with British and American goods in every market. The Kaiser went steadily ahead with a big war navy. England did not even erect a tariff wall against "made in Germany" goods.

There was nothing the Germans could legitimately ask for that was not freely accorded them everywhere in the world. The one thing that excited their wrath and fear was the continuing might of the British navy. They also did not like to see our own navy keeping abreast of the times. But they knew that neither of these navies was a menace to any legitimate German aspiration.

England, an island country, was forced to maintain supremacy at sea or starve the moment an enemy declared war. The United States, for the protection of her coast and the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine, was also bound to have a considerable navy.

And it was precisely these things that irked the Prussian war masters. They knew a British navy stood between them and their hopes to bring England to her knees. They knew our American navy, if properly developed, would stand between them and their greedy designs upon South and Central America.

They do not want to be thus balked in the future. They want, if possible, to trap the allies into some kind of disarmament scheme that would mean an inferior navy for England and a similar one for America. Then Germany could pursue her evil and sinister plans unhindered. The Pan-German weekly organ "Das Grossere Deutschland" (The Greater Germany) drops the mask by printing an article by Winand Engel which it approves. In this Engel says:

"German policy is forced to make secure for itself by all conceivable means domination over the world sea. I deliberately use the expression 'domination over the world sea' not the expression 'freedom of the seas' which is so common today. The latter expression is either dishonest or stupid. The sea is free for us only if we dominate it."

There is the truth about the German canting phrases in a nutshell. When the German and Austrian kaisers maliciously reply to the pope that they desire the freedom of the seas, they are either dishonest or stupid. In the present instance, they are plainly dishonest. They are lying once more, just as they have lied so often during the course of this war.

They want German domination of the seas, not freedom of the seas. And when they gain domination of the seas, they will have all but conquered the world. Remember that, Americans.

LYNN FACTORIES WORKING

The Lynn shoe factories are open again after five months idleness due to differences which might have been settled by arbitration without the loss of a day. Who is the gainer now? What good has been accomplished by the conflict? None! So far as we can see everybody is poorer and the new arrangement will not compensate either side for their loss.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The house of representatives at Washington has formed a committee on woman suffrage. Hereafter, the judiciary committee has had to deal with this question. The suffragists naturally regard this as a victory and no doubt the pickets will claim that it is the result of their pig headedness.

Former President Taft proved a power for good among the pacifists who attended the Unitarian conference at Montreal. Following the leadership of Mr. Taft, a pacifist resolution was voted down and condemned as an "insidious document." The meeting then endorsed the policy of President Wilson and the continuance of the war until militarism as represented by Germany shall have been stamped out.

Cicero describes a room without books as a body without a soul. While Cicero was not much of a guide on spiritual things, he was an authority on things intellectual and he was right in emphasizing the value of books and particularly of good books such as we are asked to provide for the soldiers.

The state department at Washington will render a good service to the public at large if it gives out more of the names of the men who have received money for shouting for Germany and execrating England.

This war may result in a great federation of the states of South America. Already there is forming a United States of Central America.

May the scheme prosper! We have not taken as much interest in these states as we should have done, but now the community of interest is emphasized more than ever before.

Some congressmen were indignant over the insinuation that certain of their number had been influenced to favor Germany by the pally sum of $50,000. There are about seven men in congress who could not be more strongly pro-German if they had received a million each.

A study of the rules of Safety First by some of our auto operators would prevent accidents and save many lives. It is really deplorable how many fatalities result from pleasure rides in which the necessary precautions for safety are neglected.

If the hotheads in and out of Ireland who put aside the practical and advocate the impossible will only show a little patience, the Irish convention now in session will probably evolve a charter of freedom that will serve the best interests of Ireland.

The cities that have shown so little appreciation of their soldier boys as to let them depart without a demonstration are sorry for having made such a blunder. Lynn is one of these and its newspapers are voicing the city's regrets.

Among her other intrigues Germany is conducting some secret plots for a peace that will let her go free of indemnities, give her back her colonies and still leave the barbarous emperor on the throne. Such a peace seems impossible.

Everybody should help the Soldiers' Library fund. The object is most worthy and should receive most generous support from those who can afford to contribute.

Somebody besides the milk producers for Boston should fix the price. If these progressive gentlemen have their way milk will be 25 cents a quart.

Lawrence is about to purchase an athletic field. Good idea. Every respectable city should have one. Lowell has talked of buying one and nothing more.

Some widows deplore their lack of riches but they might see their lot in a different light, if they look at the fate of wealthy widows, some of whom are murdered for their money.

OCTOBER 9 WITH BE FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Tuesday, Oct. 9, has been set aside as Fire Prevention day by the State Fire Prevention committee and all the residents of this city including children and adults will be asked to do their share in cleaning the city of all rubbish or inflammable material, and within a few days Mayor James E. O'Donnell will issue a proclamation to that effect.

Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department has been appointed to represent the state fire prevention committee in this city and he will co-operate with the fire department in the carrying out of the special exercises which will be held in the schools of the city and it is probable that members of the fire department as in previous years will address the school children on fire prevention.

Chasing Deer
The superintendent of the park department has spent the greater portion of the forenoon today in chasing two deer in the enclosure at Fort Hill park, but at noon his efforts had been fruitless. The purpose of chasing the deer is to get hold of two of the bucks which will be swapped for two bucks from the Boston zoo in an attempt to prevent interbreeding at both places. The superintendent of the local park department and the men in charge of the Boston zoo have agreed to swap, but the problem that is now confronting them is to capture the deer.

Rally Open Off
The open air democratic rally for Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, candidate for governor, which was scheduled to be held this evening on the city hall steps has been called off on account of the rain.

Registration Sessions
Registration sessions will be held in the office of the registrars of voters on Oct. 8, 9, 10, 11, 15 and 16 from 2 p. m. to 3 p. m., and Oct. 17 from 12 continuously to 10 p. m.

Weekly Payroll
The payroll for the week amounts to $21,341.55 while the monthly salaries, which will be paid Monday amount to $17,601.44. Included in the latter amount is that for state aid, which totals $7,078.50.

Solicitor in Boston
City Solicitor William D. Regan went to Boston this morning to attend the third hearing in the case of the city of Lowell vs. the Lowell Trust Co. which is being conducted in the court house before Auditor Joseph Wiggin.

T. R. FORCED KAISER TO ARBITRATE IN 1902

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Colonel Roosevelt yesterday gave his version of the recent conference he held with the German ambassador in 1902, relating to the occupation of Venezuela by Germany, an incident that then threatened to bring on a war between Germany and the United States. Colonel Roosevelt told the story for the

HELPING HOOVER

Fairburn's Plan For Reducing Prices

On and after Monday, October 1st, FAIRBURN'S MARKET, Inc., will discontinue deliveries, following the successful plan of many large markets of other cities.

Prices today are alarming; in some cases they are prohibitive.

It is an undeniable fact that the people must have lower prices, but the present high prices of goods which prevail everywhere cannot be reduced unless expenses are cut to a minimum.

This situation has made a decision imperative. The first and most logical expense to cut is that of deliveries. So choice must be made between maintaining expensive deliveries and keeping up prices, on the one hand, and abolishing deliveries and reducing prices, on the other.

This market, being progressive and quick to note and obey the popular demand, has made its decision—namely, give the people what they want—Lower Prices.

As delivery expense adds approximately 10 per cent. to the cost of goods, customers will save an additional 10 per cent. average on all purchases at this Market on and after Oct. 1st.

We take this step feeling that the people of Lowell and vicinity will fully appreciate the efforts we are making to reduce the prices of necessities for them and the motive which prompts our action.

Watch the papers for our ads. and see the remarkable price reductions this plan enables us to offer you each week.

first time, he said, in an address at a luncheon here.

"It was about a year after I took office," Colonel Roosevelt began. "Germany was engaged in striving to extend her dominion. She had in view certain chosen positions in South America. She aimed to turn South America into a German appendage. Venezuela at that time had a dictator named Castro, commonly known as the 'Monkey of the Andes'."

"I was determined that Venezuela should not become a German possession. Germany said it was not to be permanent and did not define what was meant by permanence. I permitted John Hay to write a number of notes and then I sent for the German ambassador and said to him:

"This Venezuela business has been going on long enough and I cannot afford to let it get to the point where it will cause trouble for this country. 'At that time England was backing Germany and while I had both against me, I paid little attention to England. It was the last flicker of England's antagonism to the United States."

"I called the attention of the ambassador to the fact that Germany had a squadron of warships near Venezuela, threatening the mouth of the proposed isthmian canal. I demanded a statement of what Germany meant by temporary possession, saying I did not propose to have any 99-year leases."

"The ambassador told me he did not feel he was at liberty to discuss such an important question. That conference wound up with the following ultimatum:

"Tell your government that in 10 days it must arbitrate the matter or I will send Dewey down there."

"I cannot send such a message, Mr. President. I do not think you realize what it means," the ambassador replied.

"You think it means war?" I asked.

"I do not want to say what I think was the reply."

"If it means war, you have chosen the one spot where you cannot fight," I replied, and then I showed by maps our commanding position.

"When he retired I sent word to Dewey to be ready to sail on an hour's notice. About a week later the ambassador called on me, and admitted that he had not dared send the message."

"I then told him that I would order Dewey to sail in 48 hours. He told me it would be an awful thing for this country."

"Yes, but it will be more awful for your country," I replied.

"Inside of 36 hours he came back smiling and said he had received instructions from the German government that they would arbitrate."

SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE NOT YET SETTLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The strike of 30,000 metal trade unionists here, which was to have been ended today, was indefinitely prolonged late last night when members of the Boilermakers' union, voted not to return to work under the terms of a temporary agreement made Sunday and which had been accepted by a majority of the unions affiliated with the Iron Trades Council.

The employers issued a statement announcing that as a result of this action the plants would remain closed today and that any plants which opened inadvertently would be shut down Saturday.

The action of the boilermakers will paralyze indefinitely all work on one-eighth of the entire shipbuilding contracts let by the United States government. Work has been suspended 11 days owing to the strike and the temporary agreement was signed Sunday by labor leaders only at the urgent request of President Wilson who appealed to the patriotism of the men.

The Boilermakers' union is one of the four organizations affiliated with the Iron Trades Council that voted against acceptance of the temporary agreement. The Boilermakers' face suspension from the Iron Trades Council for their action, it was announced today.

10,000 To Strike Tomorrow
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—Representatives of the Seattle steel shipbuilding plants and the strike committee of the metal trades council were to meet today to discuss the impending work-out of approximately 10,000 workers, ordered for tomorrow.

While both sides said the strike seemed inevitable it was thought there was a possibility of a settlement because which would avert it provided more conclusive assurances were received of just what the federal shipping board will do in regard to the metal demands for an increase in wages of 25 per cent.

To Investigate Unrest
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Members of the special commission headed by Secretary Wilson and appointed by the president to investigate labor unrest in the west, today were completing final arrangements for the trip which will be made Monday. Included in the itinerary are Arizona, California, Utah, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and possibly New Mexico.

An intensive study of local conditions in each state together with conferences with governors, manufacturers and labor leaders will reveal the basic causes, it is hoped, of the industrial troubles which have impeded the nation's war program.

DELAY ACTION ON ALIEN SLACKER BILL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Objections to enactment of any alien slacker legislation at present, voiced by Secretary Lansing before the house military affairs committee, resulted yesterday in a committee vote to postpone action indefinitely.

Chairman Dent later said that the secretary's statement that the state department was negotiating with other countries to effect a result equivalent to enactment of "alien slackers" legislation was largely responsible for the vote. These negotiations will be completed, the secretary said, before a second draft call is issued.

Representative Burnell, chairman of the immigration committee, declared after hearing of the action of the military affairs committee, that he would seek through the rules committee to obtain consideration on the floor of his "slacker" bill. It is similar to the Chamberlain resolution already passed by the senate.

JAPANESE MISSION AT TOMB OF GEN. GRANT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Members of the imperial Japanese mission to the United States, headed by Viscount Ishii today began the second day of their visit to New York with a sightseeing trip through downtown streets. Following a reception and luncheon at the chamber of commerce shortly after noon the visitors were to be taken on a tour around Manhattan Island after which they were to visit the tomb of Gen. Grant where Viscount Ishii will lay a wreath and where a military review will take place. Tonight the visitors will be the guests of Mayor Mitchell's reception committee at dinner.

This Is Camp Library Week

Only Today and Tomorrow Remain in Which to Complete Raising a Million Dollars for a Million Books for a Million Men

Germany immediately supplied libraries to its fighting units. Great Britain has four agencies doing this work. We must see that good books follow the soldier! In the lonely, unoccupied hours in camp a good book is not a bad companion.

The Secretary of War has appointed the Library War Council of the American Library Association to raise one million dollars, buy books, build and maintain libraries in every Training Camp and Cantonment of U. S. Soldiers, Sailors and Airmen at home and abroad.

Now England's share is $380,000; Massachusetts, $200,000; Lowell's, share is $50,000.

WE MUST GIVE AND GIVE AND GIVE UNTIL IT HURTS, THEN SMILE, AND GIVE AGAIN.

Simply leave money at or send to the City Library or any Bank. Make checks payable to "Library War Council," or J. Harry Boardman, Treas.

YACHT AMERICA PURCHASED

Scrap Heap Not to Be Fate of Old-Time Cup Winner

Yacht Was Owned by Family of the Late Gen. Butler

America, the most famous of all racing yachts in the world, has been saved from the junk heap or the ignominy of being converted into a Cape Verde trader. Yesterday morning she was purchased by a new member of the Eastern Yacht club of Marblehead, who had become interested in the fate of the historic craft through the efforts of C. H. W. Foster of that organization. The title in the boat has been placed in the hands of Secretary Henry Taggard of the Eastern Yacht club, selling as an individual.

The title to the old boat that ever "flicked the cup that bears its name" passed to the syndicate of Eastern Yacht club members from the family of the late Gen. Benjamin B. Butler, through the offices of the Kells Yacht agency, which represented the owners, and David W. Simpson, representing the purchasers.

Ever since this yacht was put upon the market, a month or so ago, yachtsmen throughout the country have become interested in the final fate of the craft, and a week ago the men in the syndicate started a movement that was consummated in the purchase yesterday.

In her 67 years of life, America has had but two owners and for nearly a half century she has been in the Butler family. The United States government owned her once, and used her as a despatch boat. It was the only time she ever raced for the America's cup in this country, and this is the only time Uncle Sam ever went into the yacht racing game. She lost the race, but another American craft won the race and saved the day.

During the time that Gen. Butler was alive, America was under sail and in commission much of the time and in spite of her age and design, she held her own against many of the more modern schooners. She once led the fleet of New York and Eastern Yacht club yachts from Newport to Marblehead, around Cape Cod, defeating Constellation, now flagship of the Eastern Yacht club, and considered one of the fastest of her type afloat.

Although much altered in rig and interior fittings from the day she first sailed around the last world's cup, she brought the cup to America, her general lines are the same. She has been afloat summer and winter either at Chelsea bridge or the Summer street bridge for years and has not been in commission for 15 years.

In order to find out just what her condition was, she was towed down to the Baker Yacht basin at Quincy and hauled out on the railway for an inspection. Her bottom, which has been coppered, was found in excellent condition and the craft seems about to spend a few more years as a yacht, if the owners desire. The rig that she wears at present was designed by Edward Burgess, designer of the cup boats Puritan and Volunteer, but it will not take much money to replace the original rig.

She has been launched again and is at present at the Butler family. Although the Butler family has had several offers for the schooner in years past from people who make a business of junking, lead and metal, they refused to entertain such offers, as they believed a craft with such a record deserved a better fate. They have never offered her for sale before this year, and yachtsmen in this section express themselves as well satisfied with the outcome. At the time that the America's cup race was scheduled, four years ago, New York Yacht club members and owners to put this old racing yacht under sail and take her over to Sandy Hook for an attraction, and this might have been done had not the war made it impossible to have the race.

America was built under a contract by former Commodore Stevens and a syndicate of New York Yacht club members, the price being $30,000. If she could beat any yacht then afloat, in her very first race she lost, but Commodore Stevens decided to take her, although the price was reduced and in the next year she went across under her own sails and defeated the pick of European yachts in the race that made international yacht racing what it is today.

Yachtsmen from abroad have tried since 1851 up to the present time to get that cup back, but they have failed. The trophy was known as the Queen's cup and was given by the late Queen Victoria. Its value in dollars and cents is as much as many of the others that grace the trophy rooms of the New York Yacht clubhouse, but its value as a racing trophy cannot be measured with money. Millions of dollars have been spent to get this cup back to England and millions have been spent to associate the taking away of a trophy which a $25,000 schooner yacht captured at a time when English designers and skippers were thought to be about the best in the world.

SUN BREVITIES

Next week is "Quarter Week" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

Miss Irene Laffey has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent in Providence, R. I.

Miss Sadie Snow has returned to the city after spending a month in Hartland, New Brunswick.

Arthur Lewis, motorman for the Fay State Railway Co. will spend the next two weeks at Forest, Maine.

Joseph Costa, aged four years, and living at 203 Gorham street, sustained a fracture of the left leg about 7.30 o'clock last night. The injury was run over by one of Davis Sargent's automobile trucks in South street. The ambulance was summoned and the boy was taken to St. John's hospital.

Another of the successful Saturday evening dances will be given at Aspinwall hall tomorrow evening. In addition to the dance, new colored lanterns will be introduced. The music will be furnished by Broderick's orchestra. All in search of a good time should direct their steps to Aspinwall hall tomorrow and there they will have the time of their happy lives.

Manuel Perry, residing at 123 Cushman street, while at work on the addition to the Bartlett school in Winaland street this morning, fell from a scaffolding and sustained lacerations about the face and scalp. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell Corporation hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chadwick of Washington, D. C., who have been spending a few weeks' vacation with relatives in the city, here last night tendered a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Laviole. Many friends of the couple were present and a general good time was enjoyed. A musical and dance program was arranged out, those taking part being Misses Agnes and Bertha Condon, Maniche Frémeau and Messrs. Frank Marshall and Arthur B. Chadwick. A buffet luncheon was served and the party broke up wishing Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick a pleasant journey homeward.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Unless Louis Pelletier lives up to the promise he made to Judge Enright in police court this morning he will spend seven months in the house of correction at Cambridge. Several weeks ago Pelletier appeared before the court on a complaint charging him with non-support of his family and upon promising to take care of his wife and children he was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction. Of late he has been drinking and yesterday when he came home he abused his wife and she had to complain to Patrolmen Kennedy and Castles who placed the man under arrest. In court this morning he entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness, but the testimony offered by the officers was sufficient to cause the court to make a finding of guilty and he was given a suspended sentence of three months in the house of correction and was also informed that if he did not pay his wife $7 a week he would have to serve the four months' sentence which had been suspended.

Case Placed on File

John J. Meehan entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with larceny of articles from the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, but owing to the fact that his mother pleaded that he be given a chance and the railroad officials were willing if restitution be made, the case was placed on file on condition that he make restitution in the sum of $25 and pay the expenses of the trial, $14.60, the major portion of the latter being for railroad expenses for Officer White of the railroad. Meehan

Drunken Offenders

David Liston entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunkenness and admitted that he had owed a fine of $8 for the past two years. He was given one month in which to pay the fine, the present case being placed on the files of the court.

John Welch, drunkenness, was fined $10 and William J. Ward, who is on parole from the state farm, will be returned to that institution. Angus Banton, John Hart, Annie Borner and Catherine Casserly, were having a little social gathering in a house yesterday when the police were attracted to the scene by the noise which emanated therefrom and arrested that the condition of the quartet warranted their being sent to the police station. In court this morning the two men were each sentenced to one month in jail and appeals were entered. The Bernier woman was placed on probation while the case against the Casserly woman was continued until tomorrow morning.

MATRIMONIAL

Thomas Mahon, Jr., and Miss Mary A. Murray were married Sept. 26 at the Sacred Heart rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Fr. Mahan, O. M. I. George McGuire acted as best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Annie Vaughan. Mr. and Mrs. Mahon, who received numerous wedding gifts, will make their home at 12 Agawam street after an extended wedding trip.

M'ADDOO TALKS ON LIBERTY LOAN

Calls Bernstorff "the Adroit and Malevolent German Ambassador"

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—Vast over subscription of the three billion dollar second Liberty loan, was confidently predicted by Secretary McAdoo in an address here today before the American Bankers' association, calling upon the bankers to give the same patriotic support to the new bond issue that they gave to the first. "It has been urged upon me," said the secretary, "that many men of wealth will refuse to buy the 4 per cent. bond with liability to super income taxation. I should be loath to believe this; but if it is true, the position of the government must always be to offer a bond upon terms fair and equitable to all alike and which will make the widest possible appeal to all the people without regard to the fact that a man may be rich or poor. It has been suggested to me that patriotism should play no part in the sale of gov't. bonds. I do not concede this, although I believe the American people will buy these 4 per cent. government bonds on their merits. Patriotism is, first, love of country above everything—above life itself; second, love of country combined with that vital interest in the nation's welfare and safety which will make secure the material interests of each individual and promote his happiness and prosperity.

"If this be true, the man of wealth, with patriotism or modified patriotism or without patriotism has a greater stake in the security of the government than any other class, because if the government's credit is destroyed and disaster comes upon the country, as it inevitably will if the government's credit falls, what is properly worth to the rich man, what is life worth to the free man?"

Emphasizing the tremendous financial task ahead of the nation, Mr. McAdoo pointed out that it would be necessary to raise between 13 and 14 billion dollars by additional bond issues before June 30, 1918. This will not be easy, he said, but it can be done by everybody, banker, business man and man and women in every walk of life joining.

too often because of the efforts of noisy agitators and disloyal writers to confuse the issue. Much of this provocation, he said, probably had been carried on with money left behind for the purpose of von Bernstorff, the adroit and malevolent German ambassador.

While it is true that America went to war to make liberty and democracy secure throughout the world, said Mr. McAdoo, it must be remembered that she entered it also for a more immediate reason—the wanton disregard of American rights and ruthless destruction of American life and property. If the United States had acquiesced in the Kaiser's order that its shipping stay off the seas, he declared, $5,000,000,000 of American commerce with Great Britain, France and Italy would have been cut off and with "one stroke of his pen the Kaiser would have accomplished more destruction to our farms, in our factories and in our mines than he could achieve with all the armies and navies of the German empire."

GROW RYE TO SAVE WHEAT

In our effort to grow more and use less wheat, so that we may have more to send to our allies, it seems strange that so little has been said about rye, which can be grown to advantage where wheat would fail.

This seems to be New England's opportunity. New England might not do much as a wheat grower, but it can produce rye. In writing for Rural Life, Dr. Horton says: "Rye has shared with the potato the distinction of being the football among crops. The potato is to occupy another place in the near future. Why not the rye crop?"

"Rye will reclaim the barren, sandy wastes in many places and will make cheap lands increase many times in value. It goes into the winter with a well developed root system and spring finds the plant well advanced in development and in shape to make a quick finish before the effect of winter moisture is lost."

Besides that a supply of rye in the farm granary will help cut old H.C.I. Home-made bread from home-grown flour is just about as good as the best of them. Why not a million or two acres of rye for New England?

Fall Seeding

There is no better time to seed land to grass than in the late summer or early autumn, says Dr. H. J. Wheeler in New England Homestead. "It is especially advantageous on land infested with weeds." Nearly all agronomists agree that fall seeding produces the cleanest meadows.

Dr. Wheeler says no grasses are better than timothy and red-top. They may be used alone or mixed as the market may demand. The seed-bed should be rolled after seeding to compact the soil and help bring water to the surface.

Dr. Wheeler does not advise the use of barnyard manure for top-dressing grass lands. It is better used on food crops. If the land has been in grass for several years, it is a good thing to apply 200 to 500 pounds of complete fertilizer per acre at the time of seeding.

More Cover Crops

The Rural New Yorker has started a cover crop campaign with an editorial calling for 3,000,000 acres of cover crops in New York state this fall. "A bare cornfield should be looked upon as evidence of poor farming or some big misfortune."

Rural Life says: "Arrostook county, away down east in Maine is the leading potato producing county in the United States. In its deep, mellow, ash-like soil are produced enormous crops. This is accomplished by the liberal use of commercial fertilizers. This records show that during the 12-months ending June 1, 1916, the Bangor and Arrostook railway hauled into the county 57,000 tons of fertilizer and for the 11 months ending May 1, 1917, a total of 92,000 tons of fertilizer, and this does not include the heavy shipments made during May.

Arrostook farmers keep their soil well filled with humus by green manuring, therefore the crop is able to utilize large quantities of fertilizer to advantage.

With manure becoming more scarce and expensive each year successful farmers must turn to green manure crops. It has been demonstrated time and again that farmers can maintain fertility with green manures and fertilizer, and never feel the loss of into the cow in the hope of getting them back from the manure. Keep cows for the profit on milk and butter, but don't stand a loss on the milk because you must have manure. Grow green crops to plow under. It is cheaper, and you don't have to work at it 365 days in the year. Take a Sunday off now and then. It will do you good.

Rebuilding Old Pastures

Prof. E. G. Montgomery writes: "There are millions of acres of old pastures that for years farmers have realized should be broken up, farmed a year or two and re-seeded to good pasture grasses. These pastures are poor because they were never sown to pasture grasses."

"Now is the time to break them up and reseed to a good pasture."

"Old meadows need the same treatment. Never a better opportunity for this, than for the next year or two while the price of grain is high."

"Use a little fertilizer on old pasture or meadow land. It generally pays well. At present prices, use 200 to 300 pounds of acid phosphate, or, better still, phosphatic manure, 2 to 3 per cent. of nitrogen."—Board's Dairyman.

Acid Phosphate vs. Raw Rock

"Which would you regard as the better buy for use on wheat this fall, 16 per cent. acid phosphate or raw rock phosphate, the former to cost $19.50 delivered and the latter $8?"—Subscriber.

"I assume that our correspondent is planning to phosphate his wheat this fall in the hope of getting results in the wheat harvest of 1918. If such is the case, he may expect a better financial return from the investment in acid phosphate."—Ohio Farmer.

The high cost of fertilizers this fall has caused many farmers to turn to raw rock phosphate in the hope that it will do just as well. The theory is that organic matter in the soil makes raw rock phosphate available. It has, however, never been proven that organic matter does have this effect. The Massachusetts station turned under heavy crops of rye and buckwheat and strict greenwards, to see if they had any effect on the raw rock phosphate, but to no avail. For 17 years the Ohio station applied rock phosphate on one plot as against acid phosphate on another turning under a clover sod in both cases once in three years. The results show that in the second period (eight years) the acid phosphate has shown greater gain over rock phosphate than the first period. It would seem from these results that acid phosphate is not only a better short time proposition, but a better investment over a period of years as well.

Fertilize Cover Crop

Mr. A. E. Granham, in the County Gentleman says:

"Crimson clover is a heavy feeder of mineral plantfood—phosphoric acid and potash—especially the latter. The general farm practice is to apply fertilizer only to the preceding crop, the clover feeding on that left in the soil." Many of the failures with cover crops are due to the lack of available plantfood to start the cover crop. A little nitrogen should be applied to start growth and more phosphoric acid and potash, if the latter can be obtained. This is especially true on poor, sandy soils, and where the cover crop follows a crop which has not been adequately fertilized.

Gardeners' association in one of the leading agricultural journals brings to our attention the possibilities of farm produce advertising. This is a field which has never been opened and one which ought to have great possibilities. It may be used to create a want for good things from the farm to relieve a glutted market by calling the attention of consumers to bargains in vegetables and should be an excellent means of bringing the consumer and producer closer together. The need exists and it requires only some live advertising man to develop it. Here is a chance for the managers of county or city newspapers to co-operate with produce associations to work out a scheme of this kind which cannot help but be a benefit. The farmer is isolated more than any other class or profession. "It pays to advertise" ought to be a slogan for him even more than it is for the city business man.

The comrades and their wives were given an automobile ride about the city, the cars being furnished by citizens. Concerts were given by the Regimental Drum corps.

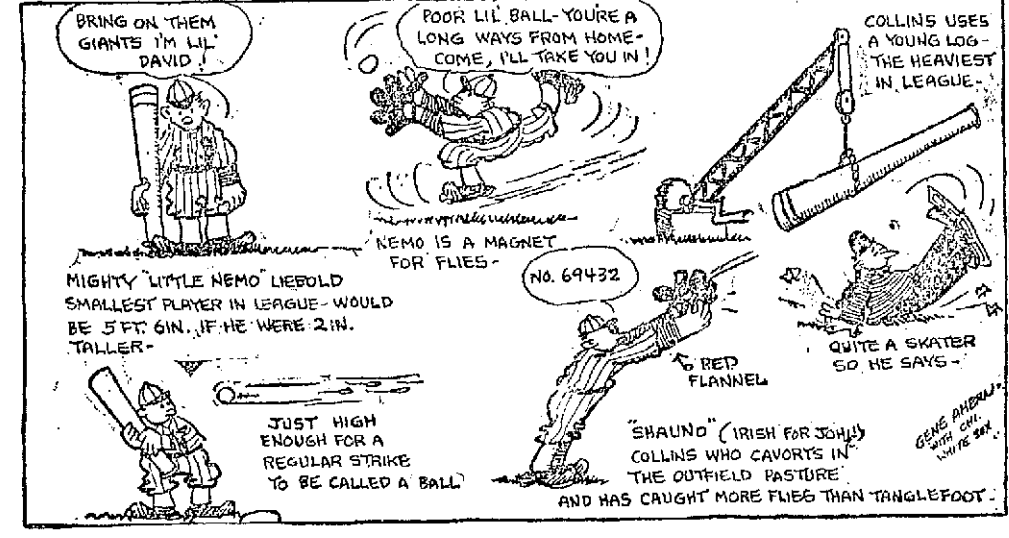

Pekin, China, has its first woman school director in the person of Mrs. Chu Piu-shia, who has been appointed director of the Pekin Girls' Normal school by Fan Yuan-hien, China's minister of education. Mrs. Chu is a young Wellesley graduate, and since her return to China has been editor-in-chief of the Women's Magazine published in Shanghai.

GIANTS TO IGNORE THE SHINE BALL

BY PAUL PURMAN

With the Giants: John McGraw will meet psychology with psychology. If Eddie Cicotte's shine ball is more of a ruse to keep opposing batters guessing McGraw is ready to meet that and send his men against the knuckleball artist with confidence that he has nothing on them.

McGraw will not admit it, but he evidently had some inside hunch that the remarkable success of the shine ball was due, as Cicotte himself told the writer, more to the belief of the batsman that he had something phony on the ball than to the fact that he was actually using anything.

For weeks McGraw has been drilling his players against the possibility of even considering that Cicotte or Danforth are using a shine ball.

His theory is similar to that of Cicotte.

"If you think a pitcher has something on you, he has," McGraw has repeatedly warned his men.

The effect has been that the Giants believe the shine ball is a myth and are ready to combat it as such.

"The shine ball is not bothering me," McGraw said. "If there is anything wrong with the ball it is up to the umpire to look out for it and the national commission to rule on it so far as the world series goes. I don't believe it does the players any good to worry about it."

Since Dan Johnson and the American League umpires have never seen fit to take any action against Cicotte's ball this year it likely it will be ruled out in the world series.

McGraw is very crafty. If he thought there was anything wrong with the ball he would have a complaint to make.

That he will not do so is almost a foregone conclusion.

CROWD OF 32,000 AT THE ROCHESTER FAIR

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Sept. 28.—More than 32,000 attended the annual Rochester fair at Cold Spring park yesterday. The absence of special trains from points in New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts is given as the reason for the attendance dropping more than 3000 below that of one year ago on the third day. More than 5500 automobiles were parked on the grounds soon after the noon hour.

Yesterday was governor's day, when Gov. Keyes was the guest of the association and was entertained during the afternoon by Councilor Charles W.

The racing in the free-for-all pace and 216 trot was run off in three straight heats. In all three races the favorites failed and there were several surprises. In the free-for-all, Fred Russell, not considered to have a chance, surprised the bunch.

The first accident on the track during the meet happened in the second heat, when Mud Lake was crowded into the fence on the first turn breaking a shaft, going around the track once with the shaft broken. The driver had a close call. He was allowed to start.

MISS HARRIS M. WINS AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 28.—Fifteen heats were raced yesterday and the final contest, which would have ended before darkness had Lee made a drive behind Doris Watts in the sixth heat, of the 113 trot. He finished third. The mare was taken charge of by the judges and a different driver will be behind her today. Stout made a similar effort in the unfinished 115 trot and that race went to Michaelowa. All the heats made after the fifth heat were declared off.

William, 1:58 1/2, was again behind the money in the free-for-all pace. He was favorite, too, but he lacked the old-time brush in the stretch. Miss Harris M was in fine form.

Ren All, who has been resting for a few weeks, took up the challenge of Peter Nash, a well-backed favorite in the richest event, the Arch City 210 pace, purse $2000. Peter won the Hartman event so easily here last week, best heat, 1:01 1/2, that he was considered unbeatable. General York took the 211 trot in straight heats. Jeannette Speed was favorite.

A gale blowing up the home stretch accounted for the comparatively slow time in the fast paces.

Highland hall was taxed to its capacity last evening when the Lydonia girls, a popular young ladies' club, held a dancing party. Music for the dancing was furnished by the Highland orchestra. The following young ladies were responsible for the success of the affair: Miss Beulah J. French, general manager; Miss Sarah Cowdell, assistant general manager; Miss Josie McDer-mott, floor director; Miss Alice Trevelyan, large but not least, a model in the Misses Gertrude McMahon, Emma Cowdell, Helen Lynch, Clara Dan-nelly and Margaret McMahon. Miss Nellie Poye was treasurer.

MILK PRODUCERS VIOLATE LAWS

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Following the seizure of records of the Milk Producers' association, composed of 340 of the largest producers of Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana and the taking of witnesses before a grand jury, Jas. M. Wilkerson, first assistant attorney general, made public a statement today in which he declared the producers "have violated every anti-trust law, both state and federal, in every way possible."

Regarding the announcement made by milk distributors that on next Monday the price of milk in Chicago will be raised from 10 to 13 cents a quart, Mr. Wilkerson said his office is awaiting the jump in price with great interest.

An examination of the documents seized by the state authorities caused Wilkerson to declare that the producers' body is guilty of arbitrarily fixing prices, of maintaining blacklists, of forming pools illegally and of establishing boycotts.

PREMIER KERENSKY AT DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS

PETROGRAD, Sept. 25.—Premier Kerensky addressed the democratic congress at its first session today in the Municipal theatre, receiving applause which came principally from the less radical groups of delegates. He spoke in forceful style, with the air of challenging his opponents. The address was largely a defense of the acts of the government under his premiership.

M. Kerensky was interrupted frequently by shouts from one group and another, which led at times to altercations lasting several minutes. At one point when the premier spoke of the refusal of the soldiers and workmen's delegates of Helsingfors to oppose the reopening of the Finnish diet, although the government had forbidden it, the Bolsheviks burst into loud cheers.

"Cher, my friends, if you will," said M. Kerensky, when he was able to make himself heard, "but bear in mind that a German fleet is moving up the Baltic."

The delegates of the right jeered the Bolsheviks, asking them why they did not cheer the premier's remarks, inasmuch as the Germans were their friends.

EARLY SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE EXPECTED

CHICAGO, Sept. 25.—Representatives of the switchmen and trainmen of the Elgin, Joliet & Eastern railroad, a belt line for the steel mills of Gary, Joliet and South Chicago, who unexpectedly went on strike yesterday, and officials of the road met here today for the purpose of bringing about a settlement of their differences.

The number of men involved is estimated at between 1300 and 1500. They are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America. Both labor leaders and officials of the road before the conference today, predicted that the trouble would be settled before night.

Although the walk out endangers operations in certain portions of the steel plants it was stated by company officials that the situation was not serious and that government war contracts would not be interfered with unless the strike should be a protracted one.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks to our many relatives, friends and neighbors, who by their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy helped so much to lighten the burden placed upon us by the death of our beloved father, Mr. Anthony McDermott. We are especially thankful to those who so kindly sent floral offerings and spiritual bouquets, and one and all shall always be held in grateful remembrance.

Miss Helen McDermott,

PROBE REFUSED

They are Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, Representatives Mason and Britton of Illinois, and Buer of North Dakota.

Mr. Hefflin declared also that he wanted "to ask some questions" of Representative Norton of North Dakota, who denounced Mr. Hefflin on the floor of the house for statements reflecting on members of congress.

Hefflin Speech Halted

Mr. Hefflin's speech was made at a meeting of the house committee on rules, which has before it three resolutions inspired by the revelations of Count von Bernstorff's message to his home government asking for $50,000 to influence members of congress.

One of the resolutions introduced by Representative Doolittle of Kansas, calls for a general investigation of German propaganda, with a view to establishing the identity of the "organizers" named in the Bernstorff message.

Soon after the Hefflin speech, which was at times of unusual bitterness, Representative Britton, one of the members named in the Bernstorff message, declared a statement.

Mr. Hefflin yesterday morning was unopposed in his condemnation, said he wanted to inquire about correspondence of certain members who had written in one vein to their constituents and acted another in congress, and who had written in one vein to one set of constituents and another way to other constituents.

Mr. Hefflin declared he wanted to ascertain who were preparing to join the organization which sent Representative Buer to congress, the National Non-Partisan league.

Mr. Hefflin emphasized a desire that in ordering an investigation congress take into the account members and the sources of money for carrying on a propaganda and distributing over the country literature relating to anti-Americanism, and the resolution of Representative Britton to exempt German-Americans from military service abroad.

He denied that he had written in one vein to one set of constituents and another way to other constituents.

Mr. Hefflin said he understood certain members wanted to expel him from congress and would have voted to do so without giving him a hearing. "I would have worn it as a badge of honor," he shouted. He declared that if he were put out he would take his case before the American people.

The rules committee went into executive session after the Hefflin speech. It was decided to defer action until today, when another meeting will be held.

Broad Investigation Expected

Representative Doolittle of Kansas said he would call for Secretary of War Wood to call on Secretary Davis of the department of justice, and that they did not oppose a general investigation into German propaganda.

Representative Norton asked the committee first to give attention to the Bernstorff and Norton resolutions, so the "house cleaning" might begin at home.

It was the impression among members of congress that the rules committee would report some resolution for an investigation and that it would be broadened so as to learn the identity of the organizers and organizers of the propaganda.

Wants Hefflin Investigated First

"The only interest I have in this matter," said Representative Norton, "is the interest that every member of the house has to have an investigation of the reports in newspapers of remarks by Representatives Hefflin and Howard. I consider those very serious charges. I know of nothing more damaging than the charges that members have been giving a hearing."

He declared it was only fair to Hefflin and Howard that they and the newspapermen who made the reports come before the committee under oath.

"If there are any members guilty of the charge made they should be expelled from congress, and if these members made the charges falsely proper action should be taken against them," Mr. Norton said.

"Let's clean out our own house first. If these newspapermen have without authority sent reports broadcast they ought to be punished. The murdering of 10 members of the house this morning would not do as much harm as the charges falsely made."

Hefflin Threatens Norton

"I do not propose that the investigation of the corruption fund shall be taken up until we have cleaned out our own house," Mr. Hefflin declared.

sidetracked for an investigation of Mr. Hefflin's speech. Mr. Hefflin said he thought "it could get out of the committee. He charged that certain members would like to get him out of the way before an investigation is started."

Mr. Norton is not the only one who would like to get me out of the way before an investigation is made," Mr. Hefflin declared, turning to Mr. Norton, who endeavored to interrupt, but was stopped.

"You wouldn't permit an interruption from me the other day," Mr. Hefflin said, "and now you say about you before the investigation committee if it is created."

Attacks Two Newspapers
He charged that two Washington newspapers, the Star and the Times, had made false reports as to alleged statements from the White House condemning his statements, that he could not get out of congress.

"They published those lies yesterday and used the president to further their devilish purpose," he said angrily.

Turning to Mr. Norton he continued: "I dare him to vote for my expulsion. At this investigation I want to ask about the Mason bill—about their correspondence (referring to congressmen)—I want to know how many are in a secret compact to fight the investigation of German propaganda—how many will support Britain's bill to exempt German-American citizens from service. Let us see who has furnished the postage stamps required by the Bernstorff message."

Representative Wood of Indiana asked as to reports that Mr. Hefflin had charged those were gambling houses where pro-German members were holding sessions.

"I did not say members," replied Hefflin.

Names La Follette and Buer
Continuing, he declared: "I want to know who is in the organization that La Follette is championing in the country that will leave the president without an army. I want you to name a committee to investigate this Bernstorff message. Let us see if the men leave it to their constituents to say whether I am right or not."

"Don't their constituents know how they stand now?" queried Representative Doolittle of Kansas.

"Some talk one way to one set of constituents and one way to another," retorted Mr. Hefflin.

"They say," he continued, "that Representative Buer is being paid by men repudiating the war. If there are any others preparing to join them let's name them."

"If I want to know who has had the literature circulated on the Britton bill," said Mr. Hefflin, reverting to that, "who has spent hundreds of thousands of dollars in efforts to repeal the draft. That is the work of German spies."

Wants Parties to Name Committee
Mr. Hefflin intimated he might name the men he has in mind before congress, but he would not name the committee is named or not.

"Nobody doubts my loyalty," he said in defense of his position. He demanded a house cleaning. Mr. Hefflin declared he was going to put the members on record and that he would have a list of questions to ask. "They can't write home one way and act another," he said.

Mr. Hefflin said he wanted the special committee selected by the various parties represented in the house, democratic, republican and independents.

"Would you be satisfied for the speaker to name them?" queried Mr. Norton.

"No," replied Mr. Hefflin bluntly. Mr. Hefflin's statement said: "Mr. Hefflin has done more than any one man in congress to destroy the efficiency of the army and the navy. I shall insist on the investigation of the resolutions calling for a complete investigation with a view to severely censuring Hefflin at the bar of the house."

After being refused state aid on the grounds that she was not legally married to the father of her child, a foreign woman left her six-months' old baby on the floor of the office of the state aid department at city hall yesterday afternoon and made an attempt to rush out of the building, but she was proved no match for Mrs. Mary F. McCrann, assistant superintendent of the department, who quickly grabbed her and made her take along her child.

BRITISH HOLD GAINS
RUSSIAN VICTORY

The Kitties were in Lowell last night—and Lowell knew it.

When the 4 o'clock train pulled in from Boston at 4:41 yesterday afternoon on board were the Kitties, the Fifth Royal Highlanders of Canada—The Black Watch—30 of them besides their band and officers—officers who have fought the Hun in France and Flanders, who have been wounded and are now on this side of the Atlantic recovering and who at the end of their tour in this country will go back to the front to finish the fight.

An immense crowd was on hand at the depot to welcome the men, famed as were the Gordon Highlanders as the ones who protected the rear of the British on the retreat from Mons. The station platforms were blocked and the men were thronged with people anxious to get as close a view as possible of the fighting Kitties.

BRITISH LOOKING FOR MEN IN LOWELL

The British recruiting mission has opened up headquarters at the war work room at 119 Merrimack street and is hard at work rounding up British and Canadian subjects for the British forces. Besides the office in Merrimack street a sub-station has been opened in the office of the Massachusetts mill, where applicants for admission are examined. The actual registration takes place in Merrimack street and then the men are escorted to the mill office, where Capt. A. T. MacWilliams, the examining doctor, is on hand to say whether the applicants come up to the physical requirements of the British forces.

BRITAIN'S ATTITUDE TOWARD PEACE

LONDON, Sept. 28.—Viscount Milner, minister without portfolio in the British war council, speaking today at the American Luncheon club, declared against any peace with the "unrepentant German rulers."

Touching on the entry of the United States into the war and the moral significance of it, Lord Milner evoked a tremendous outburst from those at the luncheon when he said: "I feel that your country and mine are now united by something far stronger than any written pact or alliance, namely, by an absolute unity of motive and aim or aim."

Viscount Milner's speech obviously was an answer to the peace talk which has been filtering from Germany in past weeks. He declared that it was the intention of the contents allies to pursue "unflinchingly and resolutely to the end," their crusade so that the "world shall be a better place than it has been before—a world dominated by other law than the law of the jungle."

160 INDICTED IN
I. W. W. PLOT

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—More than 160 leaders of the Industrial Workers of the World, engaged in the alleged nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government in carrying on the war, have been indicted by the federal grand jury.

Persons resident in almost every section of the country are named in the indictments.

Seditious Conspiracy

Seditious conspiracy—the crime nearest to treason within the definition of the criminal code—is charged. This offense is punishable by six years imprisonment or $5000 fine or both.

Indictments are understood to be based upon revelations brought to light in the recent country-wide seizure by federal authorities of documents and correspondence of the I. W. W. in approximately 50 towns and cities.

These documents are understood to have revealed the existence of a conspiracy, the most far-reaching in the history of nation-wide conspiracies, to hamper the government in the prosecution of the war by resistance to the draft law, by fomenting labor disturbances, by burning crops and forests and in numerous other ways.

A comparatively small coterie of men is understood to have directed the entire movement.

Over Ton of Evidence

The evidence laid before the grand jury which was of such volume as actually to weigh a ton or more, is said to show a nation-wide conspiracy to hamper the government in almost every conceivable way with ramifications into virtually every state.

It concerned anti-draft demonstrations, clipping of war industries by so-called strikes, burning of wheat fields, burning of timber which the government was planning to use for airplane construction and a continuous anti-ally and anti-war propaganda.

LOWELL GOODS GOING TO FOREIGN PORTS

In order that the United States government may keep tabs on the various goods that are shipped from this country to foreign ports it is now necessary that the sender secure a license from Washington or else the consignment will be held up at New York or some other large seaport. Many Lowell manufacturers are not familiar with this new law, because it only went into effect a few days ago, and goods that have been shipped recently may have been held up. In several instances Lowell concerns have been notified that the goods were being held pending the arrival of a license to ship them.

At the present time the United States is doing a big export business to South America and many Lowell concerns are now directing their attention to that country where there is a big field for Lowell made goods. There are many things manufactured in this city which would find a ready market in South America, but many did not realize it until the outbreak of the war when products from Germany could not reach those countries.

The reason for the government demanding that a license accompany each shipment is in order that the United States may keep track of the goods and that they are not consigned to any of the central powers.

At the present time application for licenses must be made to the bureau of export licenses, 1425 K street, N. W., Washington, D. C. The license is good for 60 days and if not used within that time another application must be made.

ARGENTINE PRESIDENT AGAINST BREAK

BUENOS AIRES, Sept. 28.—President Trigoen is preparing a message in reply to the request made by congress that the diplomatic relations between Argentina and Germany be broken.

The president, it is understood, contends that it is impossible to break off relations with Germany because of the Luxemburg incident, the government considering this affair to have been adjusted by the German foreign office's explanation.

U. S. ARMY AND NAVY
OFFICERS IN PLOT

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—Five members of the United States aviation corps, an army recruiting officer and two navy ensigns are said by federal officials to be involved in a plot against the government alleged to have been headed by Erwin Frederick Schneider of the German navy and Theodore Kasinger, department store employee, both of whom were taken into custody here recently.

This disclosure came last night as the result of an order from the department of justice providing for the immediate removal of Schneider and Kasinger from the country jail and an internment camp on Angel Island which contains Franz Bopp, former German consul general here, and his aide, Baron E. H. von Schack, former vice consul.

The authorities refused to divulge the nature of the alleged participation of the army and navy officers in the plot. They said all information of the case had been sent to San Diego and Los Angeles, where it was understood the conspiracy centered.

At the time Schneider and Kasinger were taken into custody federal agents asserted that the two had conspired with four Austrian army officers subsequently detained at Laredo, Texas, who, it was believed were planning to embark from Mexico for Germany or Austria. It was said they were suspected of having obtained military information.

Efforts to break into the new ground won by the British in the renewal of the Flanders offensive on Wednesday are being continued by the Germans. Failure to shake the British lines elsewhere they tried it out last night at Zonnebeke, where the British have pushed far along the road to Roulers. The British artillery, machine gun and rifle fire was too much for them, however, and the attack was broken up.

Zonnebeke is an important point for the British and their previous efforts to reach and maintain a hold in it had been desperately resisted by the Germans. Their present position in the village places them within a half dozen miles of the important north-and-south railway line connecting Lille with Ostend on the coast, the cutting of which or its domination at even medium range artillery fire would seriously handicap the Germans in their Flanders operations.

activity of a nature to call for mention in the official statements except in the Argonne region on the French front. The Germans of the crown prince's forces made an attempt last night to break into the French lines in this sector, attacking three times. These assaults all were repulsed, the Germans sustaining heavy losses, says today's Paris war office report.

On the Caucasus front the Russians are showing renewed aggressiveness, in engagements with the Kurds detachments of these hostile forces have been driven back in the Rusa region where the Russians today report the capture of the town of Oromaru, 24 miles west of Meri.

GERMANS DRIVEN OUT

In the Tower Hamlets and Polygon wood regions, towards the right flank, the clearing up process which followed Wednesday's battle was carried out further last night, and the Germans were driven from isolated positions to which strong parties of them were clinging.

The Russian democratic congress has begun its sessions in Petrograd with 1200 delegates in attendance. Premier Kerensky met with a mixed reception when he addressed the body, the principal applause for him coming from the less radical elements among the delegates. The conservatives taunted the extremists who have great strength in the congress with friendliness to the Germans.

WELL EARNED PROMOTION FOR WALTER HICKEY

Walter H. Hickey, acting claim agent for the local division of the Bay State Street Railway Co., today received notification that he had been appointed acting superintendent of the Lowell division of the road to succeed Helenus E. Farrington. Mr. Farrington has been granted an extended leave of absence during which he will attempt to gain a well-earned rest.

Mr. Hickey will assume his new duties next Monday morning, October 1. The new official has been employed by the railway company for 20 years. He was born in Lowell and was graduated from the St. Patrick's Boys' school and the Lowell evening high school. In 1897 he started as a conductor on the Lowell & Suburban road which later developed into the Boston & Northern and still later the Bay State road. In 1905 he was appointed starter and kept this position until 1911 when he became operating foreman. Last July he received an appointment as acting claim agent to succeed George H. Drury, who joined the national service. Mr. Hickey is well known in Lowell as he has lived here all his life. He is familiar with the needs of the city so far as transportation is concerned and may be counted upon to give a conscientious administration in his new office.

Superintendent Farrington, whom Mr. Hickey succeeds, has been with the company for over 30 years and has been superintendent in Lowell since 1908. He has felt the need of an extended rest for some time but was unwilling to leave his duties. Eventually, however, he gave way and the result was Mr. Hickey's appointment.

Mr. Hickey's successor as acting claim agent has not yet been named.

WOUNDED SOLDIER GETS

Miss Agnes W. Maher and Master Raymond Maher, children of Lieut. Martin J. Maher of the criminal bureau of the local police department, have received a letter from a French soldier confined to a hospital in France who received a kit of necessities sent to the Red Cross by Mrs. Maher. The letter, which is in French, is one which is full of appreciation and well wishes for the future of the children.

Several weeks ago Mrs. Maher made a bag and filled it with necessities necessary for the pleasure and comfort of a soldier and placing a card bearing the names of Agnes and Raymond, her children, turned it over to the Red Cross society. It was one of the many kits which were sent across the water and it now appears that the bag in question was received by Omer Plaquin, who is known as No. 33 and is confined in the 265th regiment infantry hospital at Vanves, Morbihan, France.

Upon receiving the kit Plaquin evidently found the names of the two children and addressed a letter to them which arrived yesterday. It was written in French, but the translation shows that the recipient is grateful for the gift, and after thanking the senders wishes them good luck, happiness and prosperity.

U. S. BATTLESHIP
AGROUND

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The navy department at noon today authorized the announcement that a battleship is aground in home waters, but resting easily and probably will be floated soon.

The navy department issued this statement:

"The navy department has received an official report stating that a battleship of the United States navy is aground in home waters. The ship is resting easily and it is expected that she will be floated without difficulty. The newspapers are urgently requested not to print any information which might lead to the establishment of the identity or location of the stranded vessel."

U. S. CASUALTY LIST IN FRANCE—TWO DEATHS

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The slight wounding of First Lieut. Howard F. Keating of Philadelphia Medical corps during an air raid on the night of Sept. 24, was reported to the war department today by Gen. Pershing.

The death of Private James Tracy, Company F, First Engineers, also of Philadelphia, as a result of "an accident in the line of duty," also was reported.

Another cablegram announced the death on Sept. 24 from natural causes of Sergt. Pitt Johnson, 23th Infantry, whose home was in St. Paul.

KORNILOFF REVOLT TO THWART GERMAN PLANS

PETROGRAD, Sept. 28.—The last army order issued by Gen. Korniloff as commander in chief, reprinted in the Novaya Zhizn from a Molliev newspaper, tends to show that Korniloff was compelled to launch his revolt largely in an effort to thwart German plans. The order says it had been learned that German agents had brought about the great fire in Kazan, had expended millions of rubles in disorganizing the coal mines in the river Don region and that the Germans were proposing a general offensive along the whole front for the purpose of forcing a disorganized Russian retreat. The Germans also had planned to blow up the bridges across the river Nieper and Volga and were organizing a movement of Maximists in Petrograd. The article adds, had reason to suspect treason among irresponsible Russian organizations in German pay. The general, not doubting that irresponsible influences had the upper hand in Petrograd and that Russia was on the brink of an abyss, took an extreme decision for the purpose of saving the fatherland.

OPEN THE DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS IN RUSSIA

PETROGRAD, Sept. 27.—The democratic congress held its first session this evening in the Municipal theatre, 1200 delegates from all parts of Russia being in attendance. All the members of the provisional government, headed by Premier Kerensky, were present. Several members of the diplomatic corps occupied a special box.

N. C. Tchekidze, president of the council of soldiers and women's delegates, in opening the conference explained that the extremely grave situation of the country necessitated the constitution of a strong revolutionary power responsible to all elements. M. Kevkenstef, president of the council of peasants' delegates, said that the moment had arrived for democracy to gather all its political wisdom to save the conquests of the revolution, which were threatened with irreparable catastrophe if not safeguarded now.

BEFORE COURT FOR "PROFESSIONAL ERRORS AND IMPRUDENCE"

PARIS, Sept. 28.—The minister of justice, it is announced officially has asked to send Fernand Monier, president of the Paris court of appeals before the court of cassation for "professional errors and imprudence." M. Monier first came before the public prominently at the time of the Calvaux case three years ago.

HEARING ON PETITION OF B. & M. RECEIVER TO PAY INTEREST TO CONN. RIVER R.R.

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Federal Judge Morton today set Oct. 8 for hearing a petition of James H. Hustis, temporary receiver of the Boston & Maine railroad for authority to pay six months' interest, due Aug. 31, on the $2,000,000 notes of the Connecticut River railroad, a leased line. The court previously had authorized the payment of interest due last February. Judge Morton also allowed the receiver $9003 as compensation for his services for June, July and August.

FRETFUL BABIES NEED A LAXATIVE

When your baby is cross and fretful the chances are it is constipated and that a mild laxative is all that is necessary to make it comfortable and happy. Inactive bowels are the cause of as much discomfort to children as to older people, and unless the condition is promptly relieved is very apt to develop serious illness.

For children there is nothing that will act more easily than the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin that is sold in drug stores under the name of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It does not gripe and is free from opiate or narcotic drugs, is pleasant to the taste, and positively effective; children like it and take it readily.

If you have never tried this simple, inexpensive remedy, get a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin from your druggist and have it in the house to use the next time any of the children seem out of sorts. A trial bottle can be obtained, free of charge, by writing to Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 456 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.

DUTCH EXPLANATION IS ACCEPTED BY U. S.

DEMAND "REDEMPTION OF PHILADELPHIA"

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28.—Resolutions calling upon all citizens to unite in the "redemption of the city," and demanding the impeachment or resignation of any public officials shown by the pending investigation of the political feud, which resulted in the killing of a policeman by alleged New York gunmen, to have been neglectful of their duty, were adopted at a mass meeting here last night.

FIVE INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT AYER-CAR CRASHED INTO PUMP

AYER, Sept. 28.—Harvey C. Howard of Boston was knocked unconscious and badly cut and bruised and five other men were severely shaken up, bruised and cut last night when an automobile in which they were riding crashed into a pump on the Fitchburg turnpike, near Camp Devens reservation, to avoid being run down by an army truck. Howard's life was saved by Lieut. George A. MacDonald of the headquarters division of the 8th battalion, depot brigade.

As the force of the crash threw Howard backward out over the folded top of the automobile, Lieut. MacDonald grasped his leg and prevented his falling beneath the wheels.

5000 HARVARD MEN NOW ACTIVELY ENGAGED IN WAR WORK

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—Figures compiled by the Harvard Alumni Bulletin show that nearly 5000 Harvard men are now engaged actively in war work. Of these 1606 are in the army and 670 in the navy. In armies of the allies 113 Harvard men are enrolled. The medical service has 520, the Red Cross and other relief services 193 and the ambulance service, 361. Others are training in various military organizations or engaged in committee work.

AGREE TO ARBITRATE

PARIS, Sept. 28.—Differences between workers in certain classes of munitions and their employers have been settled, both sides agreeing to the formation of a permanent committee of conciliation, according to an official note issued last night. The statement says that the decision to arbitrate arose from patriotic motives and a full understanding of the essential importance of not allowing any interruptions to work. The minister of munitions will adjust the wages of skilled women and men workers, which is to be done without delay.

FAIRMOUNTS' DANCE AT ASSOCIATE TONIGHT

Tonight at Associate hall, the Fairmounts' dancers, one of the most prominent organizations of campers at Willow Dale, will conduct their fifth annual dancing party, and the features are that the affair will prove one of the most enjoyable on record. The Fairmounts have an enviable reputation as entertainers, but they promise to provide the best party in their history tonight. Mincer-Dorle's orchestra will furnish music, and this fact is bound to make a hit with all who attend. This well known organization of musicians has just completed a most successful season at the Lakeview dance hall, and many of the favorite pieces, which went as "big" at the Lake this summer will be played for the dancers tonight. A number of new selections, just out, will also be given. Cabaret features by some of Lowell's leading vocalists will also be introduced. In past years the Fairmounts' dances have been attended by large crowds, and hence the members have made arrangements to receive a large number tonight. Tickets 25 cents.

WOULD MAKE BOSTON GREAT ARMY DEPOT

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—To make Boston one of the greatest military supply and storage centers in the world, from which equipment for the armies fighting abroad will flow in a steady stream, is a plan of the Massachusetts waterways commission, endorsed by the storage committee of the council of national defense at Washington.

TO MAKE CAMP DEVENS, AYER, "BONE DRY"

AYER, Sept. 28.—Soldiers who bring liquor into Camp Devens for the purpose of selling it, will be turned over to their company or regimental commanders, it was decided today, while the cases of civilians accused of violating the strict federal laws about giving liquor to soldiers will be tried before a special deputy United States commissioner. Several civilians have been arrested on this charge in the recent campaign to make the camp "bone dry" but so far only two soldiers have been included in the charges.

TO REVERSE REICHSTAG PEACE RESOLUTION

COPENHAGEN, Sept. 28.—Charges that certain government authorities are supporting the pan-German and conservative forces in the agitation to reverse the reichstag majority peace resolution and commit Germany to the so-called Hindenburg peace may be made the subject of an interpellation at the present session of the reichstag. Berlin newspapers which arrived tonight after a three day interruption indicate that the interpellation was discussed at a meeting of the steering committee of the reichstag on Wednesday.

It was decided to postpone action in order to give Chancellor Michaelis and his aides an opportunity to make certain explanations. This, Philipp Scheidemann, the socialist leader explained, would allow the committee to determine the form which the interpellation should take, but it will not head off a big debate on the subject. Georg Ledebour, the radical socialist, made a vain attempt to set the debate for today.

Amend Imperial Constitution
AMSTERDAM, Sept. 28.—The constitution committee of the reichstag, according to a despatch from Berlin, by a vote of 15 to 2, yesterday adopted a proposal to cancel the concluding sentence of article 9 of the imperial constitution which debars members of the federal council from simultaneous membership in the reichstag. The committee adjourned after passing an order of the day which declared: "The reichstag will co-operate in the event of the conclusion of a peace."

Refuse to Vote Increase
COPENHAGEN, Sept. 28.—The centrist and socialist representatives at the meeting Wednesday of the inter-parliamentary caucus of the centrist, national-liberal, radical and socialist parties, manifested a desire to refuse to vote favorably on the salary of Vice Chancellor Helfferich who is unpopular in reichstag circles. "The establishment of the chancellorship as a separate ministry, including a vice chancellor, necessitates a vote of credit. The radicals and national-liberals opposed consideration of the matter at the caucus and the question was sent to the main committee of the reichstag."

TURKISH GRAND VIZIER SAYS END COMING

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Turkey's entry into the war was justified by Talaat Bey, the grand vizier, in a long speech closing the congress of the party of union and progress, according to a despatch from Constantinople. He defended the Turkish treatment of the Armenians, but admitted that the deportation could not be carried out by regular forces because the Germans had been drafted into the army and order could not be maintained. Irregularities in connection with the deportations had been investigated, he said, and the guilty parties had been punished severely, some with death.

Referring to the pope's peace note, Talaat Bey declared that Turkey adhered to the principle of arbitration. Regarding disarmament he said:

"We shall oppose no solution which is compatible with our vital interest."

He concluded by saying that no one could say when peace would come, but it was obvious that the end was approaching.

CALLS ON SENATE TO EXPEL LA FOLLETTE

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—Members of the American Bankers' association launched into vehement expressions of approval when Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia university, addressing them yesterday on "The Chanking World," demanded that congress exercise its constitutional right to expel United

Nervous Wreck-- Now Live Wire

Makes Everybody Sit Up and Take Notice

One of our big league ball players had been going back for some time, no matter how hard he tried, could not get his old time Pep and Ginger into the game. It was up hill work all the time. He was one of those honest hard working fellows and it finally got his "goat," his nerves went bad, he commenced to run down, could not eat or sleep and kept steadily slipping.

Doctors and medicines were of no help.

One of his many admirers said to him, "Why not try Phosphated Iron, everybody is boosting it."

Grasping at the last straw, the poor fellow took a try at it. The way he came back was an "eye opener," he was there in every department of the game, his nerves were like iron, he could hit the ball and was no time getting back to the three hundred mark, while his base running and fielding were great.

Discussing the matter with our reporter, he said, "Would you believe it, I could feel the iron clanging my blood with health and strength, while the way the Phosphates steadied and renewed my nerve force was almost too good to believe. Phosphated Iron took hold of me right from the start and sure did make a new man of me, and you can bet I try a good supply on all my tips."

Doctors will tell you that you must have plenty of Iron and Phosphates in your system if you want pure red blood and steady nerves of Iron. Every one who is run down, nervous tired and has that "all in" feeling should try Phosphated Iron and you will never be without it again.

Special Notice—To insure physicians and patients receiving the genuine Phosphated Iron, we have put up in capsules only so do not allow dealers to substitute pills or tablets, insist on the genuine in capsules only.

WHY HAIR FALLS OUT

Dandruff causes a feverish irritation of the scalp, the hair roots shrink, loosen and then the hair comes out fast. To stop falling hair at once and rid the scalp of every particle of dandruff, get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff at any drug store, pour a little in your hand and rub well into the scalp. After a few applications all dandruff disappears and the hair stops coming out.

BREAK A CHILD'S COLD BY GIVING SYRUP OF FIGS

Quick

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait; give the Little Atomach, Liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, listless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act natural; if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged-up, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has caught cold or is feverish or has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "fruit laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given today saves a sick child tomorrow.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here. Get the genuine, made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

States Senator La Follette.
"We are fighting across the sea, and we are fighting, evil-minded suspicion, cowardice and treason which have raised their heads at home," Dr. Butler said. "Our soldiers can fight the soldiers of the enemy; you and I have got to fight sedition and treason here."

"Have the American people lost their capacity for corporate indignation?" he asked.

"There is a provision in the constitution providing that congress may expel a member by a two-thirds vote. What are they thinking of doing and permit themselves to be contaminated by Senator Robert M. La Follette?"

Bankers Cry Approval.
Cries of approval came from every side as Dr. Butler proceeded:

"Gentlemen, you might just as well put poison into the food of every boy that goes to his transport as to permit this man to make war upon the nation in the halls of congress."

"I am a native son of New Jersey, which has two patriotic sons in the senate. I call upon them to take the lead."

"I am a citizen of New York. New York has two patriotic sons in the senate. I call upon them to take up the challenge. No single act would go so far to shorten the war."

Again the audience applauded.

"Hundreds of millions of dollars are being expended and thousands of lives are being lost because we sit by indignant and supine," Dr. Butler declared.

Speaking of peace, Dr. Butler said: "Any human being who asks for peace on any other terms than unconditional surrender is asking another and still greater war. Peace will come only when the supreme confidence the Germans have in their instrument of armor and their world-dominating aims are brought to defeat that is the only road to peace."

Lord Northcliffe Issues Warning.
The bankers and, through them the American financial world, were warned against "the dream of a speedy peace" by Lord Northcliffe, head of the British war mission. America and the entente, "in the same boat," should pull together, he said, with Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, "acting as stroke."

"I believe America will even surpass her own magnificent record," Lord Northcliffe declared. "It is not my business to criticize, or even to advise. I merely wish to indicate a point in our armor which an unscrupulous and unsleeping enemy is sure to attack, and I want you, the massed battalions of finance, to bring up your reserves and simply smother him with all arms, big guns and small, subscriptions of a million dollars and subscriptions of a hundred dollars."

The food situation in Germany and Austria is better than a year ago, Lord Northcliffe warned, and "financially, Germany lives in a circle and can go on for a long time spending her own money among her own people."

Advices General Thrift.
America's loans to Great Britain, the speaker asserted, do not cross the Atlantic, but "go to swell wages in Bridgeport, the best of a hundred other centers of industry where the wages are the highest on record," and will return to swell the country's finances in the form of workers' subscriptions to the Liberty loan.

The length of the war is associated intimately with the question of thrift, he said, and in this connection he predicted that, while newspapers are essential to the conduct of the war, as the conflict progresses the publishers will find raw material and power and labor diminishing and the size of American newspapers may be reduced. Conservation of raw material, transport, power and labor as relating to newspapers may apply also to other industries, Lord Northcliffe said, and is "one way of shortening the war."

Other speakers were Benjamin R. Strong, Jr. governor of the New York Federal Reserve bank, who expressed his confidence in the country's ability to "pay all the taxes required to maintain its credit and support all the borrowings needed for the period of the war without crippling its vital industries," Fred N. Parnsworth, secretary of the association, who lamented the fact that the secretary of war had ruled against any banking facilities in the army camps, and George M. Reynolds of Chicago, who said he felt certain the bankers will meet every obligation and service put upon them by the government.

His Condition Serious.
Capt. Bernard J. Dunn of Hose Co. No. 8 of the fire department, who fell from the roof of a building of the Northern Trust Co. Saturday night and suffered a concussion of the brain and internal injuries, is in a serious condition at St. John's hospital. He passed a very bad night and his condition today showed no signs of improvement.

TALBOT'S WONDERFUL STORE

The Reason It Became Necessary and Why We Have Made the Alterations

We hear nothing but complimentary remarks as our store nears its completion—One kind friend said "it was as if one was dropped by an airship into the centre of Broadway, New York." We felt we should tell you why we give the people of Lowell such a good store.

Way back in 1881, the writer opened a store in this location, about one-third the size of the present one—It was soon enlarged and kept enlarging until we took in the two other stores and the stable in the rear of the American House.

Don't think we have done this entirely without hope of reward because we are frank to admit we expect to reap benefits. The last five years our business has increased very fast and 1916 was the largest we ever recorded.

Fifteen years ago, how the time does skip, we took in the second story of the American House making our windows twenty-two feet high and built the entire rear part almost back to the firehouse and at that time we thought we had some store—It was too, but things keep moving and we feel the best none too good for Lowell—

Great success followed our efforts and today we stand at the head of the clothing trade of the city. Not only have we improved the store, but we added young blood and made this the store of progress, the store of new things, the store of better things—

We told you sometime ago how we went thro' the West in search of new ideas. How after looking through a great many propositions we got together with a couple of young store architects and made a set of plans of a better front than any we had seen. The reason this could be done was that with 84 feet frontage and the great height, (22 feet), the possibilities were better, and we feel we have taken every advantage of them—

We hope soon to invite you to our Grand Opening—Today we ask you to drop in and see what we are doing—Also would say our Fall Stock is complete.

We confidently expect and believe we can increase our business one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars or more this coming year and cannot see why we should not do this easily—we have given you the best store (not the most elegant and expensive) but the best for business that we know about, and we have seen most of them—We shall increase our stock liberally and sell higher grades than before, always keeping our prices the lowest in the city.

The next few years are years in which the public will be offered many substitutes. The large advance in costs makes the use of cotton an object of great moment. We shall adhere to the principles that have made this store such a success. If forced later on to use cotton fabrics we shall tell you so. Buy only of stores you can rely on.

That's another big reason our business grows each year—our salesmen are instructed to tell you just what you are buying. Then we go farther and guarantee satisfaction in service and wear—If anything goes wrong, we stand behind it and are ready to make good—There's no risk in trading here and that will mean a lot to you during the war times—We're fortunate too, in having Hart Schaffner & Marx clothes—they are acknowledged to be the best clothes made.

In conclusion—we wish to thank you who have made our great advance possible and we promise to live up to all your expectations in the future—Come in and see us, we shall be delighted to show you our store.

Residents of New Orleans
Heed Weather Bureau's Warning

Tropical Hurricane Passing Inland Central 75 Miles South of City

NEW ORLEANS, La., Sept. 28.—The tropical hurricane passing inland from the Gulf of Mexico was central early today about 75 miles south of New Orleans and moving in a northerly direction. Reports from Pilot Town, near the mouth of the Mississippi river, said the wind velocity there was more than 75 miles an hour at 5.30 a. m. and the barometer had fallen to 29.18.

Weather bureau officials were inclined to the opinion that the full force probably would pass a little east or west of New Orleans.

The barometer in New Orleans at 7 a. m. registered 29.69 where it had been almost stationary for nearly four hours.

New Orleans has not yet received the worst of the storm, weather bureau officials said. "Its intensity probably will increase here up to noon."

The center of the storm apparently passed inland from the Gulf near Pilot Town, the hurricane winds being accompanied by rain. Pilot Town is approximately 30 miles southeast of this city and has a population of about 100.

It is the headquarters of the pilots who guide the vessels over the bar at the mouth of the river. Since 1.30 a. m. a gale of more than 75 miles an hour had been blowing there. No reports had been received here early today as to damage done by the storm or any casualties at Pilot Town and telephone communication was still intact.

Heeding the weather bureau's warning of the probable approach of the storm, hundreds of New Orleans residents deserted their homes in the outskirts and spent last night in hotels, public and office buildings down town.

More than 300 sought refuge in the postoffice building, the customs house and the new court house.

A despatch from Gulfport, Miss., stated that the barometer there at 7 a. m. registered 29.65. An east wind was blowing about 40 miles an hour and there were squalls of rain. The tide more was reported two and a half feet above normal.

Telephone communication with Pilot Town became interrupted for several hours and reports from there were received by wireless.

As a precautionary measure, Dr. I. M. Cline, district forecaster here, advised the authorities at Thibodaux, Hammond and other small towns near here to keep their schools closed today. The New Orleans school board issued orders to the same effect.

sorted to the front seats in the reserved section. Then the mayor, the speakers committee and the members of the evening took their positions on the platform.

After the soldiers had taken their positions, the crowd, which had filled the street and packed the already well filled building. One aisle of seats had been given to the early comers and the rest were reserved for the speakers. The program was then tastefully and appropriately decorated for the occasion. Along either wall of the sides of the building huge Old Glories and the United States flags were displayed. Forming a background for the speakers' platform were the flags of the three allies—France, England and the United States. Standing in the rear of the platform were a number of Boy Scouts carrying posters of the recruiting party.

Mayor O'Donnell opened activities shortly after 8.15. He spoke of the purpose of the meeting and said that he was sure that Lowell's reputation for hospitality would be upheld by the reception which the honored visitors were receiving. He said that the men who had come to Lowell had come with a mission and promised that the men themselves would be able to explain in full detail what that mission was. Col. George H. Williams of the headquarters staff at Toronto was the first speaker. He opened in a humorous mood by saying that geographically it had always been necessary for all 74,000 men to look up to Canada. At present Canada wants this country to look up to her in other ways. He said that 400 years ago Canada had been discovered and that he had also discovered a north-west passage. Less than four years ago Kaiser "Bill" discovered Canada, but no passage. Instead he found an insurmountable barrier.

The speaker then got down to actual figures. He said that to date there had been 100,000 Canadian casualties and that if these were counted in full, the previous gains would be in turn become losses. In conclusion he said that no British or Canadian subject in this country who had any red blood in him should be drafted to fight what is part of their fight. In conclusion he asked for volunteers and nine men came forward. They were loudly cheered.

Then the band played hymns of the different allies and as each was played the soldiers stood at attention. It was then the turn of the speakers.

Lieut. Chevalier was the next speaker. Slightly built but full of earnestness and appeal he also told of what Canada wanted in the war. He said that the desire of the recruiting force to get a platoon from Lowell. Two men answered his appeal.

He then introduced the real novelty of the evening.

"How many of you women out there in the audience," he asked, "would be willing to go to the front if we needed you?"

"How many of you who have put your hands up will step forward and shake hands with me?"

Embryo Amazons Respond

In response, 15 young women came forward, shook his hand and mounted the platform. The cheering continued for fully five minutes.

Sergeant-Maj. McLeod was the next speaker. He comes from the 14th Canadian Battalion. He said that he had two rights to address a Lowell audience. In the first place, when he was three years old his mother took him from Lowell to Canada. In the second place, he had five German bullet wounds and a bayonet wound on his body. For these two reasons he asked that Lowell make a soldier of him. He said that he was now a member of the course of his talk he significantly carried the audience "over the top" by an exceedingly vivid description of the sensations which a soldier feels when he is about to make the dash "over the top."

Lieut. Paul Skidmore of the first overseas contingent attracted attention by his address to the audience but his voice, worn out after days of vigorous speaking, could not be heard beyond the front row. He succeeded in getting the men to come to the front, however.

Then the band, under the direction of Bandmaster C. C. Anthony, himself a former member of the overseas contingent, played a series of appropriate selections and the Klitties joined in.

Dr. Gen. White, who had been in Lawrence in 1914, was introduced by Mayor O'Donnell. He spoke much in the same line as the previous speakers and in the course of his talk gave a brief resume of the part which the Canadians have played in the war. He said that he wished to emphasize the fact that he was now a member of the overseas contingent. He said that he was now a member of the overseas contingent.

COL. F. B. MCCOY DIED SUDDENLY

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Col. Frank Bourbon McCoy, chief of the army recruiting station at 2 Tremont row, died in the Haymarket square Relief station yesterday afternoon, after having collapsed unconscious in the Scollaysquare station of the subway as he was returning to his desk from lunchson at his home, 7 Euston street, Brookline.

Death was due to a recurrence of heart trouble with which he was stricken in the lobby of the Hotel Copley-Plaza, the night of the dinner to the Japanese mission, Sept. 15.

Dr. J. H. Stevens, the hotel physician who attended him then, had urged him to "go slow," but he was loath to follow the advice absolutely and returned to his desk on the following Tuesday, Sept. 25.

Thomas J. Parulow, the station master of the Elevated, saw Col. McCoy's trouble at 1.55 p. m. and helped him to a bench, where he immediately lost consciousness.

Patrolman Nickerson of the City Hall avenue police station, who conveyed the colonel to the Relief station, said he did not regain consciousness till nearly there. He died at 2.35
p. m.

Col. McCoy literally "died in harness," after having achieved for Masachusetts, and particularly Boston, the proud record of rising after a poor start in army enlistments, when the war became a fact in April, until this commonwealth led every state in the Union in proportion to its size.

He was detailed to the army recruiting station at 2 Tremont row from the retirement of privates in 1903, succeeding Capt. Constant Cordier Sept. 13, 1916.

From often less than five acceptances for enlistment a day, through Col. McCoy's never-ceasing efforts the figures of the station gradually rose until in the month of June, in the excitement attendant on the registration for the selective draft, on one or two occasions they hovered in the vicinity of the 200 mark.

He was born in Augusta, Ga., Oct.
28, 1851, and was appointed to West Point from that state, becoming a second lieutenant in the 24th Infantry,
Nov. 28, 1880.

Maternally he was descended from the Martin family which gave so many soldiers to the patriot army in the days of Francis Marion. Hence Col.
McCoy was eligible to membership with the Society of the Cincinnati, but the only honorary society he joined was the Massachusetts Society of the Sons of the American Revolution.

He was transferred to the 2d Infantry Feb. 20, 1883, and assigned to Fort Shaw, Mont., under Lieut.-Col.
John R. Brooke. He became a first lieutenant Feb. 1, 1887. He became a captain of the second infantry April 26, 1899, and was transferred back to the 3d infantry Nov. 15, 1899.

He received at time of the Spanish war an honorary appointment as lieutenant colonel of the 12th Minnesota infantry (militia) until November, 1899, when he was transferred to the 3d.

After transfer to the 17th infantry
he was made a major Aug. 8, 1903, and a lieutenant colonel of the 24th infantry March 3, 1911, rising to be colonel April 23, 1913. He retired by operation of law on his 64th birthday,
Oct. 23, 1915.

From 1904 to 1907 he was in command of the post at the island of Jolo in the Philippines.

TERRIBLE PICTURE OF GERMAN ATROCITIES

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Rev. Dr. Newell Dwight Hillis, in the pulpit of Plymouth church, Brooklyn, drew so ter-
in France and Belgium that the throng in the church was moved to gasps of horror.

"Why do the German people say they feel so terribly because the authors of the world call them 'Hun' and 'barbarian'?" he exclaimed. "Who named them
'Hun' and 'barbarian'?" Who christened them 'barbarians'?" Their Kaiser, who likened the German soldiers to blood-hounds held upon the leash of the Kaiser's throne, as they strained with bloody jaws to tear their French and Belgian prey? The Kaiser, this ruler—who lifts a diseased and withered arm, with bloated fingers, say, 'Hun' and 'barbarian'.
"I baptize thee Hun and barbarian!"
Let the Kaiser's words stand! For a thousand years no man shall speak the word 'Hun' without shuddering.

The pastor spent July and August on the European battlefield and this was the first of six sermons on what he said he heard of the German atrocities in France. His title was "The German Atrocities and Crimes: The Logical and Inevitable Result of the German Philosophy of the Kaiser." The text was "Babylon the Great is Fallen."

"The Good Old German God"
"Here upon the pulpit," began Dr.
Hillis slowly, "rests a representation of an iron cross given as a token to each German soldier. At the top is a German portrait of the deity and underneath are these words, 'The Good Old German God.' To encourage our German soldiers to cruelty and atrocity against Belgians and Frenchmen, the deity holds a weapon in his right hand and to dull his conscience and to steel these words: 'Smite your enemy dead.'
The day of judgment will not ask you for your reasons."

"To this native characteristic Goethe was referring when he said, 'The Prussian is naturally cruel; civilization will intensity that cruelty and make him a savage.' For three years, the German Americans have protested that the atrocities of German atrocities were to be disbelieved as English inventions. Belgian lies and French hypocrisies. But that day is gone forever. When the representatives of the nations assemble for the final settlement, there will be laid before the Germans photographs with other proof that make the German atrocities far better established

SPECIAL

Owing to the nation-wide demand for more recreation and shorter working hours for store clerks, I have decided to close every Thursday afternoon the balance of this year, 1917. My clerks have not demanded this—not even asked for it. I gave it to them voluntarily. (Signed) MITCHELL.

In a stupendous rush of old customers who know I always gave them the goods at low prices, at the same time I demonstrate to an unbelievable rush of new customers that I never carried better goods in the days when goods were known to be lower in price. That I am still standing pat on my old prices, when all around me boldly announce they are compelled to raise prices.

The most wonderful display of classic woolens in Lowell. Hundreds of bolts piled up to the store ceiling, of the most varied assortment of costly, exclusive styles.

The man who always pays $40.00 to $50.00 for his suitings or overcoatings will see in my store today, goods that he will admit his $40.00 tailor is short of today.

Doctors, lawyers, mill men and store men—all crowd elbows in my store these days, for styles they can't seem to get in old quarters during this woolen pinch, while prosperous merchants walk into my store and say to my boys: "Measure me for one of those

RAILROADS' FALL AND WINTER SCHEDULES

The fall and winter schedules on the Boston & Maine and New Haven railroads go into effect Sunday, the public service commission having approved the schedules yesterday. The question of excursion trains and reduced rates to the National Army encampment at Ayer, however, was not taken up, owing to the fact that there was no petition from the railroads on that subject.

With 20,000 New England men in camp at Ayer thousands of relatives and friends would like to visit Camp Devens but in many cases the rates are so high that people cannot afford to make the trip. The commission will consider the questions of Sunday excursions and reduced rates to Ayer

if the railroads file petitions.
The commission has issued the following statement:
"If either the Boston & Maine or the New Haven road petitions for the right to run Sunday excursions or to give reduced rates to Ayer on that day it is unlikely that this commission would stand in their way, but the cases will be heard on their merits and the petitions, if granted, will be because of the public interest."

Miss Margaret Curtin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Curtin, of 31 Albion street, was agreeably surprised last evening on the occasion of her birthday anniversary. A reunion of friends and relatives took place at the home of the young woman, who was presented numerous valuable gifts. During the evening refreshments were served and a varied entertainment program was given, those taking part being Miss Anna Dorsey, Miss Ella
Burke, Miss Blanche Cirkewyaz, Miss Etta Riley, Chester Henderson,
Miss Alice Curtin, Miss Katherine L.
Curtin and Mrs. Catherine Maynard.

Y.W.C.A. HOLDS RALLY

About 100 members of the Y.W.C.A. were in attendance at the fall rally which took place last evening. Supper was served, the association songs were sung and an interesting address was delivered by Miss Frances E. McNair, general secretary. A membership campaign was organized and the group of workers was divided into two sections headed by Mrs. D. L. Fuge and Mrs.
W. E. Hatch. The prizes offered the members for the recruiting work are as follows: One member, a place on the honor roll; five members, blue enamel Y.W.C.A. pin; ten members, a gold association pin, and 15 members, a week at the camp next summer.
The rally was brought to a close with a very clever pageant under the direction of Miss Marion Sawyer, the authorities. The ruling was sought after some authorities had discovered
Ethel Everett and Miss Miriam Savage. About 50 girls took part in the pageant, which was given in the gymnasium. In the course of the pageant Miss Marion McKnight sang "Beautiful for Spacious Skies" and the affair closed with the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner." Mrs. A. F. French, chairman of the membership committee, presided over the meeting.

NEW DRAFT RULING

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—A ruling that draft boards could not reopen a case until after the date set for the conscript to report for duty was received by Gov. McCall yesterday from Provost Marshall General Crowder. If the local and district boards have certified men through error, or if new evidence is found, the only way they can be relieved from service, the provost marshal held, is by being discharged from the army by military authorities. The ruling was sought after some authorities had discovered some cases of hardship where men sent to camp had failed to report that they had families dependent on them.

AGREE ON WAR TAX OF $2,700,000,000

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The war tax bill, increased to raise about $2,700,000,000 federal revenue in addition to $1,233,000,000 secured under existing law, was completed late yesterday by the senate and house conferees.

After two weeks' deliberation, the conferees reached agreement on the bill—the largest in American history—and sent the revised draft to the printer.

While the action was officially said to be tentative, virtually only formal approval of the new draft remains to be voted.

Presentation of the conference report to the house late tomorrow is planned.

It will be considered first by the house and the enactment of the bill into law next week is thought to be assured.

Walks Miles to Pick Berries--One Year Ago Helpless as an Infant

Miss A. M. Clish Tells How She Recovered From Rheumatism That Deformed Joints

"I have walked to and from the berry grounds several times this month," said Miss A. M. Clish of 807 Montello street, Brockton, Mass.

that I could use my crutches. I persisted in the treatment until I was able to bend my knee and go up and down stairs without any trouble.

MISS CLISH ON CRUTCHES

"A year ago I did not believe I would ever be able to walk again. I was crippled with rheumatism of the joints and had to be carried from room to room like an infant. My right knee was drawn up and I was unable to straighten it. My fingers and wrists were swollen and extremely painful.

"The pain was almost unbearable. I could not allow anyone near my bed. Physicians wanted to remove a bone from my knee and I was etherized twice to straighten the leg. They told me I would never be able to walk again.

"My strength was exhausted and my stomach in a very weakened condition. Friends insisted that I try Var-ne-sis, as I seemed to be growing worse. After taking two bottles of Var-ne-sis my stomach improved wonderfully, my strength returned so Photograph Taken of Miss Clish, Aug. 18, Showing Her as She Is Today.

"I am glad to say I am now doing housework and able to go about as well as ever. I have given W. A. Varney my crutches to add to his collection in Boston. No matter how damp and stormy the weather happens to be I am entirely free from pain. I cannot say enough in praise of Var-ne-sis and trust my experience will be the means of others finding help in Var-ne-sis."

W. A. Varney said: "I wish I could convey to sufferers from rheumatism what Var-ne-sis is doing. I wish I could bring them face to face with those who have recovered through Var-ne-sis. I have had photographs of Miss Clish taken when she was using crutches and also when she was free from rheumatism and able to walk as well as ever.

"I am constantly producing evidence that Var-ne-sis conquers chronic rheumatism and I ask that sufferers from this disease investigate each case. I will pay the expense of three tests men to investigate the evidence I produce, providing they will send me to publish the results over their names. Can I do more? Var-ne-sis does not contain salicylates, opiates, soda, iodides, capsaicin, pepper or any of the usual anti-rheumatic drugs."

$300,000,000 over the senate bill, which called for $2,418,000,000, created by the conferees. As passed by the house the total was $1,868,000,000. Senate levies of $1,000,000,000 on war excess profits and $842,000,000 on incomes were substantially unchanged, the conference increases being divided among many items, with a few new taxes added, and many eliminated house provisions introduced.

The system of levying war excess profit taxes, however, was virtually re-written in a compromise between the senate war profits and house excess war profits system. A minimum exemption of 7 per cent. on invested corporate capital is said to be provided, with modified allowances for intangible assets.

The only change in the senate income tax section was to rearrange and harmonize a few graduated surtaxes on incomes over $50,000, without substantial change in revenue returns on individual taxation. Normal taxes on individuals and corporations and the lowered individual exemptions as revised in the senate were approved.

Three-Cent Postage Restored
Liquor and tobacco sections of the senate draft also were virtually unchanged, although a slight decrease in revenues from whiskey and manufactured tobacco probably will result. Of the $250,000,000 to $300,000,000 additional agreed to by the conferees, about one-third was placed upon postage. The house one-cent letter tax, making the rate on first-class mail three cents instead of two, estimated to raise $70,000,000, which was struck out by the conferees, and their agreement for a graduated zone increase on second-class mail rates is estimated to raise some millions more. Another large increase ordered was in passenger transportation and sleeping and parlor car accommodation taxes. Amusement admissions also bear a considerable increase, with separate exemptions of outdoor parks and their attractions rejected.

The senate provision exempting from taxation motion picture theatres charging 25 cents or less for admittance and provision made for exempting only much cheaper theatres. The exact exemptions have not been disclosed.

Stamp Tax on Checks Retained
Revenues from automobiles, patent medicines, perfumes and cosmetics and other manufactures also would be increased by the conferees' agreement. The one-cent stamp tax on bank checks, eliminated in the senate and estimated to raise $10,000,000, is reported to have been restored to the bill.

Among important house provisions abandoned were the retroactive tax on 1916 incomes, estimated to raise $105,000,000; for a general 10 per cent. tariff levy, estimated to raise $200,000,000; and consumption taxes on gas, electric and local telephone service, estimated to bring in $30,000,000.

Another important action understood to have been taken was restoration of the special tax of 15 per cent. on munitions manufactures, estimated to raise $28,000,000. The senate provision for its repeal was stricken out.

Official announcement of the principal features of the conferees' work probably will be made tomorrow by Senator Simmons and Representative Kitchin.

TO TAKE OVER ALL SHIPS OCT. 15

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Every American merchant vessel of more than 2500 tons deadweight capacity available for ocean service will be requisitioned by the government Oct. 15, the shipping board announced yesterday, in a statement giving the charter rates at which the vessels will be taken over.

American ships available for ocean traffic total slightly more than 2,000,000 tons, but some of them already have been taken over for the army and navy. In most instances, except where required for actual government service, the ships, it was said, will be turned back to their owners for operation on government account, subject at all times to any disposition the shipping board may direct.

The rates announced will cut sharply the present charter and ocean freight rates charged by American vessels for carrying government supplies. It is the intention, it is understood, to apply them later to any foreign ships chartered in the United States. The chartering will be in the hands of the shipping board's chartering commission, which Welding Ring of New York has just been named to head.

Charter Rates Announced
For freight vessels the rates a ton a month figured on time charter on a basis of deadweight tonnage are as follows:

More than 10,000 tons, $5.75; 8001 to 10,000 tons, $6; 6001 to 8000 tons, $6.25; 4001 to 6000 tons, $6.50; 3001 to 4000 tons, $6.75; 2500 to 3000 tons, $7.

Vessels of a speed in excess of 11 knots will be allowed 50 cents a ton additional for each knot or fraction more than 11.

For passenger vessels the board adopted a two-fold basis of classification—Class A, comprising steamers with a capacity more than 150 passengers, and Class B, with a capacity of from 75 to 150 passengers. Steamers in both ratings are further classified according to speed. Passenger steamer rates, based on time charters, and figured gross register, are as follows:

Class A—10 to 11 knots, $2 a ton; 12 knots, $2.50; 13 knots, $3; 14 knots, $3.50; 15 knots, $4; more than 15 knots, $4.50.

Class B—10 to 11 knots, $2 a ton; 12 knots, $2.50; 13 knots, $3; 14 knots, $3.50; 15 knots, $4; more than 15 knots, $4.50.

All Rates Tentative

gross for passenger steamers of 11-knot speed, with an additional allowance of 50 cents a ton for each knot in excess of 11 up to 16 knots.

All the rates are tentative. The board, it was announced, will examine carefully the results of operation under the rates and will determine on any revisions that appear to be necessary for fair and equitable treatment for the vessels' owners. Revisions will be made, if found necessary, at intervals of not more than 30 days.

Government to Assume War Risk
The government will assume the war risk on the ships requisitioned, and in some instances the marine risk as well. Where the marine risk is assumed the usual rate for this insurance will be deducted from the charter price.

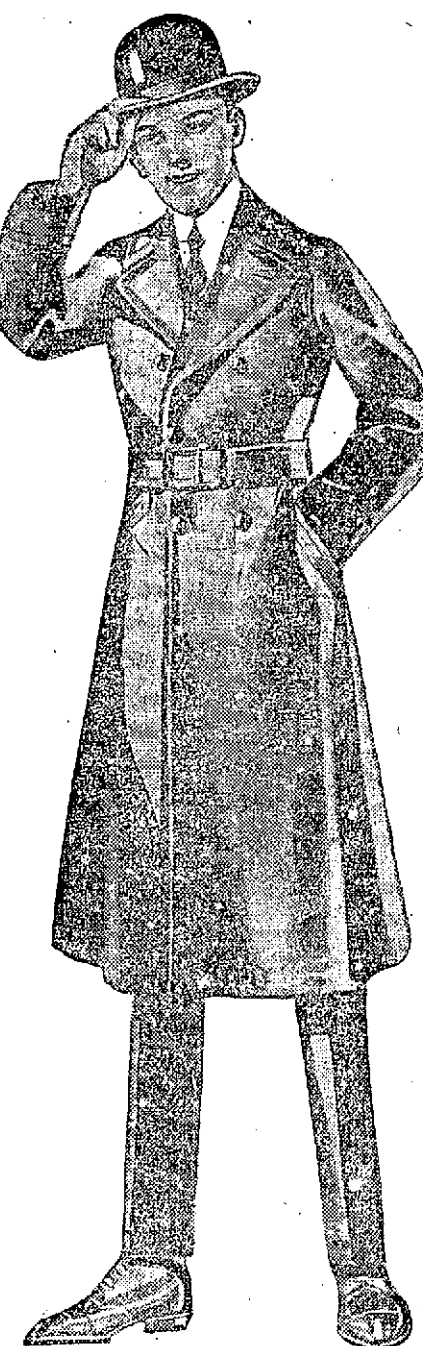

Within less than six months virtually every one of the 155 American vessels now available for ocean service, including regular liners, will be either in the service of supplying American troops and warships abroad or in trades considered vital to the conduct of the war.

The intention of the government is to replace ships drawn from regular trade routes and from the coastwise service with neutral tonnage, for which negotiations now are pending with neutral governments.

Foreign ships will be admitted into the coastwise service by suspension of the coastwise shipping laws. A bill to make this suspension possible is before congress.

DO. TREE PRUNING IN OCTOBER
ADVISES AMERICAN FORESTRY ASSOCIATION
WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 28.—October is the month to prune the trees, advises the American Forestry association, 210 Maryland building, in a bulletin issued today. In this report, the association, which publishes the American Forestry Magazine, offers the following timely suggestions for the caring of trees next month:

"Prune all dead branches. The advantage of doing this work now before the leaves fall is because one can distinguish the dead from the live better at this time than in winter, because one can look better now than in the winter when the trees are covered with ice and snow; because the

Special to the Sun

STATE HOUSE, Boston, Sept. 28.—In one of the most comprehensive reports which have been written by any state official so far this year, issued today by Frank H. Harrison, insurance commissioner, the interesting and complex question of the war problem of insurance is explained and suggestions to remedy it are made.

Just now, life insurance companies, operating in this state, are struggling with a problem akin to that which the companies transacting a working-men's compensation business have had in hand the past few years, and which every new form of insurance has to encounter, namely, what is the proper rate to charge for the insurance. But this problem is still more vital because it touches on the patriotic side. The risk taken by an insurance company is greater when a man goes to war, yet that man must be considered because he is doing a national service by going to war to protect the country and questions of insurance should be charged accordingly. Insurance companies have enlisted to be a patriot, rather than a blacker.

For the life companies, the problem, of course, is the outgrowth of the war. Mr. Harrison points out, and specifically the problem is that of policies to military men, which have issued either naval or military? The patriotic disposition of all the companies is to issue no policy at all, unless it can be done without endangering their safety and soundness and the interests of their policy holders. But the managers know, the commissioners state, that it would be very imprudent as a financial proposition to grant any such privilege.

"It has been the idea of some," the commissioner reports, "that the additional cost of insurance for those going into the army or navy not of their own volition, but by draft, should not be borne by those who enter the service, nor by the others not in the service who carry insurance in the companies which have issued policies to military men, as would be in the case if this extra cost were taken from surplus which otherwise would be available for dividends. On the contrary, they hold that it should be shared by the public as a part of the war burden. And this is right. The service is for all, not merely those carrying life insurance, nor for the soldiers' dependents. This would mean that the government, or some division thereof, should pay at least the extra cost for military insurance."

"In Canada," the commissioner says, "this insurance burden has been assumed by some municipalities, that have undertaken to pay the premiums on the policies of enlisted men who are resident therein at the time of entering the service. In Toronto some of this insurance is carried by the city itself and part by the insurance companies whose premiums are borne by the city."

Uniform action, to a great extent is being adopted by the companies throughout the United States, in dealing with this large problem of war insurance, the commissioner says. Ninety-three out of 255 companies in the country have agreed wholly or in part on a uniform plan. The others are undecided or opposed to it, or did not answer requests made of them on the proposal. Only 28 insurance companies are authorized in Massachusetts, scarcely one-tenth of the list. Mr. Harrison says, yet the bulk of the country's business is transacted by the companies authorized here.

For uniformity of action, it has been proposed that—1. The military clause shall cover the entire period of military or naval service, in time of war, if commenced within five years of the register date.

2. The clause shall call for "such extra premiums as may be fixed by the company."

3. The extra premium charged for the present shall be at the rate of not less than $37.50 per annum per thousand of insurance.

4. In the event of death during service or within six months after termination thereof the liability of the company shall, unless all required extra premiums have been paid, be limited to an amount not exceeding the total premiums paid on the policy, exclusive of any extra premiums which may have been paid for military or naval service.

5. The clause shall require payment of the extra premium within 31 days after entering upon service, or, if already in service, along with the first premium on the policy.

6. A refund will be made to any extra premiums not required.

SOCIAL AND PATRIOTIC ENTERTAINMENT AT THE FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A social and patriotic entertainment was given at the First Baptist church last night under the auspices of the Ladies' Benevolent society. There was a large attendance of parishioners, and friends and the affair proved to be a success in every particular. The program was arranged by Mrs. Gilman A. Alcott, president of the organization assisted by a competent committee.

A social in the vestry was enjoyed between 8 and 9 o'clock, where Geo. H. Taylor acted as master of ceremonies. The first number on the program was the singing of "To These, America," by the members of the choir.

Alonso G. Walsh, acting as spokesman for the society, presented a large American flag to the church, and F. J. Flemings accepted it on behalf of the church. This was followed by the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the entire assembly. There was an anthem by the choir and then came one of the most impressive features of the night when Mr. Walsh on behalf of the society presented a service flag to the church, which was accepted by the pastor, Rev. A. C. Archibald. The flag has 45 blue stars in a field of white, with an outer field of red. The number of stars represents the number of young men members who have entered the service for the army.

After the singing of "Onward, Christian Soldier," by the choir, came the selling of the individual stars of the service flag to the members present, the understanding being that the person buying a star should write a personal letter to that soldier and continue communicating with him during the war, as well as contributing to his personal welfare. The exercise came to a close with the singing of "America."

The 45 young men of the church represented in the service flag are: William Smith, Daniel Taylor, Secret Russell Stack, Sherman Blair, John Paul, Clarence Gillis, George Garner, Joseph Endworth, John Taylor, Joseph McShane, Henry Sturgess, Thomas Sturgess, Robert Smart, William Grindrod, Sergt. Joseph Amittage, Corp. John Gillis, Harry Felch, Eugene L. Aldrich, Corp. Robert C. Webster, Albert Wallace, Percy Kinney, Frank Leonard, Fred B. Kelley, John Clegg, Charles E. Field, Walter Bruce, Corp. Sidney Craig, Wilmer Craig, Norman S. Smith, James E. Smith, Lieut. Paul Kittredge, Corp. John Thyme, Frank S. Marner, Harold Benjamin, Arlton Barrows, F. A. Thompson, Francis Walsh, George Wilkins, A. I. Hart, Rousseau Haynes, Edward Baker, Walter Baker, Tobias Blackstock, William Galloway, the late Sigurd Severson and the late J. Gordon Pope.

TEACHERS PROTEST NO HEAT IN SCHOOLS

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—Boston teachers do not like the school board's method of economizing in the use of coal by refusing to have school buildings heated on cold days this fall. The Teachers' club, in a protest submitted to the board last night, asserted that the arrangement was "working great hardship to pupils and teachers," who were forced to work in a "vault-like chill." The board refused to rescind its order, asserting that there would be no suffering if pupils and teachers would come to school "suitably clothed."

SINN FEIN PARTY EXTENDS ACTIVITIES

DUBLIN, Sept. 17.—(By Mail)—The Sinn Fein party in Ireland is extending its activities and is forming local clubs everywhere throughout the country. It still remains, however, rather a pervading sentiment than a definite organization. It is impossible to say which particular individuals are the authorized exponents of its purposes, and there is a good deal of divergence both of tone and substance between the various pronouncements made from its platforms. Some speakers continue to preach revolution by armed forces, while others appear to aim at a program much nearer the limits of practical politics.

The Associated Press correspondent has talked with some who are very influential in the movement to whom a free Ireland under the crown is quite a welcome idea, provided that it does not mean subjection to a British cabinet. This is not so very far from the home rule that Canada enjoys. The great bulk of the support given at the elections to Sinn Fein candidates comes rather from men dissatisfied with the conduct of current politics and the necessary restrictions of the war than from those who adhere either in principle or practice to methods of violence.

There is a continuously hopeful feeling that the Irish convention may hammer out a good workable scheme of self-government and the convention is growing that if it does produce any acceptable plan the irreconcilable will be left without followers.

Meanwhile the military authorities are treating the situation on the assumption that the extreme extremists mean what they say. They are, in fact, calling the bluff. So long as there is the threat of another rebellion they take the threat seriously and seem determined to make clear from the onset the hopelessness of repeating the wild experience of Easter week. Drilling is absolutely prohibited and those who engage in it are court-martialed and sent to jail. Arms have been seized everywhere and even the cannons or Hurley sticks are not allowed to be carried, as was becoming frequent, in processions.

The military of Ireland are now under the command of a distinguished Irish soldier, Gen. Sir Bryan

CASTORIA

Mahon. He is a man of popular sympathies and regarded as personally quite incapable of desiring to make troubles.

The convention is still busy with the discussion of colonial schemes of home rule and there does not seem to be any prospect of an early decision. The delay is not caused by any friction between the parties. It is felt to be demanded by the necessity of the case. The motto in the mind of its conductors seems to be "slow but sure." The slowness is indeed regarded by wise judges inside and outside the convention as a rather hopeful sign. Everybody is anxious for a settlement that can be offered to the country with a reasonable hope that it will capture all sections of Irish feeling and provide a basis for a government of Ireland in which all can cordially join.

Donna, a horse raised and owned by P. Irving Carney, of Sheepscott, Me., is still active and in fine condition despite the fact that she is 34 years old. After having done her share of the work on the farm since she was four years old, Donna was excused from her place in the mowing machine, the last two seasons, but she still does all the hauling of the hay into the barn and last summer hauled in 115 loads, each of which averaged 500 to 1000 pounds.

COLLEGE POTATO CLUB
DURHAM, N. H., Sept. 28.—Excellent results are reported by the New Hampshire college faculty potato club, organized last spring. The 24 professors and assistants enrolled in the club planted an acre and a half and the crop just harvested yielded 134 bushels of first grade potatoes, 56½ bushels of second grade and 12½ of culls. The cost, exclusive of hand labor performed by the members of the club, was 59 cents a bushel.

Dental Work That Will Last and Look Natural

I have established a reputation for making the finest, firm holding plates, of which this is one. Holds close to the gums, leaves the roof exposed. Durable, comfortable and beautiful. Does not prohibit eating the things you like. Never fails to give full satisfaction.

Loose teeth tightened. Decayed and broken down teeth saved. Missing teeth replaced, without plates, with gold or porcelain. Fillings with silver, alloy, cement, porcelain and gold.

All work is performed by the newest and most up-to-date methods, with modern electrical appliances and made absolutely Painless by a NEW SCIENTIFIC DISCOVERY.

THE BEST IS THE CHEAPEST

But the highest priced is not always the best. Price and quality don't always go together. You'll find them in my work. I am not competing with cheap dental establishments.

I have but one price and that is a reasonable price, for first class work, made of the best materials money can buy and guaranteed every piece of work going out of my office.

MR. LOTTO

Leading Tailors in Boston

The public has always expected more—and rightly so—from this Live Store than from any other, especially as regards Quality and Service. And we are happy to say that we shall continue to meet, and in all probability exceed, those expectations during this Fall and Winter season just as we have at all times in the past.

These are indeed peculiar times, but if the public will continue to have confidence in us—in our methods, our merchandise and our ability to shape circumstances to our customer's advantage—we will surely justify that confidence to the fullest.

This is the price you should pay for your clothes, because it insures your getting a better, longer-wearing fabric; a touch of style that stands out from the crowd; tailoring that has taken a little more time to finish off the fine points, and furthermore, this price brings LYNCH & LOTTO clothes whose equals have yet to be produced at this moderate figure.

It is true that clothing costs more than it did, but not very much more the way we operate. We went into the market for a large part of our stock months ago—years ago, in fact, on staples—and we are going to give the public the benefit of our forehandedness. A large part of our stock is actually priced lower than it would cost us to replace it today.

You often hear people speak about the tremendous volume of business we do. But perhaps you never stopped to think very much about how we got it, or how we keep it, to say nothing of how we continue to increase our business; it is by offering such values at $15.00.

Lowell Lady Had Grown Very Weak

Relates in Signed Testimonial How Plant Juice Restored Her to Health

Many such statements as the following are being made daily by the best men and women of Lowell who have been benefited by the use of Plant Juice and voluntarily tell of their relief in the hope that others may be aided and helped back to health. Plant Juice is now being taken by hundreds of Lowell people, many of whom are testifying to the beneficial results they have derived from its use in the treatment of stomach, liver and kidney troubles.

Among one of many is the signed testimonial of Mrs. Elodie Charron, who resides at No. 622 Middlesex st., and is a popular Lowell lady having a host of friends. She said: "I have been troubled with my stomach for the past six years, and could not retain the lightest kind of food, as it would ferment and form gas. I got so weak that I could hardly stand on my feet to do my housework, and would have to lie down every little while; I had headaches, dizzy spells, could not sleep at night and seemed to have no ambition or energy to do anything. I had terrible pain in the small of my back and seemed to get worse every day. I began to take your Plant Juice and now am better and stronger in every way. I have a good appetite for my meals, sleep well and my nervous system is strengthened. I am certainly glad to endorse Plant Juice."

Such words as these and those of many others which have been printed have wide influence for they come from people of standing and integrity who have given Plant Juice a fair trial and have been greatly benefited thereby.

The Plant Juice Man is at Dows, The Druggists, in Merrimack sq., Lowell, where he is daily meeting the local public, and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy.

noon—and enjoyed it. One of the elements necessary for a successful outing is the spirit with which the participants enter into the good time. If this spirit is one of anticipation and desire to have an enjoyable time at any cost, the result must necessarily be a session of pleasure. Yesterday afternoon's picnics—true sportsmen by nature—brought with them a spirit of good fellowship and anticipation and the logical result was six hours of pleasure for all present. At 12:30 yesterday afternoon the first evidences of the coming outing began to show themselves in the vicinity of the Richardson hotel when auto after auto drove up to the building and awaited their particular cargoes of merry-makers. The fish and game men arrived at varying intervals from 12:30 until 2 o'clock and at 1:05 Secretary Willis S. Holt gave the signal to Scout Wilbur Roberts of Troop 2. The latter sounded a call on his bugle and the outing was on.

The parade through the principal streets was the opening number of the day's activities. With the machine driven by Luther W. Faulkner in the lead, the long line of autos proceeded up the Thorndike street hill to the flood building where another quota of spectators was on hand. Mr. Faulkner's machine, having the honor of the lead, was decorated with a huge American flag and a number of smaller ones he acted as pathfinder for the other cars. In Mr. Faulkner's machine were Scout Executive Alex. Williams, Secretary Willis S. Holt, Hartley Roberts and Scout Wilbur Roberts.

The next two machines contained the officers of the association and the members of the outing committee. Following them was a walking—or rather riding—automobile show. A total of 12 cars of every make and description and every one of them decorated with the national colors wended their way over the parade route and presented one of the prettiest pictures that Lowell people have been privileged to see. The line continued through Highland street to Locke and Gorham, then down Central, up Merrimack, to Monument square, where the soldiers and sailors' monument was enshrined. It was a fittingly patriotic prelude to the afternoon's activities. The line then returned through Merrimack, Central and Middlesex streets to Nichols, Westford and Chester, and on to the Princeton boulevard, whence the route continued to the outing grounds in Tyngsboro. Actual count showed 12 machines in the but with those which arrived at the grounds tardily there must have been close to a hundred all told.

Had Picture Taken

The grounds were reached shortly after 2 o'clock and the first number on the program was a walk about the surrounding territory to shake off a little of the stiffness which had accumulated during the ride. The day was ideal for September, and when President Simon B. Harris announced that "after you gentlemen have your picture taken, we will proceed to dinner," the genial Mr. Harris always pleasant voice seemed melodious. The picture was "look" in front of the clubhouse and the 700 sportsmen made their way to the grove in the rear of the club, where Caterer Pace had prepared several long tables for obvious reasons. The picnickers "went to it" in true sportsman fashion and the excellent provisions soon found its proper habitat.

Finally when the cigars began to pull and everybody seemed in a comfortably satisfied mood, President Harris arose and in happy voice congratulated the members on their present success. He then introduced Secretary Willis S. Holt, who read his annual report. The report was lucidly comprehensive and showed just what the organization has done in the past year. Seventeen ponds and lakes in Lowell and vicinity have been restocked with fish; from the Massachusetts Fish and Game association eight snowshoe rabbits, 10 quail, 17 pheasants and 12 Mallard ducks have been received and liberated by the restocking committee; from the American Game Protective and Propagation association of New York, 12 quail, 16 pheasants and 10 Mallard ducks have been received and liberated; the exhibit of fish at last week's agricultural fair was turned over to the association and stocked in nearby waters.

Speakers Introduced

William C. Adams, chairman of the Massachusetts Fish and Game association, was the next speaker. He first complimented the local organization on the excellent showing which it had made at the New York convention last winter. He then came to the question of restoring fishways in the Merrimack river, and said that his commission was in favor of the movement provided that it was found that there were no legal obstacles in the way. The question has been put up to the attorney general, and his decision is now being awaited. The commission expects to ask the legislature for a special appropriation at its next session.

Porter B. Osborn of the American Amateur Trapshooters' association was the next called upon and spoke briefly on trapshooting in this country. He congratulated the local association on the excellent showing which it made at the outing.

George H. Graham of Springfield, a member of the state association, told of fishways which he had visited in other sections of the country and then told what might be done in this state.

He said that negotiations were under way with the California commission to ship to this state eggs of the shad which might be hatched in local waters. The shad originally came from Massachusetts and was sent to the Pacific coast. He saw no reason why it could not be returned. Judge Samuel P. Hadley, a veteran of the association, was the next speaker and he was received with great applause. He paid a tribute to President Harris and expressed his sympathy with the Merrimack river restocking movement. He asked that those present give a vote of appreciation to the outing committee and it was given with a will.

A number of other prominent speakers had been invited to address the gathering, but were unable to attend. Letters of regret were read from Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Congressman John Jacob Rogers, John A. Burnham, president of the American Game Protective and Propagation society; E. A. Quences, vice president of the same organization; Dr. John H. Gleason of the New Hampshire Fish and Game commission; T. E. Doremus and John S. Panning of Delaware.

Good List of Sports

After the speechmaking a program of sports was carried out and provided several hours of enjoyment for both the participants and observers. The trap-shooting contest was perhaps the most popular of the afternoon. One hundred competitors were enrolled for the four prizes offered and when the last "bird" had been shot at, the judges announced their findings as follows: Lieut. James E. Burns and Luther W. Faulkner tied for first with 10 apiece; Lieut. Burns ceded the nine-inch silver cup offered by Register of Deeds William Purcell to Mr. Faulkner. Capt. Henry Boynton captured second place only after a hard fight with J. Failing, who was eventually given the third prize; for fourth place there were three competitors, Lieut. W. Sanborn, Rowland Derby and Thos. Williston. The winner will be decided at a shoot to be held at Chelmsford later.

The baseball game on the diamond created a lot of interest and after seven innings of struggle between Pitts and Evans' teams it was found that the latter were the victors, 7 to 2. The lineups were as follows:

ley ss, Sturtevant lf, Dooley cf and Adams rf.

Evans' team: Evans c, Dyer p, Hennessy 1b, Cox 2b, Wilson ss, Callahan 3b, O'Malley lf, Doyle cf, Maloney rf. The contest lasted over five innings and was umpired by John Redmond. The other sporting events were won as follows:

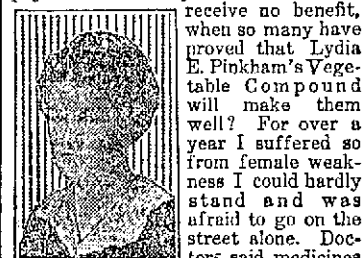

100 yards dash, won by W. Shugrue; P. Maloney, second.

WOMAN COULD HARDLY STAND

Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Fulton, N. Y. — "Why will women pay out their money for treatment and receive no benefit, when so many have proved that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will make them well? For over a year I suffered so from female weakness I could hardly stand and was afraid to go on the street alone. Doctors said medicines were useless and only an operation would help me, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has proved it otherwise. I am now perfectly well and can do any kind of work."—Mrs. NELLIE PHELPS, care of R. A. Rider, R.F.D. No. 5, Fulton, N. Y.

We wish every woman who suffers from female troubles, nervousness, backache or the blues could see the letters written by women made well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Chester Clothes

$11 AND $15

Our famous prices of $11 and $15 will REMAIN the same this Fall.

In spite of the enormous increase of woollens, trimmings and labor, and the fact that clothiers everywhere are raising their prices, we have not been influenced to depart from the policy of giving the smart dressers of Lowell the World's greatest clothes values at $11 and $15; none lower and none higher.

We admit that if we had to go out and buy materials in the open market today we, too, would be compelled to advance our price.

But Chester Clothes for Fall were made from woollens and trimmings purchased far in advance. Instead of taking advantage of the present high market, we believe it is much fairer to give you the benefit of our advanced purchases and let you have Chester Clothes at their original prices of $11 and $15.

By MANUFACTURING our own Clothes, we eliminate the wholesaler's profit. By SELLING DIRECT TO YOU in our own shops, we eliminate the middleman's profit. It means a SAVING all the way through—in the MAKING and SELLING—for YOU.

REMODELING AUTOMOBILE

The Buick automobile which was used by Chief Saunders of the fire department up to a few days ago when his new Auburn car was received, is being transformed into a service automobile, something which the department has been in need of for a long time.

In the event of one of the regular pieces of apparatus being out of commission the new machine will replace it until the former is back in service again. The body will be large enough to carry several lengths of hose, extinguishers and half a dozen men and will prove to be very valuable in the event of an emergency. Practically all of the work of overhauling and changing the machine will be done by members of the department.

Lemon Juice For Freckles

Girls! Make beauty lotion at home for a few cents. Try it!

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of the best freckle and tan lotion, and complexion beautifier, at very, very small cost.

Your greaser has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day and see how freckles and blemishes disappear and how clear, soft and white the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless.

time. It is expected that within short time the remodeled car will be ready for active service.

The tonneau has been removed, the gasoline tank will be lowered and seven feet holly placed on the rear of the chassis. This will be used for transporting supplies from the central fire station to the various fire houses, and will also be used as an auxiliary piece of fire apparatus.

ELECTION FRAUD IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—Discovery of evidence of "palpable" fraud in more than 100 election districts in connection with last week's republican primaries was announced by Dist. Atty. Edward Swann. In 16 of these districts he said, the election officials would be examined, once under suspicion, in an effort to fix responsibility.

During the recount William M. Bennett, former state senator, continued to gain. This afternoon his apparent majority had reached 492 votes over Mayor Mitchell, fusion candidate, who by the official returns won the republican nomination for mayor by 338 votes.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

D. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Volant, the man with the aerial plane, furnishes a clean pure novelty at the D. F. Keith theatre, this week, and large audiences are constantly applauding his wonderful act. A close second in the turn supplied by him is the irresistible comedian, and his associates. Lucas has the quality of spontaneity which cannot be denied, and the making of laughter is his special forte. Everybody likes him, because he has so many different things to do. Walter Schroder and the Beaumont Sisters in "Prop's" also advance a lot of good comedy. There is a clever character comedian, who draws his types from the stage, and the sisters are energetic. Nella Allen, the girl with a voice, is wonderfully attractive, and the three Brittons are masters of the xylophone and other instruments. "Judy Mine," the Goldwyn picture comedy, made from the comedy of the same name, is one screen of laughter, from beginning to end, and it is beautifully photographed. Performances begin at 7 and 7:30 p. m.

OPERA HOUSE

A delightful love story, cleverly told and capably interpreted by the principals engaged in the cast, is one of the many reasons for the enjoyable features in connection with the presentation of "Our Wives." Argyll Campbell's bright comedy at the Opera House is well received by the enthusiastic audience. The play is a story of love and life, and it is its worth. Only four more performances will be given and it is advisable to secure reservations immediately to avoid the chance of being disappointed. Next week's presentation will be that smashing drama, "The House of Glass," by Macdonald and George M. Cohan, in which Mary Ryan made one of her real triumphs a few seasons back. The play has everything to make it the real dramatic sensation it proved when first produced. The story upon which the author has built his four acts of intensely interesting and entertaining scenes and action is wonderfully well told and can't help making a strong appeal to the patrons. Incidentally it might be said that this play offers the players their first real opportunity of displaying their talent in a strong, dramatic effort. Playgoers generally have been looking forward to the time when the first real human play such a piece and now that it is coming all are anticipating more than ordinary pleasure. Roy Walling is said to be best in such plays, while Miss Wellington's strongest asset is her accomplishments in highly dramatic creations of this kind. The first performance will be given Monday afternoon at a smooth, finished production is assured. Kendall Webster will stage it in his usual capable manner. "The House of Glass" is a play with a punch and a story of gripping interest.

THE STRAND

"The Bar Sinister," the great Edgar Lewis photo-play which is to be the feature film attraction at the opening of The Strand Monday night, can be reckoned as one of the most human plays seen this season. It is placed in a setting of beautiful woodland at a time just preceding the Civil war and contains scores of tense and appealing situations. Note the lead impression of the production is the vivid portrayal of a demented negro by Miss Florence St. Leonard, who has long ranked as one of the most accomplished character actresses on the American stage. Since turning her attention to films, Miss St. Leonard has appeared in numerous productions by the Famous Players Company, Kleins, Triango and also in support of Miss Billie Burke in that memorable serial of love and mystery, "Gloria's Romance." The other principals of the play are in equally capable hands and all contribute materially to its wonderfully successful presentation. Another feature for the first of the week at The Strand will be Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew in their latest release film comedy, "His Curiosity," and for an educational feature Managing Director Carroll has secured at extra expense the interesting and instructive film, "China and the Chinese." The Strand Review of current events will also be shown.

Not the least of the big features will be the 20 piece orchestra, with Arthur J. Martel as conductor. Rehearsals and arrangements for the creation of a masterpiece for all picture productions have been made and with plans carrying the whole program promises to be one of exceptional merit. Tickets for the opening night go on sale at the box office Monday night at 7 o'clock.

LOWELL FIREMEN ATTEND ANNUAL CONVENTION OF STATE ASSOCIATION AT NAHANT

A number of Lowell firemen went to Nahant today to attend the closing session of the 38th annual convention of the Massachusetts Firemen's association. Others would have gone but for the threatening weather. Capt. Jas. F. McKissick of this city who is now on the retired list was one of the most active delegates to the convention. He read a very interesting paper on "Bills Affecting Firemen Considered by the Massachusetts Legislature of 1917" and in the course of his address said that the trouble with a large majority of the bills that too little care is taken in preparing them. He said he did not believe there was any such thing as recklessness among the firemen while driving to a fire, the only recklessness was in sacrificing his own life to reach the scene of the fire.

In the course of his discussion of the two-point bill several delegates asked questions. On motion of Daniel Loomney of Boston Capt. McKissick was given a rising vote of thanks for his work during the year. Capt. McKissick also reported for the pamphlet committee. He was also named as a delegate to the national convention.

William F. Holt, chief engineer of the Tewksbury state infirmary, in speaking of the "Fire Hazards in Hospitals, Public and Private," said that the greatest danger in his mind was matches left in clothing and debris. He said that few fire-fighters are found in hospitals. He did not approve of the sprinkler system in hospitals.

APPEAL TO COLLEGE WOMEN TO ASSIST IN RED CROSS WORK

BOSTON, Sept. 28.—An appeal to college women to assist in Red Cross work was made by Miss Kate McLaughlin, official of the organization, in an address before the local branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae last night. She urged that alumnae enlist in one of four classes to be conducted by the Red Cross, covering specialized work in first aid, home nursing, dietetics and clerical work. She emphasized the need of much investigation and help by the Red Cross in cases where dependents of soldiers and sailors appeal for assistance.

WAR TAX BILL IN LAST STAGES OF COMPLETION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The war tax bill, increased to levy about $2,700,000,000, was in the last stages of completion. Final drafting and printing of the conference agreement was in progress, with formal approval planned at a late afternoon meeting.

At the conclusion of the final conference Senator Simmons and Representative Kitchin, heading the respective conferees, planned to make public the results of the two weeks' conference.

MANSFIELD AND HALE SPEAK AT WORCESTER

WORCESTER, Sept. 28.—The democratic candidates for governor and lieutenant-governor, Frederick W. Mansfield and Matthew Hale, spoke last night at an open-air rally on the common, attended by 600. Jas. A. Gallagher, chairman of the democratic city committee, presided. Mr. Hale said:

"The question in this campaign is not one of parties but of principles. On one hand there are presented the candidates of the reactionary republicans, who represent a coterie of professional politicians, a sort of office-holding trust that already has its office-holders picked out as far ahead as 1920. On the other hand there is the combination of liberal democrats and progressives, represented by Fred Mansfield, a democrat, and myself, a progressive."

"My opponent, Charles Coolidge, who is now lieutenant-governor, and is slated to follow McCall as governor in 1918, and the speaker of the house is slated to step in as lieutenant-governor and then as governor in 1920."

Fought Same Men in 1912

"These men represent the same group of reactionary republicans that I fought in the great campaign in 1912 and who rejected Roosevelt as the republican candidate for president."

"They represent the group of reactionaries that we progressives have been fighting in the constitutional convention shoulder to shoulder with the liberals, who rejected Roosevelt as the republican candidate for president."

"We are to concern ourselves in this campaign with principles only. We expect the people to demonstrate their interest in human rights in a return to the principles of the republic. Laws may be enacted that will make life easier for the workers."

"We appeal to the laboring men, organized and unorganized, to join their party and vote into control of the state those who are fighting their fight, and to vote out of office those who believe they are privileged to rule because they are the ruling order that has been in power so long."

Mansfield Predicts New Parties

Mr. Mansfield, after reviewing the attitude that was being displayed toward labor throughout the world at the present time, discussed at some length the coalition between the progressive and democratic forces.

"The real meaning of democracy is rule by the people," said Mr. Mansfield. "The government which is best today and will be in the future is that which is to be nearest to the people."

Mr. Mansfield said that were all men who hold progressive and democratic ideas to vote together they would very readily encounter all possible opposition. It was for this reason that the democratic party had this year endeavored to attract to its standard those leaders of the new progressive thought who were formerly allied with the republican party.

Because the republican party was so reactionary, said Mr. Mansfield, it was ultimately destined to become the party of the conservatives. The democratic party had been and would be the party of the people. He said it was the liberal party and it is time it should come—if it were not indeed already here—when the party division would be between conservatives and liberals. This was the reason that those former republican leaders who sought close association with the people had become progressives and were today welcomed into the democratic party.

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Thomas D. Daly, catcher of the Buffalo club of the International league, today was purchased by the Chicago Nationals, and will come here to finish the season with the locals. Daly was a member of the Chicago Americans in 1914 and 1915 and went to Cleveland in a trade.

STUDY OF CHEMICAL ENGINEERING GREATLY STIMULATED BY WAR

CAMBRIDGE, Sept. 28.—The study of chemical engineering has been greatly stimulated by the war. This fact is revealed in the course selected by students at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology for the coming year. Walter Humphreys, registrar of the institute, said today that of the larger courses chemical engineering had drawn the greatest increase in students, amounting to 12 per cent. Of the courses with less than 50 men, naval architecture is in the lead with an increase of 16 per cent.

SINN FEIN OPINION SERIOUSLY INFLAMED

LONDON, Sept. 28.—The death in Dublin on Wednesday of Thomas Ashe, a Sinn Fein leader, reported to have been due to voluntary starvation, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail from Dublin has accentuated painfully the difficulties underlying the surface of Irish politics and Sinn Fein opinion is inflamed seriously.

At the inquest Thursday into the death of Ashe, Prof. McMeeneey testified that the post mortem examination, at which several doctors were present, showed that Ashe did not die of hunger. The body was not emaciated and there was an abundance of food in the stomach. Death, he said, was due to syncope, arising partly from heart trouble and partly from an intense congestion of the lungs. Ashe's heart, he added, was abnormal and he would be apt to succumb to any sudden shock or prolonged struggle.

Dr. McKenna, a hospital surgeon, testified that Ashe told him after he had been fed forcibly on Tuesday that he had collapsed from a fit of coughing.

Horman-Speikler

Miss Carolyn Jennings Speikler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Speikler of Lowell street, Lawrence, and Augustus E. Hormon of this city, were united in marriage at St. Patrick's parsonage, Lawrence, on Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock by Rev. John E. Gilday. The couple were attended by Miss Louise Speikler, a sister of the bride, and held in a room of the bride's parents near Haggar's pond from 4 to 6 p. m., during which time over 200 guests called to congratulate the young couple and wish them success for a long and happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. George W. Speikler, the bride's parents, assisted in receiving the guests. Refreshments were served by five young lady friends of the bride. Mr. and Mrs. Hormon were the recipients of a large number of beautiful and useful wedding gifts from their many friends. The young couple left on an early evening train for a wedding trip to New York City and Niagara Falls.

COLLEGE POTATO RAISES

DURHAM, N. H., Sept. 28.—The potato club organized last spring by 20 or more members of the New Hampshire college teaching staff to secure potatoes for themselves at something lower than the then prevailing price has just harvested its crop.

One and one-half acres were planted and these have yielded 151 bushels of first grade potatoes, 561-3 bushels of second grade and 121-2 bushels of culls, 250 in all. This is at the rate of 173 bushels to the acre, and cost the members about 50 cents a bushel, exclusive of the labor performed by the members.

FRENCH BOMBING RAID

PARIS, Sept. 28.—An official communication issued by the admiralty last night says:

"Naval craft carried out a bombing raid on the St. Denier bridge over the Seine. Bombs were dropped on the sheds and 15 Gotha machines lined up in the air-drome, direct hits being observed on the latter. All our machines returned safely."

1,000,000 CHINESE HOMELESS IN FLOOD—TIENTSIN IS THREATENED

PEKING, Tuesday, Sept. 25.—(Delayed)—The City of Tientsin is threatened with destruction by flood from the Hoangho. The Chinese city and portions of all the foreign concessions are under water, which is rising rapidly and which covers the great plain to the south of the city. It is estimated that 1,000,000 Chinese are homeless.

The mud walls protecting Tientsin are being strengthened under foreign supervision, but all the streams in Chihli province are feeding the flood, making the situation desperate.

GERMANY'S FREEDOM OF SEAS

Ever since the war started, the Germans, parroted by the Austrians, have been prating over that totally bogus issue, freedom of the seas.

In their replies to the pope's last peace note they dwelt upon it with the usual crafty insistence.

Soler-thinking people have been puzzled. So far as they could figure, there had been nothing but freedom of the seas before this gigantic war. Nobody ever heard the seas were anything else than free—very much freer than life in Germany and Austria. No one even attempted to deprive the Teuton empires of the freedom of the seas.

German ships plied in every ocean, competing with British and American goods in every market. The Kaiser went steadily ahead with a big war navy. England did not even erect a tariff wall against "made in Germany" goods.

There was nothing the Germans could legitimately ask for that was not freely accorded them everywhere in the world. The one thing that excited their wrath and fear was the continuing might of the British navy. They also did not like to see our own navy keeping abreast of the times. But they knew that neither of these navies was a menace to any legitimate German aspiration.

England, an island country, was forced to maintain supremacy at sea or starve the moment an enemy declared war. The United States, for the protection of her coast and the maintenance of the Monroe Doctrine, was also bound to have a considerable navy.

And it was precisely these things that irked the Prussian war masters. They knew a British navy stood between them and their hopes to bring England to her knees. They knew our American navy, if properly developed, would stand between them and their greedy designs upon South and Central America.

They do not want to be thus balked in the future. They want, if possible, to trap the allies into some kind of disarmament scheme that would mean an inferior navy for England and a similar one for America. Then Germany could pursue her evil and sinister plans unhindered. The Pan-German weekly organ "Das Grossere Deutschland" (The Greater Germany) drops the mask by printing an article by Winand Engel which it approves. In this Engel says:

"German policy is forced to make secure for itself by all conceivable means domination over the world sea. I deliberately use the expression 'domination over the world sea' not the expression 'freedom of the seas' which is so common today. The latter expression is either dishonest or stupid. The sea is free for us only if we dominate it."

There is the truth about the German canting phrases in a nutshell. When the German and Austrian Kaisers unctuously reply to the pope that they desire the freedom of the seas, they are either dishonest or stupid. In the present instance, they are plainly dishonest. They are lying once more, just as they have lied so often during the course of this war.

They want German domination of the seas, not freedom of the seas. And when they gain domination of the seas, they will have all but conquered the world. Remember that, Americans.

LYNN FACTORIES WORKING

The Lynn shoe factories are open again after five months idleness due to differences which might have been settled by arbitration without the loss of a day. Who is the gainer now? What good has been accomplished by the conflict? None! So far as we can see everybody is poorer and the new arrangement will not compensate either side for their loss.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE

The house of representatives at Washington has formed a committee on woman suffrage. Heretofore, the judiciary committee has had to deal with this question. The suffragists naturally regard this as a victory and no doubt the pickets will claim that it is the result of their pig headedness.

Former President Taft proved a power for good among the pacifists who attended the Unitarian conference at Montreal. Following the leadership of Mr. Taft, a pacifist resolution was voted down and condemned as an "insidious document." The meeting then endorsed the policy of President Wilson and the continuance of the war until militarism as represented by Germany shall have been stamped out.

Cicero describes a room without books as a body without a soul. While Cicero was not much of a guide on spiritual things, he was an authority on things intellectual and he was right in emphasizing the value of books and particularly of good books such as we are asked to provide for the soldiers.

The state department at Washington will render a good service to the public at large if it gives out more of the names of the men who have received money for shouting for Germany and execrating England.

This war may result in a great federation of the states of South America. Already there is forming a United States of Central America.

May the scheme prosper! We have not taken as much interest in these states as we should have done, but now the community of interest is emphasized more than ever before.

Some congressmen were indignant over the insinuation that certain of their number had been influenced to favor Germany by the paltry sum of $50,000. There are about seven men in congress who could not be more strongly pro-German if they had received a million each.

A study of the rules of Safety First by some of our auto operators would prevent accidents and save many lives. It is really deplorable how many fatalities result from pleasure rides in which the necessary precautions for safety are neglected.

If the botheads in and out of Ireland who put aside the practical and advocate the impossible will only show a little patience, the Irish convention now in session will probably evolve a charter of freedom that will serve the best interests of Ireland.

The cities that have shown so little appreciation of their soldier boys as to let them depart without a demonstration are sorry for having made such a blunder. Lynn is one of these and its newspapers are voiding the city's regrets.

Among her other intrigues Germany is conducting some secret plots for a peace that will let her go free of indemnities, give her back her colonies and still leave the barbarous emperor on the throne. Such a peace seems impossible.

Everybody should help the Soldiers' Library fund. The object is most worthy and should receive most generous support from those who can afford to contribute.

Somebody besides the milk producers for Boston should fix the price. If these progressive gentlemen have their way milk will be 25 cents a quart.

Lawrence is about to purchase an athletic field. Good idea. Every respectable city should have one. Lowell has talked of buying one and nothing more.

Some widows deplore their lack of riches but they might see their lot in a different light, if they look at the fate of wealthy widows, some of whom are murdered for their money.

OCTOBER 9 WITH BE FIRE PREVENTION DAY

Tuesday, Oct. 9, has been set aside as Fire Prevention day by the State Fire Prevention committee and all the residents of this city including children and adults will be asked to do their share in clearing the city of all rubbish or inflammable material, and within a few days Mayor James E. O'Donnell will issue a proclamation to that effect.

Chief Edward F. Saunders of the fire department has been appointed to represent the state fire prevention committee in this city and he will co-operate with the mayor. Special exercises will be carried out in the schools of the city and it is probable that members of the fire department as in previous years will address the school children on fire prevention.

Chasing Deer
The superintendent of the park department of the city spent the greater portion of the forenoon today in chasing two deer in the enclosure at Fort Hill park, but at noon his efforts had been fruitless. The purpose of chasing the deer is to get hold of two of the bucks which will be swapped for two bucks from the Boston zoo in an attempt to prevent interbreeding at both places. The superintendent of the local park department and the men in charge of the Boston zoo have agreed to swap, but the problem that is now confronting them is to capture the deer.

Rally Called Off
The open air democratic rally for Hon. Frederick W. Mansfield, candidate for governor, which was scheduled to be held this evening on the city hall steps has been called off on account of the rain.

Registration Sessions
Registration sessions will be held in the office of the registrars of voters on Oct. 3, 9, 10, 11, 15 and 16 from 2 p. m. to 8 p. m., and Oct. 17 from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m.

Weekly Payroll
The payroll for the week amounts to $21,541.85, while the monthly salaries, which will be paid Monday amount to $17,604.44. Included in the latter amount is that for state aid, which totals $7,678.50.

Solicitor in Boston
City Solicitor William D. Regan went to Boston this morning to attend the third hearing in the case of the city of Lowell vs. the Lowell Trust Co., which is being conducted in the court house before Auditor Joseph Wright.

T. R. FORCED KAISER TO ARBITRATE IN 1902

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Colonel Roosevelt yesterday gave his version of the recent conference he held with the German ambassador in 1902, relating to the occupation of Venezuela by Germany, an incident that then threatened to bring on a war between Germany and the United States. Colonel Roosevelt told the story for the

HELPING HOOVER

Fairburn's Plan For Reducing Prices

On and after Monday, October 1st, FAIRBURN'S MARKET, Inc., will discontinue deliveries, following the successful plan of many large markets of other cities.

Prices today are alarming; in some cases they are prohibitive.

It is an undeniable fact that the people must have lower prices, but the present high prices of goods which prevail everywhere cannot be reduced unless expenses are cut to a minimum.

This situation has made a decision imperative. The first and most logical expense to cut is that of deliveries. So choice must be made between maintaining expensive deliveries and keeping up prices, on the one hand, and abolishing deliveries and reducing prices, on the other.

This market, being progressive and quick to note and obey the popular demand, has made its decision—namely, give the people what they want—Lower Prices.

As delivery expense adds approximately 10 per cent. to the cost of goods, customers will save an additional 10 per cent. average on all purchases at this Market on and after Oct. 1st.

We take this step feeling that the people of Lowell and vicinity will fully appreciate the efforts we are making to reduce the prices of necessities for them and the motive which prompts our action.

Watch the papers for our ads. and see the remarkable price reductions this plan enables us to offer you each week.

first time, he said, in an address at a luncheon here.

"It was about a year after I took office," Colonel Roosevelt began. "Germany was engaged in striving to extend her dominion. She had in view certain chosen positions in South America. She aimed to turn South America into a German appendage. Venezuela at that time had a dictator named Castro, commonly known as the 'monkey of the Andes'."

"I was determined that Venezuela should not become a German possession. Germany said it was not to be permanent and did not define what was meant by permanency. I permitted John Hay to write a number of notes and then I sent for the German ambassador and said to him:

"This Venezuela business has been going on long enough and I cannot afford to let it get to the point where it will cause trouble for this country. 'At that time England was backing Germany and while I had both against me, I paid little attention to England. It was the last flicker of England's antagonism to the United States. I called the attention of the ambassador to the fact that Germany had a squadron of warships near Venezuela, threatening the mouth of the proposed isthmian canal. I demanded a statement of what Germany meant by temporary possession, saying I did not propose to have any 99-year leases."

"The ambassador told me he did not feel he was at liberty to discuss such an important question. That conference wound up with the following ultimatum:

"Tell your government that in 10 days it must arbitrate the matter or I will send Dewey down there. 'I cannot send such a message, Mr. President. I do not think you realize what it means,' the ambassador replied. 'You think it means war?' I asked. 'I do not want to say what I think,' was the reply. 'If it means war, you have chosen the one spot where you cannot fight,' I replied, and then I showed by maps our commanding position. 'When he retired I sent word to Dewey to be ready to sail on an hour's notice. About a week later the ambassador called on me, and admitted that he had not dared send the message. 'I then told him that I would order Dewey to sail in 48 hours. He told me it would be an awful thing for this country. 'Yes, but it will be more awful for your country,' I replied. 'Inside of 26 hours he came back smiling and said he had received instructions from the German government that they would arbitrate.'"

BENNETT'S LEAD OVER MITCHELL INCREASED

NEW YORK, Sept. 28.—William M. Bennett, candidate for the republican nomination for mayor, continued to maintain his lead over Mayor John Furroy Mitchell in the unofficial report of the ballots cast in last week's primaries when a recess was taken early today. The latest figures gave Bennett a majority over the mayor of 443 votes. The inspection of the ballots in expected to be completed by Saturday night.

Following a conference with Edward J. Boyle, chairman of the board of elections, Dist. Atty. Swann decided yesterday to investigate alleged irregularities in certain election districts.

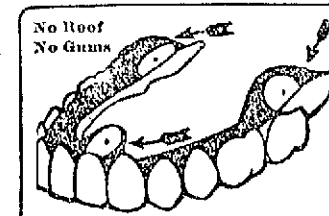

Mayor Mitchell and A. D. Gilbert, his counsel, both assured counsel for Mr. Bennett, that if the examination shows that Bennett is the winner they will expedite court decision declaring him the nominee. Although Mayor Mitchell has not announced that he will run independently, the fusion committee of 1917 yesterday perfected its campaign plans on the theory that Mr. Bennett will be declared the nominee of the republican party and that the mayor will Bennett and Judge Hyman, the democratic-fusionary candidate.

SAN FRANCISCO STRIKE NOT YET SETTLED

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 28.—The strike of 30,000 metal trade unionists here, which was to have been ended today, was indefinitely prolonged late last night when members of the Boilermakers' union, voted not to return to work under the terms of a temporary agreement made Sunday and which had been accepted by a majority of the unions affiliated with the iron trades council.

The employers issued a statement announcing that as a result of this action the plants would remain closed today and that any plants which opened inadvertently would be shut down Saturday.

The action of the boilermakers will paralyze indefinitely all work on one-eighth of the entire shipbuilding contracts let by the United States government. Work suspended 12 days owing to the strike and the temporary agreement was signed Sunday by labor leaders only at the urgent request of President Wilson who appealed to the patriotism of the men.

The Boilermakers' union is one of the four organizations which were the iron trades council that voted against acceptance of the temporary agreement. The boilermakers face suspension from the iron trades council for their action, it was announced today.

10,000 TO STRIKE TOMORROW
SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 28.—Representatives of the Seattle steel shipbuilding plants and the strike committee of the metal trades council were to meet today to discuss the impending walkout of approximately 10,000 workers ordered for tomorrow.

While both sides said the strike seemed inevitable it was thought there was a possibility of a settlement being made which would avert it. It provided more conclusive assurances were received of just what the federal shipping board will do in regard to the men's demands for an increase in wages of 25 per cent.

To Investigate Unrest
WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—Members of the special commission headed by Secretary Wilson and appointed by the president to investigate labor unrest in the west, today were completing final arrangements for the trip which will be made Monday. Included in the itinerary are Arizona, California, Utah, Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado and New Mexico.

Is This Camp Library Week
Only Today and Tomorrow Remain in Which to Complete Raising a Million Dollars for a Million Books for a Million Men

Germany immediately supplied libraries to its fighting units. Great Britain has four agencies doing this work. We must see that good books follow the soldier! In the lonely, unoccupied hours in camp a good book is not a bad companion.

The Secretary of War has appointed the Library War Council of the American Library Association to raise one million dollars, buy books, build and maintain libraries in every Training Camp and Cantonment of U. S. Soldiers, Sailors and Airmen at home and abroad.

New England's share is $380,000; Massachusetts, $200,000; Lowell's, share is $50,000.

WE MUST GIVE AND GIVE AND GIVE UNTIL IT HURTS, THEN SMILE, AND GIVE AGAIN.

Simply leave money at or send to the City Library or any bank. Make checks payable to "Library War Council," or J. Harry Boardman, Treas.

Scrap Heap Not to Be Rate of Old-Time Cup Winner

Yacht Was Owned by Family of the Late Gen. Butler

America, the most famous of all racing yachts in the world, has been saved from the junk heap or the ignominy of being converted into a Cape Verde trader. Yesterday morning she was purchased by a few members of the Eastern Yacht club of Marblehead, who had been interested in the fate of the historic craft through the efforts of C. H. W. Foster of that organization. The boat, the boat and her name were in the hands of Secretary Henry Taggard of the Eastern Yacht club, acting as an individual.

The title to the only boat that ever "lifted" the cup that bears its name passed to the syndicate of Eastern Yacht club members from the family of the late Gen. Benjamin F. Butler, through the offices of the Marblehead Yacht agency, which represented the owners, and David W. Simpson, representing the syndicate. Ever since this yacht was put upon the market, a month or so ago, yachtsmen throughout the country have been interested in the final fate of the craft, and a week ago the men in the syndicate started a movement that was consummated in the purchase yesterday.

In her 67 years of life, America has had but five owners and for nearly a half century she has been in the Butler family. The United States government owned her once, and used her as a dispatch boat. It raced her the only time she ever raced for the America's cup in this country, and this is the only time Uncle Sam ever went into the yacht racing game. She lost this race, but another American craft won the race and saved the day.

During the time that Gen. Butler was alive, America was under sail and in commission much of the time and in spite of her age and design, she held her own against many of the more modern schooners. She once led the fleet of New York and Eastern Yacht club yachts from Newport to Marblehead, around Cape Cod, defeating the stellation, now flagship of the Eastern Yacht club and considered one of the fastest of her type afloat.

Although much altered in rig and interior fittings from the day she first raced around the Isle of Wight and brought the cup to America, her general lines are the same. She has been about summer and winter cities at Chelsea bridge or the Summer street bridge for years, and has not been in commission for 15 years.

In order to find out just what her condition was, she was towed down to the Baker Yacht basin at Quincy and hauled out on the railway for an inspection. Her bottom, which had been coppered, was found in excellent condition, and the craft seems able to spend a few more years as a yacht, if the owners desire. The rig that she wears at present was designed by Edward Burgess, designer of the cup boats Puritan and Volunteer, but it will not take much money to replace the original rig.

She has been launched again and is at present at the Baker basin. Although the Butler family has had several offers for the schooner in years past from people who make a business of junking lead and metals, they refused to entertain such offers, as they believed a craft with such a record should serve a better fate. They have never offered her for sale before this year, and yachtsmen in this section express themselves as well satisfied with the outcome. At the time that the America's cup race was scheduled, four years ago, New York yachtsmen urged the owners to put the old racing yacht under sail and take her over to Sandy Hook for an attraction, and this might have been done had not the war made it impossible to have the race.

America was built under a contract by former Commodore Stevens and a syndicate of New York Yacht club members, the price being $20,000, if she could beat any yacht then afloat. In her very first race she lost, but Commodore Stevens decided to take her, although the price was reduced and in the next year she won the America's cup on her own sails and defeated the pick of European yachts in the race that made international yacht racing what it is today.

Yachtsmen from abroad have tried since 1851 up to the present time to get that cup back, but they have failed. The trophy was known as the Queen's cup and was given by the late Queen Victoria. Its value in dollars and cents is as much as many of the others that grace the trophy rooms of the New York Yacht clubhouse, but its value as a racing trophy cannot be measured with money. Millions of dollars have been spent to get this cup back to England and millions have been spent to prevent the taking away of a trophy worth a $25,000 schooner yacht captured at a time when English designers and skipper were thought to be about the best in the world.

Next week is "Quarter Week" at The Lowell Five Cent Savings Bank.

Miss Irene Laffey has returned from a two weeks' vacation spent in Providence, R. I.

Miss Sadie Snow has returned to the city after spending a month in Hartland, New Brunswick.

Arthur Lewis, motorman for the Bay State Railway Co. will spend the next two weeks at Forest, Maine.

Joseph Costa, aged four years, and living at 208 Gorham street, sustained a fracture of the left leg about 7:30 o'clock last night when he was run over by one of Davis Sargent's automobile trucks in South street. The ambulance was summoned and the boy was taken to St. John's hospital.

Another of the Successful Saturday evening dances will be given at Asso's hall tomorrow evening. In addition to the dance, new cabaret features will be introduced. The music will be furnished by Broderick's orchestra. All in search of a good time should direct their steps to associate hall tomorrow and there they will have the time of their happy lives.

Manuel Perry, residing at 123 Cushing street, while at work on the addition to the Hartland school in Wampanoag street this morning, fell from a scaffolding and sustained lacerations about the face and scalp. The ambulance was summoned and he was removed to the Lowell Corporation hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chadwick of Washington, D. C., who have been spending a few weeks' vacation with relatives in this city, were last night tendered a farewell party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Laviole. Many friends of the couple were present and a general good time was enjoyed.

A musical and literary program was carried out, these taking part being Misses Agnes and Bertha Conlon, Blanche Freeman and Miss Frank Marshall, and Arthur B. Chadwick. A buffet luncheon was served and the party broke up wishing Mr. and Mrs. Chadwick a pleasant journey homeward.

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

Unless Louis Pelletier lives up to the promise he made to Judge Enright in police court this morning he will spend seven months in the house of correction at Cambridge. Several weeks ago Pelletier appeared before the court on a complaint charging him with non-support of his family and upon promising to take care of his wife and children he was given a suspended sentence of four months in the house of correction. Of late he has been drinking and yesterday when he came home he abused his wife and she had to complain to Patrolman Kennedy and Constable who placed the man under arrest. In court this morning he entered a plea of not guilty to a complaint charging him with drunkenness, but the testimony offered by the officers was sufficient to cause the court to make a finding of guilty and he was given a suspended sentence of three months in the house of correction and was also informed that if he did not pay his wife $7 a week he would have to serve the four months' sentence which had been suspended.

Case Placed on File

John J. Meehan entered a plea of guilty to a complaint charging him with larceny of articles from the New York, New Haven & Hartford railroad, but owing to the fact that his mother pleaded that he be given a chance and the railroad officials were willing if restitution be made, the case was placed on file on condition that he make restitution in the sum of $25 and pay the cost of the court. The $14.60, the major portion of the latter being for railroad expenses for Officer White of the railroad. Meehan was placed on probation for six months and during that time he is supposed to pay $29.60.

Drunken Offenders

David Liston entered a plea of guilty to a charge of drunkenness and admitted that he had owed a fine of $6 for the past two years. He was given one month in which to pay the fine, the present case being placed on the files of the court.

John Welch, drunkard, was fined $10 and William J. Ward, who is on parole from the state farm, will be returned to that institution.

Angus Santon, John Hart, Annie Bernier and Catherine Caserio, were having a little social gathering in a house yesterday when the police were attracted to the scene by the noise which emanated therefrom and decided that the condition of the quartet warranted their being sent to the police station. In court this morning the two men were each sentenced to one month in jail and appeals were entered. The Bernier woman was placed on probation while the case against the Caserio woman was continued until tomorrow morning.

MATRIMONIAL

Thomas Mahon, Jr., and Miss Mary A. Murray were married Sept. 26 at the Sacred Heart rectory, the officiating clergyman being Rev. Fr. Mahan, O. M. I. George McGuire acted as best man, while the bridesmaid was Miss Annie Vaughan. Mr. and Mrs. Mahon, who received numerous wedding gifts, will make their home at 12 Aqueduct street after an extended wedding trip.

M'ADDOO TALKS ON LIBERTY LOAN

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 28.—

Vast over subscription of the three billion dollar second Liberty loan, was confidently predicted by Secretary McAdoo in an address here today before the American Bankers' association, calling upon the bankers to give the same patriotic support to the new bond issue that they gave to the first.

"It has been urged upon me," said the secretary, "that many men of wealth will refuse to buy the 4 per cent. bond with liability to super income taxation. I should be loath to believe this; but if it is true, the position of the government must always be to offer a bond upon terms fair and equitable to all alike and which will make the widest possible appeal to all the people without regard to the fact that a man may be rich or poor. It has been suggested to me that patriotism should play no part in the sale of our bonds. I do not concede this, although I believe the American people will buy these 4 per cent. government bonds on their merits. Patriotism is first love of country above everything—above life itself; second, love of country combined with that vital interest in the nation's welfare and safety which will make secure the material interests of each individual and promote his happiness and prosperity.

"If this be true, the man of wealth, with patriotic or modified patriotism or without patriotism has a greater stake in the security of the government than any other class, because if the government's credit is destroyed and disaster comes upon the country, as it inevitably will if the government's credit falls, what is property worth to the rich man, what is life worth to the free man?"

Emphasizing the tremendous financial task ahead of the nation, Mr. McAdoo pointed out that it would be necessary to raise between 13 and 14 billion dollars by additional bond issues before June 30, 1918. This will not be easy, he said, but it can be done by every body—banker, business man and men and women in every walk of life joining hands to see it through.

"Fortunately," he added, "the resources of America were never so ample for ourselves and so formidable for our enemies as now." The combined resources of the national and state banks including trust companies of the United States are now $37,000,000,000. At the outbreak of the Civil war the combined resources of the banks were estimated to be $1,600,000,000, and yet with these limited banking resources the union government raised $3,000,000,000 in bond sales, or twice the amount of the banking resources of the country. Upon the same basis we should now be able to raise $74,000,000,000 through government loans. I am not suggesting that this may be done; I am only drawing a comparison."

The secretary briefly reviewed the causes for American entry into the war, declaring this could not be done too often because of the efforts of noisier writers to confuse the issue. Much of this propaganda, he said, probably had been carried on with money left behind for the purpose of von Bernstorff, "the adroit and malevolent German ambassador."

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Lowell Council, Knights of Columbus, met in regular session last night and arrangements were made for the exemplification of the fourth degree next Sunday. The committee in charge of the Columbus Day observance also met and made arrangements for a banquet and reception to be held on the night of October 11 to the members. On Columbus Day morning it is planned to have the members assemble at the rooms and march in a body to mass at one of the local churches. The Lowell Cadet band has been engaged to head the procession.

The Sunday Supplement of The Sun published every Saturday contains a red-hot sporting page contributed to by leading sporting writers of the country.

U. S. BUNTING EMPLOYEES

A meeting was held last evening at the home of John Gleason, in Cross street, of the committee in charge of arrangements for the coming dance, the U. S. Bunting employees. Practically all the plans for the affair have been completed and everything pointing to a successful event. In the course of the evening John A. Calahan, vice president of the Eagles, delivered a few remarks in connection with the work of the employees club.

GIANTS TO IGNORE THE SHINE BALL

BY PAUL PURMAN

With the Giants: John McGraw will meet psychology with psychology. If Eddie Cicotte's shine ball is merely a ruse to keep opposing batters guessing McGraw is ready to meet that ruse and send his men against the knuckleball armed with confidence that he has nothing on them.

McGraw will not admit it, but he evidently had some inside hunch that the remarkable success of the shine ball was due, as Cicotte himself told the writer, more to the belief of the batters that he had something phony on the ball than to the fact that he was actually using anything.

For weeks McGraw has been drilling his players against the possibility of even considering that Cicotte or Danforth are using a shine ball.

His theory is similar to that of Cicotte.

"If you think a pitcher has something on you, he has," McGraw said. "The effect has been that the Giants believe the shine ball is a myth and are ready to combat it as such."

"The shine ball is not bothering me," McGraw said. "If there is anything wrong with the ball it is up to the umpires to look out for it and the national commission to rule on it so far as the world series goes. I don't believe it does the players any good to worry about it."

Since Ban Johnson has never seen it to take any action against Cicotte's ball this year it isn't likely it will be ruled out in the world series.

McGraw is very crafty. If he thought there was anything wrong with the ball he would have a complaint to make.

He will not do so is almost a foregone conclusion.

CROWD OF 32,000 AT THE ROCHESTER FAIR

ROCHESTER, N. H., Sept. 28.—More than 32,000 attended the annual Rochester fair at Cold Spring park yesterday. The absence of special trains from points in New Hampshire, Maine and Massachusetts is given as the reason for the attendance dropping more than 5000 below that of one year ago on the third day. More than 5300 automobiles were parked on the grounds soon after the noon hour.

Lowell Horse Winner

AT GROTON FAIR

A Lowell horse, "Baby Todd," the property of James J. Dronney, of this city, won second money in the 225 trot at the Groton fair yesterday.

"Baby Todd," a bay, owned by Jockey Maguire and Jockey believes there is speed enough in the little brown mare to win a good deal bigger race than the one in which she got second place yesterday.

There were quite a number of Lowell people at Groton yesterday and the weather was ideal for racing. The summary of races was as follows:

MISS HARRIS M. WINS AT COLUMBUS

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 28.—Fifteen heats were raced yesterday and the Grand Circuit meeting would have ended just before darkness had Lee made a drive behind Doris Watts in the sixth heat, of the 213 trot. He finished third. The mare was taken charge of by the judges and a different driver will be behind her today.

Scout made a similar effort in the unfinished 215 trot and that race went to Michalunas. All the bays made after the fifth heat were declared off.

William, 1:58 2, was again behind the money in the free-for-all pace. He was favorite, too, but he lacked the old-time brush in the stretch. Miss Harris M. was in fine form.

Ben Ali, who has been resting for a few weeks, took up the challenge of Peter Nash, a well-backed favorite in the richest event, the Arch City 2:10 pace, purse $2000. Peter won the Hartman event so easily here last week, best heat 2:01-2, that he was considered unbeatable. General Yorks, owned by Drue McClellan, was favored.

A gale blowing up the home stretch accounted for the comparatively slow time in the last races.

MILK PRODUCERS VIOLATE LAWS

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Following the seizure of records of the Milk Producers' association, composed of 349 of the largest producers of Illinois, Wisconsin and Indiana and the taking of witnesses before a grand jury, Jas. M. Wilkerson, first assistant attorney general, made public a statement today in which he declared the producers "have violated every anti-trust law, both state and federal, in every way possible."

Regarding the announcement made by milk distributors that on next Monday the price of milk in Chicago will be raised from 10 to 13 cents a quart, Mr. Wilkerson said his office is awaiting the jump in price with great interest.

An examination of the documents seized by the state authorities caused him to declare that the producers' body is guilty of arbitrarily fixing prices, of maintaining blacklists, of forming pools illegally and of establishing boycotts.

PREMIER KERENSKY AT DEMOCRATIC CONGRESS

PETROGRAD, Sept. 28.—Premier Kerensky addressed the democratic congress at its first session today in the Municipal theatre, receiving applause which came principally from the less radical groups of delegates. He spoke in forceful style, with the air of challenging his opponents. The address was largely a defense of the acts of the government under his premiership.

Mr. Kerensky was interrupted frequently by shouts from one group and another, which led at times to altercations lasting several minutes. At one point when the premier spoke of the refusal of the soldiers and workmen's delegates of Helsinki to oppose the reopening of the Finnish diet, although the government had forbidden it, the Bolshevik burst into loud cheers.

"Cheer, my friends, if you will," said Mr. Kerensky, when he was able to make himself heard, "but bear in mind that a German fleet is moving up the Baltic."

EARLY SETTLEMENT OF STRIKE EXPECTED

CHICAGO, Sept. 28.—Representatives of the switchmen and trainmen of the Elgin, Joliet and Eastern railroad, a belt line for the steel mills of Gary, Joliet and South Chicago, who unexpectedly went on strike yesterday, and officials of the road met here today for the purpose of bringing about a settlement of their differences.

The number of men involved is estimated at between 1300 and 1500. They are members of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America. Both labor leaders and officials of the road, before the conference today, predicted that the trouble would be settled before night.

Although the walk out endangers operations in certain portions of the steel plants it was stated by company officials that the situation was not serious and that government war contracts would not be interfered with unless the strike should be a protracted one.

CARD OF THANKS

We, the undersigned, wish to express our sincere thanks to our many relatives, friends and neighbors, who by their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy helped so much to lighten the burden placed upon us by the death of our beloved father, Mr. Anthony McDermott. We are especially thankful to those who so kindly sent floral offerings and spiritual bouquets, and one and all shall always be held in grateful remembrance.

Mrs. Helen McDermott.

They are Senator Robert M. La Follette of Wisconsin, Representatives Mason and Britton of Illinois, and Baer of North Dakota.

Mr. Hefflin declared also that he wanted "to ask some questions" of Representative Norton of North Dakota, who denounced Mr. Hefflin on the floor of the house for statements reflecting on members of congress.

Hefflin Speech Bitter

Mr. Hefflin's speech was made at a meeting of the house committee on rules, which has before it three resolutions inspired by the revelations of Count von Bernstorff's message to his home government asking for $50,000 to influence members of congress.

One of the resolutions introduced by Representative Doolittle of Kansas, calls for a general investigation of German propaganda, with a view to establishing the identity of the "organization" named by Bernstorff.

Soon after the Hefflin speech, which was at times of unusual bitterness, Representative Britton, one of the members named, issued a statement denouncing Mr. Hefflin.

Mr. Hefflin yesterday morning was unimpaired in his indignation. He said he wanted to inquire about correspondence of certain members who had written in one vein to their constituents and acted another way to one set of constituents and another way to other constituents.

Mr. Hefflin declared he wanted to ascertain who were preparing the bill in order that he might write Representative Baer to congress, the National Non-Partisan league.

sidetracked for an investigation of me, Mr. Hefflin began and will go to go to the committee and give the names of members. I have been suspicious, but I never said that any member was corrupted by money.

Mr. Hefflin said he thought he could get the aid of the secret service for the committee. He charged that certain members would like to get him out of the way before an investigation is made.

Mr. Hefflin endeavored to interrupt, but was stopped.

"You wouldn't permit an interruption from me the other day," fired Hefflin. "I'll have something to say about you before the investigation committee if it is created."

Attacks Two Newspapers

He charged that two Washington newspapers, the Star and the Times, had made false reports as to alleged statements from the White House concerning the investigation of the "organization" named by Bernstorff.

"I dare him to vote for my expulsion. I have stated that I want to ask about the Mason bill—about their correspondence (referring to congressmen)—I want to know how many are a secret pact to fix the selection of a place in the next campaign—how many will support Britton's bill to exempt German-American citizens from service. Let us see who has furnished the information required by the pro-German forces."

Representative Wood of Indiana asked as to reports that Mr. Hefflin had charged there were gambling houses in the pro-German members had won money.

"I did not say members," replied Hefflin.

Names La Follette and Baer

Continuing, he declared: "I want to know who is in the organization that La Follette is championing in the country that will leave the president without an army. I want you to name a committee to investigate this Bernstorff message. I will name the men and leave it to their constituents to say whether I am right or not."

"Don't their constituents know how they stand now?" asked Representative Britton. I want you to name a committee to investigate this Bernstorff message. I will name the men and leave it to their constituents to say whether I am right or not."

"Don't their constituents know how they stand now?" asked Representative Britton. "I want to know how many are a secret pact to fix the selection of a place in the next campaign—how many will support Britton's bill to exempt German-American citizens from service. Let us see who has furnished the information required by the pro-German forces."

Representative Wood of Indiana asked as to reports that Mr. Hefflin had charged there were gambling houses in the pro-German members had won money.

"I did not say members," replied Hefflin.
